THE LATEST.

The special term of Elliott Circuit Court to try Judge Hargis and others charged with the murder of Dr. B. D. Cox, was convened yesterday at Sandy Hook with Special Judge W. B. Moody presiding. Judge Moody overruled a motion of Commonwealth's Attorney Waugh for a continuance because of the absence of witnesses. It is understood representatives of the Commonwealth will present a petition to-day for a change of venue on account of the inaccessibility of Sandy Hook.

The historic national banner of Stars and Stripes which inspired Francis Scott Key to compose "The Star-Spangled Banner," and which floated over Fort McHenry, Chesapeake Bay, during its bombardment by the British on the night of September 13, 1814, has been placed on exhibition at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. The flag is the property of Eben Appleton, of New York, who has loaned it to the Government.

Apropos of Attorney General Jackson, of New York, asking a Justice of the Supreme Court of that State to appoint a referee to secure evidence that the Western Union Telegraph Company and Postal Telegraph and Cable Company have formed a combination in restraint of competition, Clarence Mackay, of the Postal, issued a statement in which he said the two companies are competitors in earnest, the competition sometimes being fierce and bitter.

President Roosevelt entertained at luncheon yesterday William R. Willcox, chairman of the New York City Public Utilities Commission; Herbert Knox Smith, Chief of the Bureau of Corporations; F. B. Kellogg, an attorney, who is serving the Government in the anti-trust prosecutions, and W. D. W. Miller, Assistant Ornithologist of the American Museum of Natural History, New York.

Secretary of the Navy Metcalf deprecates the warlike aspect that has been given the order for the cruise of the great battleship squadron from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. The Secretary declares that the proposed movement was that of a practice cruise and that the fleet would not be kept in the Pacific permanently.

Acting under orders from the Navy Department Capt. Edwin C. Pendleton, commandant of the League Island Navy Yard, has directed that the battleships Kearsarge and Kansas be overhauled and repainted and otherwise put in condition for their participation in the annual reunion of the Elks at Philadelphia next week.

Rear Admiral Evans, who is at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, has declined to comment on the remarks imputed to Admiral Sakamoto, of the Japanese navy, to the effect that American naval officers were dandies with no technical training, and that the enlisted men had no patriotism and would desert in case of war.

A suit has been filed at Brandenburg by Gus W. Richardson for $15,000 damages for alleged slander against A. J. Thompson, his brother-in-law. They are both candidates for nomination for Representative in the Democratic primary to be held next month.

Mrs. Lena Daniels, of Richmond, was arrested on the charge of bigamy. It is claimed she married again when her husband joined the army, it being claimed she thought she had the right to marry again when her husband became a soldier.

During a discussion in the House of Commons yesterday Sir Alfred Billson, members for the northwest division of Staffordshire, died suddenly from apoplexy. The House immediately adjourned. Sir Alfred was born in 1869.

The Sunday closing law was rigidly enforced at Nicholasville. No ice, meat or other necessaries were sold, and the electric light plant was shut down without warning to the people, leaving many homes in darkness.

Women and children successfully fought a "prairie fire" that for a time yesterday threatened the destruction of many of the handsome homes at Arcadia, the summer colony just to the west of Paducah.

Prof. James McGranahan, the well-known hymn writer, formerly connected with Moody and Sankey, the evangelists, is dead at his home in Kinsman, O., of diabetes. He was sixty-seven years old.

THUNDER SQUALL SPREADS DESTRUCTION IN PATH.

Sweeps Down Trees, Carries Away Roofs and Ties Up Street Cars.

One Man Killed, Half a Dozen Persons Injured by Flying Debrcs.

Many Have Narrow Escapes While Leaving Houses in Line of Storm.

AMOUNT OF DAMAGE WILL BE LARGE.

Unroofing houses, uprooting trees and carrying property destruction estimated at thousands of dollars in its wake, a "tunder squall" that looked like a hurricane, passed over Louisville yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Four four minutes the wind blew at the rate of sixty-seven miles an hour and for fifteen minutes it rushed along at the rate of sixty miles an hour. One man and half a dozen horses were killed by flying debris or falling trees. Streets in the central part of the city were filled with trees that had blown down and street-car traffic was absolutely paralyzed in some cases for as long a time as three hours.

Thousands of people were caught do

Thousands of people were caught downtown shopping, thousands were released from stores and workshops and all made a rush for the street cars. Those using the Fourth-avenue, Second-street, East Broadway, West Broadway, Preston, Hancock, Walnut or Chestnut-street cars found that they must walk or wait indefinitely. Probably everybody walked. The Louisville Railway Company at once sent out wrecking cars and trouble men to chop trees off tracks and to look after the dangerous overhead trolleys, warning people while the wires were rendered harmless or carried out of the danger zone.

Rain In Sheets.

The rain fell in torrents for a time and in many cases the sewers were not able to carry off the water. Street cars filled with passengers were marooned in the middle of a block unable to move on account of the flooded streets and the passengers huddled together almost afraid to move because of the heavy electrical charges that threatened all metal work on the cars.

The electric fire-alarm system was put out of commission and not a box was working last night. Chief Tyson said that the system could not be straightened out until some time to-day. Fortunately, there was no need for the fire department last night.

While much damage was done by the blowing off or roofs, the greatest destruction was to threes in the handsome residence sections of the city. Some of these were patriarchs and cannot be replaced in years.

LIFE CRUSHED OUT BY DISLODGED MASONRY

FRANK C. LEHMANN LOSES LIFE IN STORM—SMALL BOY BADLY HURT.

Frank C. Lehmann, a finisher at the National Casket Company's factory, Eleventh and Magazine street, was killed by a mass of brick roofing and flooring which crashed through onto him while he was working on the fourth floor of the factory. Not until an hour after it was discovered that he was under the debris was his body removed. Firemen from hook and ladder company No. 1, under Capt. Martin, took the body from the ruins.

Lehmann had just come down from the fifth floor with a coffin top on his shoulder. He was passing through one of the small finishing rooms when the brick coping was torn loose from the front wall by the storm and hurled through the roof on down through the fifth floor to the fourth. George Gengenbach, also a finisher, was the only other man in the room in which Lehmann was killed. Gengenbach was struck on the head and shoulder with a brick, but was not caught under the falling debris as was Lehmann. Gengenbach left but slightly injured.

At first it was not known certainly whether Lehmann was caught under the falling brick and flooring, but when his clothing and dinner basket were found in his locker a search for him was begun. The hook and ladder company was telephoned for and workmen throughout the building commenced to dig among the debris. After removing brick, flooring and shattered coffins the mangled body was found. It was placed in a coffin and later removed to the undertakers.

Mr. Lehmann was forty-eight years of age and had been employed by the National Casket Company for twenty-eight years. He lived with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lehman, at 2713 Payne street. Besides his mother he is survived by a sister.

W. H. May, manager of the National Casket Company said last night:

"We could stand the slight damage to our property if it had not been for the sad loss of life. The damage will not exceed $3,000. Lehman had been with us for the nine years we have been in business and before that he was with the Louisville Coffin Company, our predecessors. He was a good workman."

Arrangements for Mr. Lehmann's funeral have not bee completed.

Boy Hurt In Fall From Window.

Oscar Lyons, five years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Lyons, of 625 Eighteenth street, fell from a second-story window at the home of his cousin, Mrs. Fannie Franz, of Nineteenth and Bank streets, shortly after the storm had subsided, and sustained injuries from which it is doubtful whether or not he will recover. His skull was fractured, his left leg broken and it is thought that he received internal injuries. Up till 10 o'clock last night he had not regained consciousness.

Mrs. Franz, the child's cousin, told of the accident last night:

"Oscar got up on the window sill to open the window just as soon as the storm was over. In some way his hands slipped and he fell out to the ground. We rushed down and picked him up and called the doctors and then to-night we brought him to his own home. During the storm Oscar complained of being hot and just as soon as the rain ceased he insisted on opening the window. While he had been playing I kept the windows closed for fear he would fall out and when he did fall I was out of the room."

PANIC AT COURTHOUSE.

Records Damaged By Rain and Wind Blows In Windows.

Soaked records in the Circuit Clerk's office constituted the largest part of the damage done by the storm at the courthouse. Three of the big windows on the west side of the building which are about fifteen by six feet in dimensions, were crushed in by the weight of the wind and probably thirty order books, mainly those of the old Louisville Chancery Court, were saturated. A number of papers in old cases were also seriously dampened, though so far as could be ascertained last night, none was rendered entirely illegible or destroyed. It will, however, take a good deal of copying work to reproduce the old Chancery records.

When the gale was at its height and fragraments of broken glass were falling in all directions, Chief Deputy Clerk John H. Page and several of his case boys made a rush to save the records. Many were removed without sustaining any injury, though the rescuers were well saturated by their labors.

All, however, escaped injury from the glass. A hole was also broken in one of the big windows on the south wall of the Circuit Clerk's office which let in a good deal of rain, though it merely wet the floor.

* * *

Poured Into Clerk's Office.

Because of the incomplete state of the courthouse along the east wall of the Circuit Clerk's office, there yet remains a large crack just beneath the roof. The flood spouted and flowed through there at a lively rate and more of the records were injured before they could be hustled out of the way.

Just beneath in the County Clerk's office the deputies also had their troubles. In the Recorder's Department two windows gave away before the onslaught of the gale and the rain pouring in wet several of the recording typewriters before they could be pulled out of the way. The window in Clerk W. J. Semonin's private office was also broken and the furniture and floor saturated.

It was about quitting time when the wind hit the courthouse and many deputies who had already reached the street fled to the annex for safety. Window after window in the corridors on the upper floor which stretch from the main building to the annex were smashed by the storm, and a veritable hail of broken glass shattered upon the pavement of Court Place below. The rain rushed into the corridors and upset several piles of big steel boxes which have been placed there awaiting their installmet in the Circuit Clerk's office. With crash upon crash they smote the hard granitoid floors of the corridors and the panic-stricken deputies below, positive that Louisville was in the hands of a mighty cyclone rushed wildly from one place to another looking for safety.

* * *

"Boxes Danced and Clattered."

In the meantime the steel boxes in the corridors above with a devilish clatter danced furiously up and down with the wind.

It sounded as if the upper walls of the annex were tumbling in.

Rain flowed in in torrents through every jagged aperture in the corridor sashes and soon great showers were streaming down the stairways and elevator shafts. Janitors were put to work immediately after the storm to get rid of the wet and save the building as much injury as possible.

TO TRY CASE AT THIS TERM

Judge Moody Overrules Motion For Continuance.

In Trial of Jim Hargis and Others.

Petition Prepared For a Change of Venue.

BY PROSECUTING ATTORNEYS.

Sandy Hook, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—The special term of the Elliott Circuit Court called the latter part of May to try Judge James Hargis and others, charged with the murder of Dr. B. D. Cox at Jackson, convened here this morning with Special Judge W. B. Moody presiding. The court room and corridor was crowded with natives from miles around, all anxious to get a glimpse of and to hear Attorney A. F. Byrd. While things moved along smoothly for a few minutes it did not take long for the former Prosecutor of "Bloody Breathitt" to get into action and when he did assume the reins he made those within hearing sit up and take notice.

The formal proceedings of Judge Moody presenting his commission to Deputy Clerk James W. Sparks and receiving the oath of office prescribed by law dispensed with, the case against James Hargis was called. Commonwealth's Attorney John M. Waugh, the logical prosecutor, announced not ready because of absent witnesses and asked that the case be continued until the next term of court. After lengthy arguments between counsel on either side, during which Attorney Waugh accused Will A. Young, of counsel for Hargis, with playing to the gallery and of being a "grand-stander," Judge Moody overruled the motion for a continuance and held that the case would have to be tried at this term of court. He agreed, however, after a conference with the representatives of the Commonwealth to pass the case until next Monday to give them plenty of time to get their witnesses here and said further than he would agree to pass the case from day to day after that time until all of the witnesses had arrived.

* * *

A Victory For Defense.

While this ruling of the court was in the nature of a victory for the defense Attorney Byrd, it is said, has several trump cards up his sleeve which will be dealt between now and next Monday and also after that time. It is, therefore, not a certainty that Hargis will ever get to face an Elliott county jury for the alleged killing of Dr. Cox.

The representatives of the Commonwealth, it is understood, prepared a petition for a change of venue to-night which will be filed in court to-morrow morning, the grounds of which are to the effect that Sandy Hook is so inaccessible that it will be impossible for the witnesses to get here in time to proceed with the trial next Monday or at any date in the near future. While it is not known to-night just what action will be taken by Judge Moody on such motion it is understood that he entertains practically the same view of the situation as does the representatives of the Commonwealth. Judge Moody said to-day that he did not see how it was possible for all of the witnesses to get to Sandy Hook because of the poor facilities for getting here from Morehead and Olive Hill, the two nearest railroad stations, neither of which has sufficient modes of transportation for hauling people, while the village taverns are wholly inadequate to accommodate those who will of necessity have to attend if the trial is held here. In view of the fact that the sentiments of the court coincide with those of Attorneys Byrd and Waugh, it is possible he will seriously entertain the motion for a change of venue if he can do so according to law.

Even if it is held by the court that the trial of Jim Hargis must be held here, efforts will be made by the Commonwealth to get the cases against Elbert Hargis, John Abner and Bill Britton remanded back to Breathitt county on the ground that they were illegally transferred from Breathitt county by Judge Carnes. That this step will be taken by the Commonwealth was made known to-night when notices were served on all of the defendants that such a motion would be made at the expiration of ten days. The notices contained the information that the cases can now be tried in Breathitt county because no such state of lawlessness and feeling exists among the citizens of Jackson and Breathitt county as was alleged to have existed at the time Judge Carnes changed the venue to Elliott county.

* * *

Affidavits From Breathitt.

In support of this motion, when it is made, the Commonwealth will file affidavits of twenty-five of the leading citizens of Breathitt county to the effect that peace and quiet reigns supreme and that it will be possible for officers of the county to discharge their duties and for jurors to render impartial verdicts.

While the defense enjoyed practically all of the sweets of the first day's proceedings they were dealt a body blow when Judge Moody sustained the motion of the Commonwealth to quash the indictment against John Smith, one of the self-confessed assassins of Dr. Cox, and after being recognized to appear next Monday as a witness against Hargis he left for his home in Breathitt county about the happiest man in or out of Sandy Hook. This same motion was made by the Commonwealth at Jackson before Judge Carnes, but so anxious were the Hargisees to have Smith convicted that the motion was opposed by Will Young and was overruled by Judge Carnes and his case transferred along with the others.

While no promises were ever held out by the prosecution to dismiss the indictment against Smith the action was taken as a measure of reward for the alleged Hargis tool after he had turned State's evidence. Judge Moody contended that where a motion to file away an indictment was made by the Commonwealth in good faith he could not understand why it should be overruled by a court.

While the testimony of John Smith had no apparent effect on the Hargis jury at Lexington where he was recently tried for the Cockrill killing, it may possibly have more bearing on the present case, as it will be borne out by the testimony of Asbury Spicer, who has also confessed to his part in the assassination of the Jackson physician. Smith's evidence was not corroborated during the Lexington trial so far as the actual killing of Cockrill was concerned, while on this trial Spicer will testify that he was with Smith and assisted in the killing of Dr. Cox, the shooting being done from the shed in the rear of the Hargis store, half way between the store and Jim Hargis' residence, and that the guns were furnished them by Jim Hargis and Ed Callahan.

* * *

Reprimand From the Court.

The alleged efforts of Attorney Young to curry favor with prospective jurors and which called forth a rebuke from Commonwealth's Attorney Waugh, and which finally resulted in a reprimand to both from the court, were made early in the proceedings when Waugh asked for a continuance. In opposing the motion Young said it was done for the purpose of getting the case out of Elliott county and defeating the ends of justice. He proclaimed that the people of Elliott county were the best class of citizens in the State of Kentucky and he resented anything being said against them. Attorney Waugh was on his feet in a minute and informed the Morehead yawyer that nothing had been said in regard to getting the cases away from Elliott county and resented the words of Attorney Young in accusing him of casting any reflections on the people of Elliott county, among whom he lived.

Attorney Waugh in apologizing to the court said that he felt sure before he made the motion that Young would resort to one of his usual "grand stand plays," which were getting to be a part of every term of the Elliott Circuit Court, and which were eagerly looked forward to by the people here.

The names of fifty-three witnesses for the Commonwealth were called to-day and out of that number only six answered, and three of them were here without being subpoenaed. All of the subpoenas for the witnesses living in the State were sent out by the Commonwealth's Attorney the day following the appointment of Judge Moody, but so far no returns have been made by the Sheriffs of Breathitt, Perry, Letcher and Morgan counties, where the witnesses reside and for that reason it is not known whether or not any of them have been served. In regard to the witnesses residing out of the State the law provides that order for their personal attendance shall be made by the presiding Judge during vacation and not after the term of court at which they are wanted, has convened, and for that reason it was not known whether or not it would be possible to insure the expenses of those witnesses. In order to satisfy himself before signing an order for their personal attendance Judge Moody communicated with the Auditor of State at Frankfort and was assured by that official that no objection would be raised when a certified copy of his order was presented for the expense.

The witnesses who now reside without the jurisdiction of the State, who were residents of Jackson during the reign of assassination, are Dr. C. B. Baker, of Wisconsin; M. B. Feltner, of Ohio; Mrs. E. B. Cockerham, of Indiana; J. B. Little, of Tennessee, and Attorney W. W. Vaughn, of Oklahoma. Vaughn was one of the attorneys representing Tom Cockrill for the killing of Ben Hargis, and with Dr. Cox took an active part in getting Cockrill acquitted. Shortly after that trial he left Jackson, alleging that he had received numerous warnings that he would be killed if he remained in the town.

* * *

Arrivals At Sandy Hook.

Among the arrivals in Sandy Hook to-day were S. D. Cox and Dr. B. D. Cox, of Campton, Wolfe county, the aged father and uncle, respectively, of the murdered physician.

Bill Britton, one of the alleged murderers, who was reported to be here last night, failed to show up in court to-day, and efforts were made by the Commonwealth to have his bond forfeited. This motion was opposed by Attorney Young on the ground that his case was not before the court, and his contention was sustained by Judge Moody. Britton has been a resident of Morehead since the former cailing of the cases here last May, and is now, it is said, engaged in building a home for Attorney Young on the site of the one recently destroyed by fire. Young assured the court that he was in close touch with Britton, and would have him here at the proper time. He denied that he represented Britton.

HERSEY WILL MAKE THE TRIP

Weather Man Says Louisvillian Has His Orders.

Wellman Trip To Pole No Advertising Scheme.

Original Star Spangled Banner In National Museum.

BOWERS OUT FOR WILLIAMS.

Washington, July 9.—[Special.]—The Wellman airship trip to the North Pole will be no advertising scheme, at least so far as Maj. Henry E. Hersey, formerly of Louisville, and a member of the party, is concerned. "I have instructed Maj. Hersey," says Willis Moore, Chief of the United States Weather Bureau, "that he is expected to make the dash this summer. The time has come for an actual performance and unless it is forthcoming the representative of the bureau at any rate will hear from me.

"I did not expect that the trip would be made last year. I instructed Maj. Hersey that he was not to start last summer unless he had direct permission from me. I did not consider the preparations sufficiently advanced. The instructions this year are the reverse. There has been plenty of time, and I will insist that the attempt be made.

"When these men went into this hazardous business they did it of their own volition, well knowing the chances they took. Now they owe it to the people to make the attempt, and I have not the slightest doubt that it will be made."

When asked what he considered the chances were, Prof. Moore said that conservatively there was probably one chance in four of the trip being made a success.

"A few years ago," he said, "the chances would have been a hundred to one that the men would never come back. Yes, at least three chances out of four the men who go on the expedition will never return, but we must insist now that they proceed to take the risk."

Star Spangled Banner.

The Star Spangled Banner of history to-day rests in the National Museum inclosed in a glass case and enfolding within its tattered cloth reminiscences of one of the most notable events in the history of two continents. The flag reached Washington last night and was immediately sent to the National Museum to which it has been loaned by its owner, Eben Appleton, of New York.

Temporarily it has been placed in a large glass case at the end of the entrance corridor, but arrangements are already under way for better provisions for the famous flag and also for the convenience of those who desire to view its ancient folds.

Time and historic service have done much to rend the flag and it is to-day so delicate and worn that it has been placed on heavy canvas with the view of protecting it from the further ravages of time and wear. The flag is 28 by 30 feet and is the one which inspired Francis Scott Key to write the famous anthem.

Bowers Names Williams.

"If you ask me my choice of Democratic presidential candidates, I frankly declare that in my opinion the party could not nominate a stronger man than John Sharp Williams," said Representative Eaton J. Bowers, of Mississippi. "I do not say this because he is my colleague and warm personal friend, but because I know the caliber of the man and know his fitness for the high office. Mr. Williams, moreover, is recognized throughout the whole nation as a statesman worthy of any place in the gift of the people. Place him at the head of the ticket and let him go out and talk to his countrymen, and my word for it, he would make votes by the thousand in every State he might visit.

"In the last congressional campaign wherever Mr. Williams spoke the Democracy made splendid gains. I do not believe that his geographical location would hurt him in the North or in the West, and in the South, of course, would indorse him overwhelmingly."

Hard On the Printers

The difference between "cemetery" and "seminary" to W. F. Dorsey and W. A. Peffer, two proofreaders of the Government printing office, means a loss of just $34.25 each. Both passed the proof, a work for the Bureau of Education, in which the word "seminary" appeared as "cemetery." Part of the books had to be reprinted. The two men were compelled by Public Printer Stillings to bear the cost of correction.

MAGOFFIN ARRIVES ON TIME FOR TRIAL.

Blind Man Accused of Murder Now In Lexington Awaiting His Preliminary Hearing.

Lexington, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—John R. Magoffin, the blind man who is accused of the murder of Constable James Peel last Saturday night, arrived here this afternoon from Harrodsburg, where he has been since his release on $3,000 bond Sunday. He came to be ready for the examining trial of himself and James Moberly, who is also accused of the murder, which is set for 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. Mr. Magoffin was accompanied from Harrodsburg by his nephews, Charles A. Hardin, Commonwealth's Attorney in that district, and Magoffin Hardin, formerly City Attorney of Harrodsburg. It is possible that as the grand jury is in session, an early examining trial will be waived and the case left for the grand jury action.

Messrs. Magoffin, who are also cousins of Moberly, stated to-night that if Moberly, who is still in jail, was not dismissed at the examining trial to-morrow, they would make application for bail for him. The Magoffin brothers said that their presence here was to render any aid they could to their accused relatives, and that the legal management of the cases would be left to Judge James H. Mulligan and Wallace Muir, the local attorneys who have been retained.

FLAMES FOUGHT BY FAIR HANDS

FIRE FOR A WHILE THREATENS DESTRUCTION OF BEAUTIFUL SUMMER HOMES.

Paducah, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—Silk skirts and delicate lingerie were sacrificed in a successful effort to stay a prairie fire before it licked up nearby a dozen fine summer residences in Arcadia, just to the west of Paducah, this morning. Soft pink palms that have been protected from the sun's rays by sixteen-button gloves were blistered and blackened in the frantic struggle of their owners to beat back the flames, that a score of times set fire to "Ellesley," the summer home of George C. Wallace, directly in the path of the flames.

Arcadia's summer colony, nearly every householder of which is entertaining out-of-town guests, turned out enmasse when some mischievous youngsters, who were finishing their Fourth of July fireworks, set fire to a field and the wind catching the flames bore them toward "Ellesley." Farm hands plowed furrows around the field and the women and children fought back the flames with brushes, helped tear down fences and hedges and took the place of the men, all of whom were in the city.

The fire raged for two hours and several times residences were set afire. Among those endangered were "The Pines," of Joseph L. Friedman; "Lolomai Lodge," of George Flournoy; "Rustic Hall," of O. L. Gregory; "The Cabbage Patch," of R. B. Phillips. Had the fire spread to the buildings the loss would have been close to $100,000.

SUSPICIOUS LOOK TO INNOCENT GRIP

CAUSES MAYOR WHO THOUGHT IT CONTAINED LIQUOR TO OPEN IT.

Richmond, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—A warrant was sworn out to-day by Moreland Creekmore, an ex-saloonkeeper, charging Mayor Clarence E. Woods with taking property without felonious intent, the Mayor having opened a valise which Creekmore had left on the street near an open cellar. The Mayor admitted that he did open the grip, but alleges that he suspected the valise contained whisky and that it had been left by prearrangement.

The bag contained no intoxicants. The day before two valises containing twelve quarts of whisky were carried from a saloon to a prominent merchant's store, it being shown in the City Court that the whisky had been given away before local option went into effect, July 1.

Mr. Woods gave bond in the sum of $100 and asked that the matter be referred to the next grand jury. N. B. Deatherage, president of the Law and Order League, went on the Mayor's bond. Only one arrest for drunkenness has been made since July 1, as against thirty during a similar period before local option went into effect.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH BIGAMY

THOUGHT WHEN HUSBAND JOINED ARMY SHE COULD MARRY AGAIN.

Richmond, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Lena Daniels, daughter of Thomas Golden, was arrested to-day on a warrant charging bigamy. The charge was brought by husband No. 1, Robert Adams, now in the United States army. The woman who is now in jail here claims that she thought when her husband became a soldier she had the right to marry again. Husband No. 2, George Daniels, some months ago shot and killed Cull Hopper in this city over a horse trade.

DEMOCRATS OUT OF FUSION

Want To Await Action of the Party.

Republicans Will Nominate Own Ticket.

Regret Fusionists Refuse To Join Them.

TO CALL CONVENTION SOON.

The Republican City and County Committee at its meeting last night decided by a unanimous vote to nominate a ticket for city and county offices to be voted for at the November election. This was done despite the fact that at the conference Monday between the Executive Committee of the City Club and the Special Committee from the City and County Committee, most of the Democratic Fusionists voted to defer action in the matter of putting a ticket in the field. It is clearly manifest by the action that the leaders among the straight-line Republicans believe that the Fusionists will find no other alternative than that of supporting the ticket placed in the field by the Republicans.

* * *

Will Have Fusionists In It.

The resolution drawn by W. Marshall Bullitt was introduced by Joseph Selligman, which was adopted, is a forerunner of what may be expected in the nomination of a ticket. The inference is that the ticket placed in the field will be sufficiently Fusionist to keep in line all the Democratic Fusionists. The resolution also declares that the declaration which resulted in the Fusion movement at Macauley's Theater June 14, 1905, is to bt carried out, and calls on the Fusionists to lend their assistance.

* * *

To Call a Convention.

After the report of the Special Committee had been approved and the resolution of W. Marshall Bullitt had been adopted the chairman was authorized to appoint a subcommittee to draft a call for a convention and to report at a meeting of the Republican City and County Committee next Friday night. This action also demonstrates that the leaders are determined to put a ticket in the field as early as possible. It is also believed that the same ticket that was nominated two years ago will be renominated. The members of the subcommittee are: William Heyburn, Dr. T. H. Baker, Dr. Scott Prather, Frank L. Watson, Joseph Selligman, Col. Albert Scott and John W. Cassaday.

* * *

Had Much Speechmaking.

The committee was in session some little time last night, but most of the time was consumed in speechmaking for the good of the party. Several of the colored members of the committee alred their views pretty extensively. It is safe to say that a majority of the Republican City and County Committee are in favor of renominating the old Fusion ticket. It is said that the Democratic Fusionists who wanted to defer action in the matter of nomination were really opposed to J. T. O'Neal again heading the ticket. They believe him to be a dangerous leader to the success of the ticket this time.

The meeting was called to order last night by Col. Albert Scott at 8:15 o'clock in the new headquarters at Fifth and Main streets. There was a good attendance of the members of the committee. Col. Albert Scott stated the object of the meeting. Owing to the absence of David W. Fairleigh, chairman of the Special Committee that conferred with the City Club, the report of the committee was read by Dr. T. H. Baker. The report in full as read follows:

Special Committee's Report.

Louisville, Ky., July 9, 1907.—To the Republican County Executive Committee of Jefferson County: On the third inst. the Republican County Executive Committee of Jefferson county unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

"Resolved, By the Republican County Executive Committee of Jefferson county:

"First—That the Fusion movement inaugurated in 1905 is fully approved and it should be carried on to a successful conclusion.

"Second—That a committee of seven (David W. Fairleigh, Col. Andrew Cowan, William Heyburn, Dr. T. H. Baker, Joseph Selligman, William Marshall Bullitt and Joseph Conkling—Col. Albert Scott and J. W. Cassaday ex-officio) be and hereby they are appointed to confer with the City Cub concerning the nomination of the ticket to be run under the Republican emblem at the special November election in 1907, pursuant to the arrangement made in 1905 between the City Club and the Republican party in accordance with the resolutions adopted by the City Club at its open meeting held at Macauley's Theater on June 14, 1905.

"Third—That such committee, after such conference, shall report back to a called meeting of the Republican County Executive Committee, to be held Tuesday evening, July 9, at 8 o'clock, the result of such conference."

The undersigned special committee named in the resolutions transmitted to Mr. John H. Brand, president of the City Club, a copy of the resolutions, together with a request that he call a meeting of the Executive Committee of the City Club at an early day for the purpose of conferring with your Special Committee upon the subject stated in the resolutions. Accordingly, a meeting of the Executive Committee was held on the afternoon of the 8th inst., at which meeting your Special Committee was present.

The chairman of the Executive Committee of the City Club stated fully the object of the meeting, and read to the committee the resolutions of the Republican County Executive Committee of Jefferson county, and invited a full and free discussion of the subject therein referred to.

Your Special Commitee was surprised and pained to discover that there was a distinct and outspoken opposition on the part of a great majority of the Democratic members of the Executive Committee of the City Club to any plan based upon a definite and immediate determination to continue the Fusion movement.

Your Special Committee made manifest to the Executive Committee of the City Club the following facts:

That the Republican party at no time since the inauguration of the Fusion movement, in 1905, has hesitated in its wish and determination to continue the movement to a successful termiantion at the polls.

That the splendid results flowing from the contest of the election of 1905 require a continuation of the movement in order to the full accomplishment of the original purposes of the movement, as declared in the resolutions passed by the open meeting of the City Club, held at Macauley's Theater in June, 1905.

That it is absolutely necessary, in order to properly and effectively carry on any campaign, that the ticket to be voted for in November next should be nominated as speedily as possible.

Nevertheless, a large majority of the Democratic members of the Executive Committee of the City Club distinctly declared that they were not ready to say that the Fusion movement shall go forward; and, further, that whether the movement shall be continued should depend upon the future conduct of the present appointees of the Governor and the character of the Democratic ticket, and that the Republican party should await such future action of appointees in order to allow the Democratic Fusionists an opportunity to determine whether they shall further co-operate with the Republican party in this movement. In the opinion of your special committee this view is not representative of any large part of the Democratic Fusion voters. Nevertheless, the Democratic mmbers of the City Club represent that class of voters, and there is no other way of treating with them than through their representatives. Of necessity, fusion implies a coalition between two or more organized bodies of men. In this instance the organized authority of one body declines to go forward and there is nothing left to the Republican party, in the opinion of your special committee, than to act upon its own responsibility.

The exact action of the Executive Committee of the City Club was this:

The following resolution was offered by a Democratic member, namely:

"Resolvd, That in the opinion of the Executiv Committee the time is not ripe for any decision as to the nomination of a Fusion ticket for the November election."

The resolution received the support of all the Democratic members of the Executive Committee of the City Club but one. The resolution was not adopted because a majority of the members of the Executive Committee of the City Club are Republicans, and they did not support the resolution—with on exception. The discussion in the committee and the vote of the Democratic members on the above resolution were sufficient distinctly to disclose the attitude of the majority of the Democratic members of the committee. This resolution means and was intended to mean that the Republican party should await the future action of the appointees of the Governor and the nomination of the Democratic ticket, in order that the Democratic members of the Executive Committee of the City Club might determine whether the Fusion movement should be continued. In the opinion of your special committee the Republican party should not allow itself to be placed in this attitude, and should act upon its own responsibility.

Committee.

The report was discussed in the way of short talks by many of the members and when it was put to a vote it was adopted unanimously. Joseph Selligman said that he had a resolution drawn by W. Marshall Bullitt, who was a member of the Special Committee, but who was unavoidably absent. Mr. Selligman read the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

* * *

Resolved, by the Republican County Executive Committee: It is with great pleasure that we place on record our appreciation of the great service rendered to us and to the cause of good government by the independent voters and those of Democratic affiliations who uniting with us in the campaign of 1905, assisted us in our effort to secure an honest election in the face of the most brutal police assaults and wholesale frauds; and in recognition thereof, it would have been our pleasure to have continued the Fusion movement and ticket, had our independent Democratic colleagues deemed it advisable to do so.

We expres our most cordial thanks and deep appreciation for the labors and services rendered by the Hon. J. T. O'Neal and his asociates upon the Fusion ticket during the campaign of 1905, and we would have accepted with deep appreciation their oer to continue the Fusion fight in conection with the Republican party if their Fusion colleagues had deemed it advisable.

It is a source of regret to us that the authorities of the Democratic element of the City Club who joined with us in 1905 to overthrow the Democratic machine do not see their way clear to continue that contest until the Fusion ticket shall be submitted to the people for their decision at an election which it is expected will be fair and honest. Therefore we now call on all citizens to support us in carrying out the declaration made by the City Club itself at its open meeting on June 14, 1905, at Macauley's Theater to secure "the induction into office of men whom the people really prefer and wish to elect" to the end that there shall be "proper municipal reform and a clean, economical and efficient city government.

The members of the committee expressed themselves very freely after the meeting to the effect that they were heartily in favor of th resolutions that were adopted. Col. Albert Scott and several of the leaders said they did not know for what date the convention would be called, but they were confident that the subcommittee would agree upon an early date. They expressed themselves as being satisfied that everything will be settled by Friday night.

MEMPHIS CHAPTER DEFENDS MEMBER

DENIES ACCUSATIONS AGAINST PROMINENT U. D. C.

Charges In Letter Written By Kentucky Man Allegation of Disloyalty.

Memphis, Tenn., July 9.—The News-Scimitar to-day publishes the following:

A sensation which has been brewing for months in Confederate and social circles in Memphis as well as in other portions of Tennessee and Kentucky, reached a climax to-day when the Sarah Law Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, adopted drastic resolutions denouncing as false charges made against Mrs. T. J. Latham, of Memphis, and demand the name of the person or persons responsible for the report upon which a letter written by Gen. H. A. Tyler, of Hickman, Ky., was based.

The circular, of which thousands of copies, carefully guarded from the press, were circulated at United Daughters of the Confederacy and other Confederat gatherings, was in the form of a letter from Gen. Tyler to Mrs. W. A. Collier, of Memphis.

In it were detailed charges against the loyalty of Mrs. Latham and her husband to the Confederate cause during the late war, and the declaration being made that, under the circumstances, her prominent position in Confederate gatherings was in bad taste.

Investigation of the charges is being made by a committee of seven Confederate veterans, of which Mr. Dabney M. Scales is chairman.

At the reution of the Forest Cavalry Veterans in Memphis last year, Gen. H. A. Tyler, according to common report, is said to have publicly protested about the prominence of Mrs. Latham in Confederate work, declaring she had not favored the Confederate cause during the war between the States, and that she had not been escorted to the Canada boundary line by Northern soldiers as she is supposed to have claimed. This incident was hushed up at the time.

Chancellor Resigns.

St. Louis, July 9.—Announcement was made to-day that Dr. W. R. Chaplin, chancellor of Washington University for sixteen years, has tendered his resignation to the board of trustees. The resignation has been accepted. Prof. Marshall S. Snow, who has been dean of the institution since 1877, will be his successor temporarily.

"There's a Reason"

TIME REQUIRED

For Mayor To Decide On His Appointments.

WON'T ANNOUNCE SELECTIONS UNTIL TO-MORROW OR LATER.

JOHN STITES TIPPED TO SUCCEED CHARLES NORTON.

TO ENFORCE "ANTI-SPIT" LAW.

Mayor Bingham will make no appointments until to-morrow, and probably not before Friday. He said yesterday afternoon that he did not know when Gov. Beckham would name the members of the General Council. He expressed regret over the fact that the city employes and others are being kept out of their money for services rendered and supplies furnished during the month of June, but said that it was a big undertaking to make all the necessary appointments, and that in order to make no mistakes considerable time was required.

Nearly one hundred visitors called upon Mayor Bingham in his office at the City Hall yesterday. He said that so much of his time had been taken up by persons interested in minor appointments that he had not had the time necessary to devote to the more important appointments he is to make.

Mayor Bingham was present for a short time yesterday at a meeting of the Board of Waterworks. The business transacted at the meeting was routine in nature, and the Mayor left before the meeting was over. He returned immediately to the City Hall, whre until after 4 o'clock he was receiving visitors.

Among those who called upon the Mayor yesterday was the Rev. M. B. Adams, of Frankfort, president of the Anti-saloon League of Kentucky. He remained with the Mayor for more than twenty minutes, but at the conclusion of the interview stated that he merely paid his respects to the new Chief Executive.

* * *

John Stites Tipped.

While Mayor Bingham would not commit himself on the subject of appointments, there was a redhot tip out at the City Hall yesterday on John Stites as chairman of the Board of Public Works. It is said that Mr. Stites has been offered the chairmanship, and has agreed to accept. He is one of the best-known business men in Louisville, or for that matter in the State, and there was no one yesterday but what agreed that he would make an excellent city official. Until a few months ago he was president of the Fidelity Trust Company, having succeeded the late John Taggart, but his present title is that of chairman of the Board of Directors.

Mr. Stites has served as a School Trustee, and was one of the prime movers in the Polytechnic Society. At present he is a member of the Louisville Free Public Library Board.

* * *

Will Enforce Spitting Ordinance.

Mayor Bingham announced yesterday that the present ordinance which prohibits spitting on the sidewalks and in public places is to be enforced. The Mayor has been prominently identified with the anti-tuberculosis movement, and drew up the bills which authorized appropriations for tuberculosis hospitals. He said yesterday that the police will immediately be notified to see that the provisions of the anti-spitting ordinance are complied with, and to arrest anyone, no matter how prominent the person may be, who violates the ordinance. He said that spitting on the sidewalks tends to the spread of tuberculosis, and that it is a danger as well as a filthy habit.

Randolph Blain, the newly appointed City Judge, is also averse to the practice of spitting on the sidewalks, and said yesterday that when he takes up the duties incident to his new office he will fine everyone brought before him who is proved guilty of having violated the anti-spitting ordinance.

When asked yesterday afternoon whether he had conferred with Judge Blain since his appointment, Mayor Bingham replied in the negative. He said, however, that he had always held Judge Blain in the highest esteem, and felt that he would make a splendid City Judge.

* * *

Rivermen For Henry Hoertz.

A delegation of river men called on Mayor Bingham yesterday, and urged him to reappoint John J. Henry Hoertz as Harbormaster. Former Councilman Charles L. Crush acted as spokesman for the delegation. The Mayor said he had already heard of the efficiency of Mr. Hoertz, and that he would keep the recommendation of the committee in mind.

For several days there has been a strong tip out at the City Hall to the effect that both Col. Sebastian Gunther, Chief of Police, and Capt. Thomas Maher, Chief of Detectives, will be allowed to retain their positions. A strong effort in behalf of Lyne Herndon, City Auditor, is also being made. It is said that his chances for retaining his position appear to be better than at any time since Mayor Bingham received his appointment.

* * *

Not At Sinking Fund Meeting.

Mayor Bingham was unable to attend the meeting of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners yesterday, as he had intended, his time having been taken up by callers. The business transacted at the meeting was routine in nature, the only thing done out of the ordinary was the destruction of a few cancelled bonds that had already been paid.

When asked yesterday when he would confer with the members of the committee appointed by the Jefferson county Medical Society to advise with him relative to plans for the improvement of the City Hospital, and things in general relating to the betterment of the city from a health standpoint, Mayor Bingham said that no date had been fixed. He said that he had an engagement to confer with the deans of the four medical colleges of Louisville one day the latter part of the week. This conference will have to do with the City Hospital, and plans for placing it on a higher plane from an educational standpoint.

Judge Blain Gets Commission.

The commission of Judge Randolph Blain, as Judge of the City Court, arrived from Frankfort yesterday morning, and he will be sworn into office in the Police Court room this morning at 9 o'clock. Judge Shackelford Miller or Judge Thomas J. Gordon likely will likely administer the oath, following which Judge Blain will immediately assume the bench.

A resolution thanking Gov. Beckham for having appointed Judge Blain Judge of the City Court was adopted last night by members of George B. Eastin Camp, United Confederate Veterans, at a meeting held in their hall in the Masonic Theater building. Judge Blain is a Confederate veteran, and during the war was wounded six times. He is a member of the George B. Eastin camp, but was not present at the meeting last night.

Factory Damaged By Fire.

Lexington, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—Fire which broke out to-night in the factory of the Lexington Overall Company caused a loss of about $500. The fire originated in a box of tags. The loss consisted chiefly in damage to material in the factory. The plant had been recently moved here from Winchester, and had only begun operations yesterday.

TO MISSION WORK

State Baptists Will Devote $20,000 This Year.

EXECUTIVE BOARD DECIDES ON SUNDAY-SCHOOL EVANGELIST.

WANT TO DO WITHOUT HOME BOARD'S HELP HEREAFTER.

WANT TO BE INDEPENDENT.

The Executive Board of the General Association of Kentucky Baptists met yesterday morning in annual conference in the Walnut-stret Baptist church, Third avenue and St. Catherine street. The Rev. Joseph M. Weaver, pastor of the Chestnut-street Baptist church, of Louisville, called the meeting to order and following the opening prayer by tne Rev. J. S. Dill, of Bowling Green, was elected chairman, to preside throughout the day's session.

The usual work of the appointment of committees and the selecting of representatives for mission work throughout the State occupied the atention of the assemblage of ministers throughout the major portion of the day. Various committees were appointed and, following the close of the afternon session of the Executive Board, were gathered together to discuss the work for the ensuing year.

Considerable interest was manifested in the financial report made, it being shown that more than $100,000 was collected by the treasurer of the board during the past fiscal year, and even brighter promises for bigger returns are shown for the ensuing twelve months.

The following are the officers chosen to preside at yesterday's meeting: The Rev. J. M. Weaver, chairman; tne Rev. Lloyd F. Wilson, recording secretary; the Rev. E. J. Vick, assistant recording secretary; W. P. Harvey, treasurer, and the Rev. J. G. Bow, corresponding secretary.

Appropriations Aggregate $20,000.

Appropriations agregating $20,000 were made for the purpose of carrying on mission work for the ensuing year throughout the State. Part of the appropriation will be devoted toward supplementing salaries for ministers in churches in various parts of the State unable to support clergymen properly. The salaried and traveling expenses of special evangelists, to carry on evangelical work throughout various parts of the State were also included in the appropriations. The following clergymen were selected to perform evangelical duties: The Rev. W. D. Powell, the Rev. W. H. Smith, the Rev. J. M. McFarland and the Rev. J. W. Coakley.

* * *

Sunday-school Evangelist.

Probably the most important step taken by the Executive Board was the selection of a Sunday-school Board which will in turn select from among the various ministers of the State a Sunday-school evangelist, whose duty it will be to tour the state, holding institutes and religious gatherings for the benefit of the younger people. The board selected to choose a fitting worker for this project has as yet failed to make a selection and is seeking the best minister obtainable for the important duty.

* * *

Work At Dawson Springs.

A sufficient sum was also appropriated for the work of carrying on special evangelical work at Dawson Springs during the ensuring two months, and the following clergymen will officiate: First week, the Rev. Mr. Kirkland, of Fulton; second week, the Rev. L. T. Wilson, of Louisville; third and fourth weeks, the Rev. I. M. Jenkins, of Hopkinsville. The Rev. W. W. Hamilton, of Atlanta, Ga., who has won for himself a national reputation in evangelical work, will preside with the Rev. T. M. Morton, of Dawson Springs, during the entire month of August.

Would Become Independent.

Some of the members of the board expressed themselves as believing that the State work could be carried on by the Baptists of Kentucky independently of the Home Board, with headquarters at Atlanta, Ga. Considerable difference of opinion was manifested on this subject, but it was decided finally to accept the aid of the Home Board this yar. On effort to raise $50,000 among Kentucky Baptists will be made this year, and if success is met in the campaign it is considered probable that the aid of the Home Board will not be invoked next year.

* * *

$20,000 Expended In State.

In the report of expenditures for the past year it was shown that $20,000 was spent in special mission and evangelical work in Kentucky, while $90,000 was expended for work of like character throughout the Southern and and Western States.

A special request coming from the mountain districts asking that the Rev. J. M. Baker, of Jellico, be appointed as evangelist to the people of the mountains was referred to the Evangelical Board, and will undoubtedly lead to the desired appointment.

SLIGHT INCREASE

SHOWN IN CHILDREN ATTENDING PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS.

Boone Square Heads Off With 1,370 Boys and 785 Girls Entered During First Two Weeks.

The attendance at the Louisville public playgrounds for the first two weeks in 1907 shows a slight increase over the corresponding two weeks in 1906. The date of the opening of the playgrounds this year was June 17. This year there are seven separate parks and thirteen instructors. Three of thes are at the Triangle and two each at the other parks, except at Shelby Park and Elliott Square, which, having boys only, require but one instructor each. W. F. Bradbury, who is head instructor at the playgrounds, is much pleased with the results attained so far. He has not yet received the reports from the several parks for the last week, but expects a falling off in the attendance as the grounds were closed on the Fourth of July.

As usual Boone Square is leading in attendance with a record of 1,370 boys and 785 girls, while Elliott Square is last on account of the lack of facilities for amusement and development. This and Shelby Park admit boys only. The attendance for the first two weeks was 10,078 boys and 5,634 girls. The grounds at the Neighborhood House are kept open at night for the benefit of the many children in that locality who wrok.

PLACE OF THE EMOTIONS IN SCHOOLS DISCUSSED.

Second Day Jefferson County Teachers' Institute At Courthouse Addressed By Prof. Mackenzie.

Yesterday morning the second session of the Jefferson County Teachers' Institute began promptly at 9 o'clock. The earliest address of the day was delivered by Prof. A. S. Mackenzie, of Lexington, the instructor of the Institute, who discussed the "Place of Emotion in the Classroom." He urged that if it was through a woman that man first lost Paradise, it was usually through a woman that he regained Paradise.

"Woman," he said, "is more emotional than man, and she is God's best agent in reaching the heart and mind of little children. It was Pascal, the French philosopher, who said that the heart has reasons of its own of which reason knows nothing. Most teachers of the common schools are women, and they can touch most adroitly the heart-strings of the young.

"Win the affection of the child and in order to please you he will undertake school work which would otherwise be distasteful. A spirit of joy will pervade the atmosphere of the classroom. Cheerfulness will brighten the eye, quicken the pulse, awake the imagination and remove all friction from the schoolroom. Love is the master passion of the universe, the one emotion that is essentially eternal. The lose of the teacher will give insight and foresignt, and there is no method of teaching which can show such economy of time and energy. Teaching in such a spirit our work becomes sacred, and the prosaic duties of everyday life are transformed into the poetry of divine service."

Various subjects were discussed by Principal W. J. McConathy, of the Louisville Normal School, and by others. In the afternoon two solos were sung by Misses Hoke and Mason, while Miss Bettie Lewis, teacher of elocution, entertained the teachers with her admirable rendition of a humorous character.

This morning's programme includes a discussion of "Composition" by Misses Mattie Nuttall and M. Schwabenton, readings by Misses Mattie Wilett and Kate Conn, and other items of interest to the educationa word.

MEETING ON FRIDAY TO START CAMPAIGN

COMMITTEE OF ONE HUNDRED AFTER FUND OF $75,000.

PROMINENT MEN TO SPEAK ON WAYS AND MEANS.

SECRETARY WAKEFIELD BUSY.

The actual start toward raising the fund of $75,000 for the purpose of securing the next National Democratic Convention for Louisville will be made at a meeting of the committee of one hundred citizens in Exchange Hall, Board of Trade building, at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. In vitations have been setn to six prominent men to address the meeting on that occasion. Those who have been invited to make addresses and to which letters were sent yesterday afternoon are Henry Watterson, Col. Charles A. Edwards, secretary of the Democratic Congressional Committee, who is now in the city; Urey Woodson, secretary of the National Democratic Committee; Mayor Robert W. Bingham, George A. Newman, Jr., and A. Y. Ford.

At the meeting to be held Friday afternoon subcommittees will be appointed to assist in raising the proposed $75,000. The members of the committee desire that everybody take an interest in securing the great convethion for Louisville and aid the committee in every way possible. The Friday meeting was decided upon yesterday afternoon by the Executive Committee in charge of the work. Capt. John H. Leathers, chairman of the Executive Committee, presided at the meeting yesterday and will preside at the meeting Friday. The Executive Committee was in session over an hour attending to some necessary details in connection with the work before it.

It was expected to have Charles A. Edwards, secretary of the Democratic Congressional Committee, at the meeting yesterday, but he could not be located. Secretary John D. Wakefield, of the committee, called at The Seelbach twice before the committee met in Schwartz's office to see him. The members of the committee are gratified to have Col. Edwards in the city at this time, as he will be consulted on various matters before he returns to Washington in regard to securing the big event.

Secretary John D. Wakefield said yesterday afternoon that his part of the work now was becoming rather strenuous. He spends considerable time at headquarters in the Board of Trade building, and the stenographer is kept busy writing letters and other matters connected with the committee's work.

Charles A. Edwards, secretary of the Democratic Congressional Committee, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., arrived in the city at noon yesterday and is staying at The Seelbach. Mr. Edwards says that he is in Louisville in the interest of national politics, and he is very much interested in the fact that Louisville is going to make for the next National Democratic Convention. He has consented to remain over and address the Committe of One Hundred at its meeting Friday afternoon. He said last night that as the boys had put him down for a speech he would not disappoint them. Mr. Edwards is a native of Mercer county, and says that he never forgets his native State. He will likely visit his old home before returning to his home.

NO MERGER

OF POSTAL AND WESTERN UNION INTERESTS.

Clarence Mackey Says If Two Companies Ever Were Real Competitors, These Are They.

New York, July 9.—Clarence Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company declared today that "all this talk about the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Postal Telegraph Cable Company working in harmony is nonsence." If two companies ever competed in the United States, he said, these two companies are competing and the competition is fierce and bitter.

Mr. Mackay's statements were made in commenting upon the action of Attorney General Jackson, of New York, who yesterday asked a Justice of the New York State Supreme Court to appoint a referee to secure evidence that the Western Union and Postal Companies have formed a combination in restraint of competition. Mr. Mackay said:

"If two companies ever competed in the United States these two telegraph companies are competing and always have been. At times the competition is even fierce and bitter. Every merchant and manufacturer in the United States wherever we reach will bear witness to the truth of this statement.

"We are litigating with the Western Union all over the country in regard to railroad rights of way. In fact the tremendous fight between the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Western Union was due solely to the fact that we got that business away from the Western Union.

"The Western Union is trying to exclude us from all union depots and has just succeeded in excluding us from the Birmingham union depot, which is, perhaps, the finest union depot in this country, at present, and we intend to take that matter into the courts to set aside the monopolistic contract between the Birmingham union depot and the Western Union."

Mr. Mackay called attention to the cable to Cuba which the Postal is now laying to its Atlantic cables, land lines, and a new route about to be constructed through the Nevada gold fields to the Pacific coast as evidence of that company's competition with the Western Union. He added:

"We are the only company that ever did really compete with the Western Union and succeed in doing so."

STORY SHUT OUT

Reporter's Testimony Barred In Haywood Case.

SOUGHT TO TELL OF TALK WITH PINKERTON SLEUTH.

CLAIMS ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO MAKE UP EVIDENCE.

MOYER TO TAKE STAND NEXT.

Boise, Idaho, July 9.—The defense in the Steunenburg murder case to-day charged that Detective James McParland has been guilty of an attempt to manufacture testimony against William D. Haywood, but was unsuccessful in getting the basis and details of the charge before the court and jury.

Alva A. Swain, correspondent at Denver for the Pueblo Chieftain, was questioned as to conversation he had with detective McParland in Denver last fall. Senator Borah for the State objected to the conversation on the ground that no foundation had been laid for it.

Clarence Darrow, for the defense, explained that the testimony was offered for the purpose of showing that there existed a conspiracy between the mine owners and the Pinkertons to secur a conviction. Judge Wood said there was nothing in the evidense that furnished a proper foundation for the introduction of such testimony and sustained the State's objection. The defense took an exception.

It is claimed by the defense that McParland told Swain that he had a letter from Harry Orchard saying that when Haywood paid him for the Vindicator job he took him to one of the Denver banks to draw the money and that when they came out of the bank Swain told McParland that he could not remember the incident whereupon McParland impressed him with the importance of it as evidence and significantly urged him to recall it and become a witness in the case.

* * *

McParland's Version.

Detective McParland denies that he ever suggested anything improper to Swain. He says he got the letter, but that when he went to see Swain the latter said that he would not tell whether he remembered the incident or not and asked for another interview. McParland declares that he there dropped the matter.

Allen F. Gill, formerly master mechanic of the Tiger and Poorman mine and later City Engineer of Spokane, and his wife, Mrs. Gill, were also witnesses for the defense to-day. They jointly related that Harry Orchard attempted to sell them his interest in the Hercules mine in February andd March, 1899, just prior to his departure from the Coeur d'Alenes. Mr. Gill, who saw Orchard in Spokane a month before he killed Steunenberg, testified that Orchard said that it was because of Steunenberg that he lost his interest in the Hercules.

Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, will be brought from the county jail to-morrow to give testimony on behalf of his co-defendants.

TWO KILLED: FIVE HURT IN HEAD-ON COLLISION.

Valdosta, Ga., July 9.—As the result of a head-on collision between freight trains on the Atlantic Coast Line last night at Blue Springs, ten miles from here, two men were killed and five injured. The dead:

T. J. Johns, flagman, son of Sheriff Johns, of Jasper, Fla.

George Everett, negro, who was stealing a ride on top of cars.

The injured:

Engineer Wells, Engineer Sasser, George Cunningham and Simon Wright, negro brakeman, seriously injured; an unknown negro.

Twenty cars were piled up and both engines demolished.

Bulldog Atacks Boy.

Raffo Gerardi, son of D. A. Gerardi, orchestra leader, was severely bitten by a bulldog yesterday afternoon in front of his home at 734 Fifth street. The boy, who is only eight years old, had his lips and nose badly lacerated, a part of the upper lip being torn away.

NEGRO MURDERER COMMITS SUICIDE

AARON McCABE HANGS HIMSELF WITH BED CORD

IN CELL IN THE JAIL AT LEXINGTON.

SLAYER OF MARTIN CLARK.

Lexington, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—Aaron McCabe, the negro under sentence of death for the murder of Martin Clark, hanged himself in his cell at the county jail last night. Nothing was known of McCabe's action until 5 o'clock this morning, when the body was discovered by a negro trusty. The man had evidently been dead several hours.

McCabe had apparently some time during the night taken a small cord which was stretched across the mattress on which he slept to hold it together, and tying one end to the bars of the steel cell had made a noose with the other end which he placed around his neck. He then completed the death trap by letting his feet slip from under him and deliberately strangling to death. McCabe had evidently found the cord too short to attach to the top of the cell, which would have enabled him to have obtained a drop by stepping from his bed and thus ending his life more speedily.

The cell on one side of that of McCabe was occupied by Robert Hocker, the negro accused of the recent murder of Newton Veal, a well-known young farmer. Hocker states that the last time he heard McCabe last night the latter was saying a long prayer. As it was McCabe's custom to pray every night before retiring, he paid no attention to it and fell asleep while the prayer was in progress. Edward Caldwell, another negro prisoner, says that in talking to McCabe yesterday through the grating which separates their cells McCabe told him that he had read in his Bible that Judas Iscariot hanged himself and was forgiven of his crime. Jailer Ahern notified Coroner Malloy and the jury summoned by the Coroner found a verdict of suicide.

About noon on Sunday, April 29, 1906, McCabe crept into the saloon of P. W. Green on the corner of Mill and Water streets, and shot to death Martin White, the barkeeper, who had a short time before ejected McCabe from the place, and who at the time of the shooting was behind the bar, unsuspectingly waiting on customers.

About four years ago James McCarty, a white man, committed suicide by taking poison the night before he was to have been hanged for the murder of his wife. McCabe's former home had been in Harrodsburg and his body was taken to that city this afternoon for burial.

The grand jury to-day brought in two indictments against C. J. Bronston, who on Saturday fired four shots at W. R. Milward, Sr., during a difficulty between the two at Second and Broadway. The first indictment charges that Mr. Bronston "did unlawfully, wilfully and maliciously shoot at W. R. Milward with a pistol loaded with powder and leaden bullets and other hard substances with intent to kill W. R. Milward, but without wounding him." The second indictment alleges that "On July 6, C. J. Bronston did unlawfully conceal upon and about his person a certain deadly weapon to-wit, a pistol."

When the indictments were returned Mr. Bronston was telephoned for and came into court and gave bond in the sum of $500 for shooting and $200 for carrying concealed weapons, to appear in court to answer the charges on October 8. W. J. Loughridge and John L. Barkley are his bondsmen.

Chief of Police Jerry Reagan to-day filed charges before the Police and Fire Commissioners against Patrolmen F. P. Merritt and J. C. Langston for alleged dereliction of duty in failing to arrest C. J. Bronston last Saturday after he had shot at W. R. Milward, Sr. Pending their trial before the commission to-morrow night the chief has suspended the two policemen. It is alleged that soon after the shooting Merritt and Langston approached Mr. Bronston as if to arrest him, when Bronston waved them away and told them not to lay hands on him. A few minutes later Chief Reagan, who had hurried to the scene, met Mr. Bronston and stopped him. Chief Reagan claims the policemen should have arrested Mr. Bronston at first.

Much interest and some excitement was caused here to-day when it was learned that a strong flow of gas had been struck upon the farm of C. E. Downing, on the Nicholasville pike, three miles from this city. Mr. Downing had been drilling yesterday to find water. At a distance of 205 feet from the surface the drill struck a cavity and gas rushed up through the hole.

It was believed the flow would be only temporary and the drilling was suspended. Last night, however, the flow continued so strong that from a safe distance the gas was ignited and a column of fire instantly shot up to a height of twenty-five feet, and it has continued to burn ever since. The novel spectacle has been witnessed today by a large number of people and some steps may be taken to utilize the waste fuel. If the flow continues so strong as to indicate a large reservoir of gas other wells will be sunk in the vicinity. This is the first time natural gas in any considerable volume has been struck in Fayette county.

Mrs. Sarah A. Vimont, wife of George K. Vimont, died at 4 o'clock this morning at her residence, 401 North Broadway. Mrs. Vimont had only been sick since Sunday.

Mrs. Vimont is survived by her husband and daughter. She was the daughter of George W. Hancock, of South Limestone street. She was a sister of Mrs. R. T. Gunn, Mrs. Dr. J. W. Pryor, Mrs. B. B. Wilson and Mrs. Tilford Roberts.

The funeral services will be held at her late residence to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The pallbearers will be the four brothers-in-law, Messrs. Roberts, Wilson, Gunn and Pryor, with Maj. G. R. Bullock and William Wilson the two additional ones. The Rev. Charles Lee Reynolds will officiate.

Fans

We show more fans than any other two Louisville stores combined.

We show prettier fans than were ever offered in this city.

We show costlier fans than have ever been seen here.

Most of these fans we import direct from Japan and Austria.

We have hand-painted specimens on real parchment.

We have real Duchess lace fans

We have fans with genuine mother of pearl sticks, elaborately carved and jeweled.

We have ostrich feather fans with real pearl sticks.

In fact, we have an assortment of fans that will simply fascinate you.

Just now we are featuring fans, and are selling superior ones for less money than you are called upon to pay for the inferior grades.

Some may be had for as little as 9c, others are being sold at $19.00. The assortment of intermediate grades is most extensive, and all are very greatly underpriced.

THUNDER SQUALL SPREADS DESTRUCTION

main building, the eastern wing, was looked over after the storm no damage of consequence was observable yesterday evening.

GRAHPIC STORY OF STORM

Told By Passenger of Car Marooned On Seventh Street.

A ride from Fifth and Main streets to Seventh and Chestnut streets on a Brook street car during the storm last evening was described by a passenger as something terrible to contemplate. "The thick clouds of dust had just passed over," said the passenger, "as I boarded the car at Fifth and Main streets. Several women and three or four men were in the car. The rain began to descend in torrents before we turned the corner into Seventh street going south. The hail began to fall and beat with terrific force against the windows of the car. At Seventh and Jefferson streets the motorman wanted to stop, but one of the men on the car urged the motorman to keep going. At Seventh and Walnut streets the car stopped with a thud. The water was then two feet deep in the street.

* * *

Marooned On Seventh Street.

"Flying limbs from trees were thick and finally when the car reached a point between Walnut and Chestnut streets the motorman refused to try to go any further. The car was highly charged with electricity and the passengers were warned to remain inside and touch none of the metal parts of the construction. Several times, while the car was moving, it looked as if it would be dashed to pieces. The women passengers were in an awful state of excitement and suspense. It was fully thirty minutes before the water had run down sufficiently at Chestnut street for the car to pass on."

The way was blocked at Seventh and Chestnut streets for fully forty-five minutes after the storm had passed over. Water at the intersection of the streets was fully three feet deep and extended some distance in all directions, covering the sidewalks. Eight or ten West Chestnut street cars had to stop and wait until the water ran down and the track had been cleared of fallen branches, of which there were many up and down the streets in all directions. Two large holes had been dug at Seventh and Chestnut streets, preparatory to laying electric wires under ground. These were filled with water and dirt afterward washed back into the holes.

For several squares in the neighborhood of Seventh and Chestnut streets the yards were full of fallen branches from trees and blown down shrubbery after the storm was over. Flower beds were absolutely ruined in many instances. In many houses window lights were broken by flying branches and the heavy beat of hail. At Seventh and Walnut streets several cellars were flooded with water, but the damage was not large.

JEFFERSONVILLE ESCAPES.

Much Fright and Inconvenience, But Not Much Damage.

Jeffersonville escaped serious damage from the storm last evening, but many people were badly frightened by the wind and lightning. There were a great many inconveniences encountered on account of the Louisville and Southern Indiana Traction Company losing its power, which is generated at New Albany, and causing the interurban and city cars to stop. At Sixth street and Missouri avenue the power gave out just as a car loaded with car works employes was crossing the Pennsylvania lines suburban tracks. The car "died" on the railroad, but the passengers jumped out and pushed it to a safe place.

Several hundred men at the car works were made idle for the lack of power and lights. Throughout Jeffersonville the electric lights went out and the incandescent service was not resumed until after night. The lack of power caused many of the interurban cars to be delayed, and for nearly an hour traffic was badly mixed up in Jeffersonville. Shortly before 6 o'clock the power was restored and the cars began running regularly. The Pennsylvania lines had considerable trouble on account of poles being down and the trains running between Jeffersonville and the junction were out of service for a long time.

The storm cut some peculiar antics in Jeffersonville and was more severe in some localities than in others. In some sections of the city many tree limbs were twisted off, while in other parts not a branch was missing. Heavy rains fell over nearly all of Clark county during the afternoon and in spots. In some localities there was hail, which tended to cool the atmosphere.

NEW ALBANY FEELS IT.

Trees Uprooted, Houses Unroofed and Many Chimneys Blown Down.

Terrific windstorm accompanied by a downpour of rain visited New Albany yesterday afternoon a few minutes before 5 o'clock and considerable damage was done the western part of that city. Several of the chimneys of the rolling mills were blown over, part of the roof taken off and other damage done, the loss being about $500.

Part of the roof of the West Spring-street school was removed as was also the case with Wesley Chapel, the loss in each instance being over $100. Several of the costly cathedral glass windows were broken in the First Presbyterian church and numerous houses were unroofed. Scribner Park, a pretty breathing place in the West End, was badly damaged, a number of fine trees having been uprooted.

The storm raged with greatest violence below East Eighth street, while east of there the damage amounted to nothing more costly than the breaking down of a few shade trees. Nearly all the telephones of the city were put out of use for several hours, causing great inconvenience, while the street car system was rendered inoperative for several hours as well as the "Daisy line" and interurban cars.

SIXTY-EIGHT MILES AN HOUR.

Drop In Temperature of 19 Degrees While Storm Is Raging.

The storm, which was termed by F. J. Walz, district forecaster, "a local thunder squall," broke in its full fury at 4:59 o'clock, and continued in unabating strength until 5:04 o'clock, five minutes. For three of these five minutes the wind blew at the rate of sixty-eight miles an hour, and sixty miles an hour during the other two minutes. Heavy rain began to fall at 4:52 o'clock and continued until 5:25 o'clock. During that time the total rainfall here was .67 of an inch. During the worst of the storm the wind blew directly from the west.

While the storm was raging the temperature cut several capers, dropping nineteen degrees. At 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the mercury stood at the 81 degree mark, and one hour later it had dropped to the 66 degree mark. It reached its lowest point, 62 degrees, at 5:10 o'clock, but by 10 o'clock last night it had risen to 71 degrees.

* * *

Began With Ease.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the wind began blowing at the rate of ten miles an hour. Forty-five minutes later the wind had gained a velocity of twenty-five miles an hour, and people began to look askance. When, fourteen minutes later, the wind was whirling at the rate of from sixty to sixty-eight miles an hour, pedestrians ran panic-stricken. The heavy rain was blown in a solid sheet from the east and trees were torn up by the roots and blown to the ground. Houses were unroofed, walls were blown out, and windows blown in.

* * *

Storms Other Points.

"While there were similar thunderstorms throughout the Ohio Valley this afternoon, the storm here was a purely local thunder squall," said Mr. Walz, district forecaster, last night. "The squall was brought about by the intense hot weather we have been experiencing in Louisville during the past few days. The air near the surface of the earth became heated and lighter than the air above. Certain other conditions added to these caused the hot air to rise, and the cooler air from above rushed in, causing a rush of wind.

"There were similar storms this afternoon at Cairo, Cincinnati and Indianapolis, but these were tame compared to the storm experienced here."

* * *

Relief From the Heat.

The storm that swept Louisville and vicinity late yesterday afternoon followed a day of intense suffering from the heat. The maximum temperature yesterday, reached at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, was 96.5 degrees, five-tenths of a degree higher than the maximum temperature of the day before. One hour later there was a drop in temperature of thirteen degrees, and this was followed by an additional drop of nineteen degrees during the storm.

According to the weather forecast for to-day, humanity in and about Louisville will experience only temporary relief from the intense hot weather. The indications point to temperature almost as high as that of yesterday, followed late in the afternoon and to-night by thunder showers. While the mercury may not reach as high a point as yesterday it is probable that humanity will suffer more because of the humidity.

Hourly readings of the thermometer yesterday follow:

INFANT GIRL SUCCUMBS TO HEAT BEFORE STORM.

Two Men Bowled Over and Mule In Jeffersonville Victim of Excessively High Temperature.

Until the temperature was reduced by the storm the heat was almost as insufferable as on preceding days, and one death and heat prostrations were recorded in the Falls Cities.

Jules May Kendal, an infant, died at the City Hospital yesterday.

G. W. Richardson, a salesman with the Falls City Outfitting Company, was overcome by the heat at noon. He had just entered a restaurant on Market street and was in the act of taking a seat when he sank to the floor. He was quickly revived, and in a few minutes was able to sit up. Late in the afternoon Mr. Richardson was much improved and was able to be out.

Edward Green, who is eighty-four years old, formerly a well-known hotel keeper at Charlestown, Ind., was prostrated by the heat at his home near New Washington yesterday. He had been plowing, and after going to the house collapsed. His condition is regarded as critical. Mr. Green is an uncle of George W. Badger, Circuit Clerk at Jeffersonville, and was at one time Marshal at Charles own.

A mule that belonged to the Enterprise Dairy, in Jeffersonville, and which was valued at $200, dropped dead on the Utica pike while returning from Louisville, the animal having succumbed to the intense heat.

STORES DAMAGED; ROOFS BLOWN AWAY

PEOPLE INJURED AND HORSES KILLED WHILE STORM RAGED.

Havoc was wrought by the storm in the vicinity of First street and Broadday. One of the show windows in the grocery store of George B. Aufenkamp, 100 East Broadway, was blown in, and the fruit display badly damaged. The water filled the cellar, where a reserve stock of canned goods was stored. The loss is estimated at about $200, which is partly covered by insurance. A temporary window, made of boards, will protect the front of the store until this morning, when a new window will be put in.

Part of the roof of the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Millet, 106 East Broadway, was blown off, doing slight damage. Many horses were seen running away. No effort was made to catch them, however, as no one cared to brave the wind and rain.

A portion of the northeast cupola of the Second Presbyterian church, at Second street and Broadway, was blown off. No one was hurt.

While the wind was blowing at its greatest velocity, an ornament weighing several hundred pounds was blown from the roof of the carriage shop of George Looms, 330 First street, to the street, instantly killing a horse that was hitched to an express wagon.

Another horse was instantly killed on Guthrie street, between Second street and Third avenue, in front of the livery stable of F. J. Schuster, by a tree which was uprooted during the storm. The wagon belonged to Charles F. Schuster, the grocer. The tree struck the horse on the neck, and barely missed the negro driver, who was leaning over at the time.

* * *

Shocked By Lightning.

Arthur Spanier, a sixteen-year-old boy, was severely shocked by lightning while making ice cream in the rear of the Albus Drug Company, 751 East Market. He was take nto his home on Green street, between Clay and Shelby streets. His condition is not serious. The lightning entered by way of the electric light wires.

The four-story frame hoisting apparatus in the rear of the New Seelbach was blown down, causing slight damage.

While Mrs. D. Cohen, her son, Moses, thirteen years of age, and her uncle, D. Bernstein, who is eighty-four years of age, were seated in the sitting-room on the second floor of their residence, 410 East Walnut street, part of the roof was blown off. It seemed as if almost instantly the third floor was filled with water, and the three were covered with water intermingled with plastering which fell from the ceiling. Mr. Bernstein, on account of his age, was stunned for a while, and it was several minutes before he could speak.

* * *

Cut Cottage In Half.

Two steel smokestacks on the plant of the American Ice and Storage Company, at Floyd and eParl streets, were blown down. One of the stacks fell across a shed on the company's plant, completely demolishing it. No one was in the shed at the time. The other stack fell toward the west and cut a vacant cottage completely in half. The estimated damage is $500.

* * *

Damage To City Hospital.

The storm hit the City Hospital and its grounds with terrific force. Before many of the windows could be closed in the different wards the downpour was blown into the rooms. Windows were broken by flying branches and the force of the wind, and nurses and attendants were kept busy keeping the water out.

Fourteen of the finest shade trees in the yard were blown down, some of them crushing benches in their fall. In the midst of the storm the large smokestack on the laundry came to the ground with a force that shook the entire building.

* * *

Death During Storm.

While the storm was at its height, Jules May Kendal, the three-months-old daughter of John Kendal, living at Twelfth and Market streets, succumbed to inanition. Its death was due to heat prostration. The baby had been at the hospital a little over a day.

Windows and trees were also blown down at the Norton Memorial Infirmary and St. Anthony's Hospital. The damage reported is slight, and none of the patients in any way suffered from the rain that came into the buildings before something could be placed over the holes in the broken glasses.

* * *

Lightning Does Damage.

Lightning struck a telephone pole in the rear of Mrs. Georgia Anderson's residence, 2220 West Broadway, smashing it into flinders and setting it on fire. The fire spread to the back fence and looked as if the stable would be burned. Mrs. Anderson and the neighbors went to work in the storm and finally prevented the stable from being burned. The back fence was destroyed and much damage done to the wires that were strung on the big pole. The people were greatly frightened by the report made when the pole was struck. For some time it was thought that great damage had been done to some nearby residence.

MILL FORCED TO SHUT DOWN.

Prostrations By Heat Numerous At Vincennes, Ind.

Vincennes, Ind., July 9.—[Special.]—The local heat record for four days is 96, 97, 100, 99. No relief is in sight. Within twelve hours six prostrations have been recorded. The National Rolling Mill, the largest industry, operating day and night, had to shut down completely at noon because of the prostration of four skilled department mechanics, two of whom are in a serious condition.

Record Broken At Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., July 9.—The official thermometer at Atlanta's Weather Bureau registered 96 degrees at 2 o'clock this afttrnoon, the season's record. Later in the day a light rain, accompanied by a severe electrical storm, cooled the air, lowering the temperature about ten degrees.

DROUGHT IS HURTING CROPS.

Extreme Hot Weather Does Damage Near London, Ky.

London, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—The past four days have been the hottest of the season in this locality. Yesterday the thermometer reached the 99 mark in the shade and to-day it went to within one degree of the same point. It has not rained here for several weeks and the ground is as dry as a bone. The annoyance of the extreme heat is aggravated by the dust, which was never worse in this city. Crops are beginning to suffer for want of rain. Excessive rains during the early summer made the ground very compact and it is in a bad condition to stand a drought.

Storm Breaks Heat.

Henderson, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—The heat wave of the past few days was broken to-night by an electrical storm which was followed by a heavy rain. Light showers were reported from several sections of the county.

Sizzling At Hopkinsville.

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—To-day and yesterday have been the hottest days of the year, the Government thermometer registering 99 degrees, while private instruments have gone to over 100.

Heat Prostration Fatal.

Evansville, Ind., July 9.—[Special.]—Columbus Sherman, who was overcome by the heat yesterday, died this afternoon. The thermometer registered 97 to-day and several prostrations were reported.

Russellville Claims 102.

Russellville, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—To-day was the hottest of the season, the thermometer registering 102 degrees in the shade at 2 p. m. At 7 p. m. it was 89 degrees.

KENTUCKY DAY AT JAMESTOWN

PREPARATIONS FOR THE EVENT NEXT TUESDAY.

Gov. Swanson, of Virginia, Noted For His Eloquence Will Be One of Speakers.

Jamestown Exposition, Va., July 9.—[Special.]—Preparations for Kentucky day, which will be celebrated next Tuesday, are being rapidly made at the headquarters of the State Commission to the Jamestown Exposition. Gov. Swanson has been invited to be one of the speakers. The Chief Executive of the Old Dominion is an orator of more than ordinary ability and on a previous occasion honored the Kentucky building with his presence. Much interest is being taken in the proposed barbecue which is to be the feature of the celebration. It will be the first introduction of such a function in tidewater.

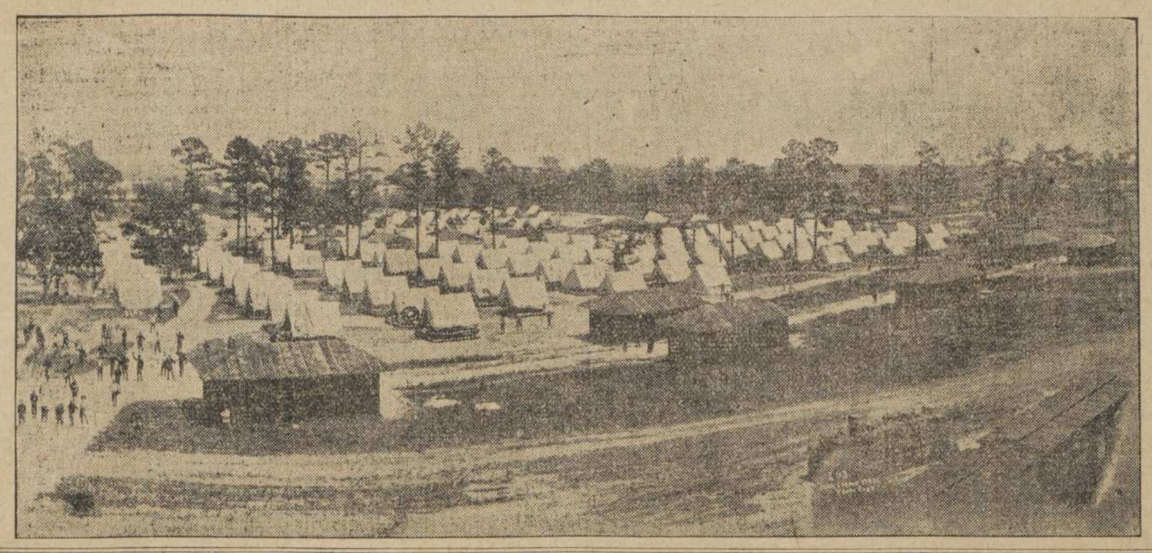

Mrs. Mattie B. Tucker, of Louisville, has returned home after conducting a "model normal" school at the exposition for two weeks. Her work was roundly complimented by the exposition authorities and she was invited to prolong her visit, but other engagements prevented.

Among the Kentuckians whose names were entered to-day on the register at Fort Boonesborough were: Grace A. Villier, Marian L. Villier, G. F. Beck and Elmer Beck, of Louisville; Helen Irwin and L. M. Irwin, of Farmer; Miss Sophia Bryant, Versailles; Mrs. L. J. McCauley and Mrs. S. L. Johnson, Troy; F. Paul Anderson, Lexington; Miss Nora E. Walton and Amelia G. Compton, Munfordsville; Claude H. Cardozo, Russellville; Mrs. Lucie Morgan Dorsey, Covington; Edward C. Thurman and wife, Sonoro; A. W. Stowers, Pikeville.

Death of Well-Known Man.

Vanceburg, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—John C. Ingram, aged seventy-eight years, a prominent but retired business man, died here to-day of Bright's disease. He was an active Mason and had been a member of that fraternity for fifty years.

WEDNESDAY ......JULY 10, 1907

"Business."

Tuesday Evening, July 9.—The New York stock market had an easy tone during most of the session, final prices showing concessions of 1 to 3 points.

Money on call was firm at 4 to 4¾ per cent., ruling at 4½. Time loans were firmer at 4½ to 5¾. Sterling exchange was easy.

The Chicago wheat market was strong, the September delivery closing ⅝c higher. Corn was off ⅛c to ¼c. Oats were up ½c to ⅝c.

The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 1 to 5 points, was moderately active and closed 12 to 16 points higher than it opened.

The Chicago cattle market was steady, the hog market steady to a shade lower, and the sheep market weak.

Irrigation and Drainage.

Two opposite climatic and topographical features in certain portions of the country have created problems of development which are now commanding the attention of the Government. In the high arid regions of the West there is a lack of equable rains, rendering lands, otherwise favorable, unfit for cultivation. The problem there is to provide water artificially by dams and canals for irrigation. In the Mississippi Valley and along its confluents near the gulf and Atlantic coast are vast bodies of land, of the most fertile character, rendered unfit for agriculture by an excess of water in the shape of swamps and marshes. The problem there is to free the land of incumbrance by canals and ditches, which will make it as productive as the richest in any part of the country.

The first problem is being exploited on a large scale by the Government under a law which has prescribed the arid area, in which the lands have been withdrawn from entry at present to be sold or leased as they are made arable by the water impounded by great dams, now under construction, and to be distributed by the irrigation systems designed in connection with them. This is no new experiment, the system of irrigation having been in use in arid countries from time immemorial and most successfully illustrated in California and many of the States and territories west of the Mississippi. The scheme has merit, not only from the immediate result following the completion of an irrigation system in the production of large crops, but in the possible effect, as the sphere of irrigation is enlarged, in such a climatic change from the increased humidity as may lead to the growth of forests and to a rainfall which may be sufficient to dispense with irrigation. Such has been the change through the introduction of agriculture in the States east of the Rockies, from Texas northward, known as Alkali deserts, which has resulted in a normal rainfall and in unsurpassed agricultural production.

As yet there has been no corresponding effort either on the part of the Government or of corporations to reclaim the swamp lands of the South, but the matter is under discussion and most valuable results are predicted by those who have made the subject a study. The National Drainage and Waterways Commission appointed last spring by the President are considering plans for the drainage of the swamp lands along the gulf and Atlantic coasts and along the Mississippi from the mouth of the Missouri to the gulf. In a recent meeting in New Orleans, held to organize an auxiliary to the National Drainage Association, Col. A. G. Bernard, of Minnesota, chairman of the Executive Committee of that body, stated his belief that by the expenditure of a few million dollars on the reclamation of swamp lands along the Mississippi river the cotton crop can be doubled. In a paper read by Albert Godchaux, who was elected president of the Auxiliary Association, it was shown that the reclamation of the swamp lands would mean a matter of $2,300,000,000 to the nation and that Louisiana has 14 per cent. of the swampage of the country. Thus, hand in hand, there seems that there is fair prospect of each of the two diverse sections attaining its desired object, Arizona and the sagebush deserts relieved of their excessive aridity and the coastal and river swamps to the eastward, of their excessive humidity.

The Gentle Art of Making Presidents.

I.

There are some historic misconceptions touching the nomination and the election of several of our Presidents.

Pierce, for example, was not so spontaneous a choice, such a very "dark horse," as he seemed to be, and as subsequent writers have thought him to have been, in the National Democratic Convention of 1852, which was held at Baltimore. He had been in grooming all the previous winter and spring by a group of political trainers made up of his former colleagues and cronies in the two Houses of Congress. Polk was unthought of for President when the Baltimore Convention of 1844 assembled. He was a weak aspirant for the Vice Presidential nomination on the contemplated Van Buren ticket. When the Van Buren men found their candidate circumvented by the two-thirds rule they revenged themselves on the men who had boxed the compass on them, using Jackson himself, Van Buren's friend, to that end, by taking a nominee right out of the Jackson menage, Jackson's own home representative and protege, Polk, greatly to the country and Polk's surprise.

Crittenden made Taylor the Whig nominee in 1848—partly, it may have been, to have an end of Clay, for whom Crittenden entertained no consuming love, but also and mainly because Clay was thought by a great many of the very best Whigs to be a Whig hoodoo, and there appeared a much surer thing in Old Rough and Ready Taylor's military fame and popularity; albeit, Taylor was at the same time closer to Crittenden than any other possible nominee. Even at that rate, however, except for the defection of Van Buren, who ran as a Free Soil candidate and lost New York to the Democrats, Cass, and not Taylor, would have been elected President.

There does not seem much room to doubt that in nominating Sherman in the National Republican Convention of 1880, Garfield spoke two words for himself to one for his principal. Hayes' nomination in 1876 looked like a case of spontaneous combustion; but quite two months before, it had been so fully anticipated in these columns that the day after the event at Cincinnati the Courier-Journal reprinted its forecast as its comment.

The rise of Arthur, Cleveland and Roosevelt reads like a story out of the Arabian Nights. Indeed, if some ready writer had leave to tell it all, a great volume—replete as a fairy tale with the sudden and unexpected—might be made under the title of The Romance of the White House.

II.

Once again the old, familiar Kinometograph is about to be rigged up in our political House of Mirth as we approach the time appointed for the naming of candidates and the election of a President. The Managers of the Show are all agog. But the figures, which move and counter-move, are mostly in shadow and outline. The screen is full of confusion. Both parties are groping in the dark.

Mr. Bryan is accepted by certain organization Democrats, with the too frequent appendix, "we can't elect him," whilst it may be surmised that the President will hang on to Judge Taft "like grim death to a dying nigger," till Fairbanks or Hughes is actually nominated.

A significant phase of the situation is the pertinacity with which those Democratic politicians, who, like Mrs. Wilkins Micawber, iterate and reiterate that they they will never desert Mr. Bryan, cling to the idea that Mr. Roosevelt himself is to be the Republican nominee. That those Republican politicians who have schemes to work and axes to grind should bawl themselves hoarse shouting "one term more for Theodore," is as simple as pick-up-sticks; but why should the peculiar friends of Mr. Bryan take them at their word and echo their insincere and thrifty music? Can it be that they think Bryanitis a corollary or Rooseveltism, and vice versa? Or, may it happen that, hot-headed and fanciful, it is both their destiny and their judgment to miscalculate and go astray?

It is our opinion that the President was honest in his voluntary renunciation three years ago, and is honest now; but it is also our opinion that if he were not honest, but were playing the vile game assigned him by his enemies, he could not in any event obtain the nomination.

The Republican party is a militant and triumphant organization. Its discipline is perfect and intact. Its leaders are experienced and sagacious public men. With an ample field, and a good field, to chose from, the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt would be a wanton act of causeless suicide. The merest political tyro ought to see that.

The President is no fool. He knows that to go back not only upon his word, but upon his friend, and take the nomination himself, would fully confirm the worst charges of the most inveterate of his traducers; that it would put the brand of self-seeking and falsehood upon all his antecedents and pretensions; that it would present him to his countrymen as a detestable and selfish conspirator, aiming after power and power alone; that, in one word and at one fell swoop, the act would destroy both himself and the Republican party. It is inconceivable, short of insanity, that Mr. Roosevelt should contemplate it. If, through the counsels of insanity, he should be willing to be party to it, his friends and political associates would forbid it.

Consider the situation and argument which such a contingency would involve. If Free Silver was to Mexicanize the currency, what would be Mexicanized by a Third Term for Theodore Roosevelt? Our very Constitutional System, the Government itself. Even as Free Silver wrecked the Democratic party would Third Termism wreck the Republican party. The country is no more ripe for the one than it was for the other, and the lack of prescience and foresight which made a certain type of Democrats blind in the first instance makes them equally blind with respect to the second. They belong, indeed, to the class of persons whose wish is ever father to their thought.

The Democratic party may as well make up its mind now that it will have next year to meet the strongest and best the Republican party has in stock; and, if it is not able to find some nominee who can still the discords and unite the factions, then the Republicans will elect their ticket, and in case Democracy is to survive, we shall have to do it all over again. Mr. Bryan alone, out of his leadership and lectures, having something to show for our great outlay and long travail.

In writing of these things, which, being current and speculative, are of immediate interest, the Courier-Journal fulfills simply the law and the reason of its being, as a daily newspaper. It has no other ends to serve than to amuse, if it cannot edify and enlighten, its readers. When it describes Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Bryan, the two foremost figures on the political checkerboard, as twin Socialists, the one on Federalistic, the other on Sentimental, lines, it means to withhold from neither its personal admiration and respect for shining qualities of mind and heart, high aspirations and noble aims, and undeniable talents. At the same time it would have its readers do their own thinking, warning them the while against fetish-worship and image-worship.

We, too, believe in "the people." But, if our fair system of Republican Government is to be maintained and made perpetual, it must be through grace of "the people," not through their passions; through the people's self-restraint and their sense of justice, not through their exaltation of chance heroes, their hugging of economic phantoms and their pursuit of political revenges.

The next President of the United States, like the Derby winner, is probably picked out already by the little white cherub that sits up aloft and makes no mistakes, and, whether he be a dark horse, or a light horse, a Democrat, or a Republican, he is tolerably sure to be a good American, so that, in any event, Christmas will come again, and we shall all get our belly-full of cakes and ale.

The Owen County Scandal.

That is a deplorable state of affairs aired by the grand jury in Owen county. For every member of the Fiscal Court to be indicted on offenses ranging from perjury to the misappropriation of public funds is an exhibit which, mildly expressed, is ugly. That the whole membership of the court consists of men elected as "reformers," agents of public virtue and apostles of a "general cleaning up of county affairs" is a circumstance that adds more than a touch of irony to the situation.

Of course, the whole matter will be probed to the bottom. The accused will have a chance in court to establish their innocence of the charges. At any rate, the accusers will have an opportunity to prove their charges. If they cannot substantiate their case the indicted officers will go acquit, as they deserve to do. If the matter be largely an overdrawn political strategem for the evening of scores the animus will be made manifest. Under any and all circumstances, however, the members of the Fiscal Court have been formally and officially charged with serious offenses.

All loyal Kentuckians necessarily lament such a scandal and they will watch the outcome of the affair with deep concern.

Bogus Americans.

The new Federal law as to citizenship, which went into effect on the first of the present month contains this provision:

"When any naturalized citizen shall have resided for two years in the foreign State from which he came, it shall be presumed that he has ceased to be an American citizen, and his place of general abode shall be deemed his place of residence during the said years."

The same law contains a provision for rebutting the presumption mentioned in this paragraph. It consists in the presentation of satisfactory evidence of the contrary to some diplomatic or consular officer of the United States.

The evil which this law was intended to correct is stated to be, in substance, that people come here, get naturalized, in some cases make fortunes, but, in any event, get enough of residence in America, and go back to their native countries with the full purpose of living there the remainder of their days. They desire, however, to hold on to American citizenship, which is a very ready help in time of trouble, and they are quite ready to ask for the sending of a warship or a whole fleet, to protect them if there is any need for such protection. Meantime, they are doing nothing to help support the Government of the United States, and a good many of them are drawing pensions for services in the army and navy. They desire to enjoy the advantages of American citizenship without bearing the burdens of any sort of citizenship whatever.

This new law is said to have caused a good deal of consternation in Germany, where there are said to be ten or fifteen thousand German-Americans who have gone back to Germany to make their homes permanently. They are afraid they will not be able to give satisfactory evidence that Germany is not their real residence. In point of fact, it is said that a large majority of them intend never to return to America. Of course, the fact that this news comes from Germany by no means proves that the new law affects Germans solely or principally. There are, doubtless, such naturalized Americans residing in all the principal countries of Europe and in other parts of the world.

A dispatch from Washington to the New York Times, alluding to these fears, says the new law is accomplishing precisely what was expected and intended. A way is provided for those who intend to return to America to overcome the presumption. As to those who prefer to live abroad and wish to keep American citizenship as a personal asset without the remotest intention of performing any of the duties that attach to such a position, the Government, it is said, is tired of such citizens and wants to get rid of them.

Of course, there should be no failure to protect the interests of genuine American citizens, no matter whether they were born in our territory or abroad. Some of these are compelled to spend much time in foreign countries, and ought not to lose their rights on that account. They need not do so under the new law. On the other hand, those who have, in fact, resumed their permanent residence in the country where they were born ought not to look to the United States for protection. They may not have renewed their allegiance to their native countries, but that is a matter for them to consider. If there is no way for them to renew such allegiance, they would be without a country, but they will probably be permitted to recover their former status, at least in most cases. If not, it is a question which they ought to have considered sooner.

Schmitz's Appeal.

Immediately after his sentence Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, dictated to the reporters a statement which may be called an appeal to the people against the judgment of the court. During the Judge's remarks Schmitz had repeatedly protested against being lectured, his main objection being that the reporters were taking down the Judge's remarks and would print them. Accordingly he sent out his own statement, apparently as a correction of the censure of the Judge.

The essence of Schmitz's complaint is that Judge Dunne was prejudiced against him and that he had not had a fair trial. It must be said that Schmitz and his associates have done everything in their power to prevent him from having a fair trial and justice was that of which he was most afraid. The remarks with which Judge Dunne accompanied the sentence were certainly severe, and it is not impossible that there was some passion intermingled with them. They had, however, nothing to do with the verdict of guilty found against him. If there was any error in the rulings of the court in the trial it can be corrected on appeal. So far as the statement of Schmitz asks for sympathy from the masses of the people it will be unavailing. The most that any right-thinking person desires to see done in his behalf is that he shall have a trial according to law. If he has not had it an appellate court will give it to him.

Schmitz says he will again be a candidate for Mayor and that the people of San Francisco will vindicate him. It is entirely beyond the power of the voters of that unfortnate city to give him any adequate vindication. They have it in their power to disgrace themselves irretrievably and to forfeit the respect of all honest men throughout the world, but there is not water enough in the Pacific to wash clean such a reputation as that of Schmitz.

Hargis Versus Kentucky.

Upon his arrival at Sandy Hook Judge Hargis said that he was anxious to be arraigned for the murder of Dr. B. D. Cox and that he believed that the trial would result in a verdict of acquittal "as did the trials for the murder of James Cockrill and James B. Marcum, in which the juries failed to convict." Whether the words "failed to convict" are those of the defendant or the correspondent is not quite clear. In any event the phrasing is apt. There is every probability that there will be a mistrial or a verdict of acquittal in the Cox case. The criminal prosecutions of Judge Hargis for the three assassinations will then be ended and the notorious Breathitt countian will be entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. But, notwithstanding the verdicts of acquittal it cannot be said that the State has failed utterly in its efforts to discourage the activities of the Hargis clan.

Before the inquiry into the Breathitt affairs was begun Hargis was Hargis and Callahan was his prophet. The state of affairs that existed under the Hargis-Callahan misrule cannot exist again. A jury in a civil trial has branded the two men as the murderers of Marcum. The atmosphere in Jackson has been measureably clarified. The efforts of Mr. Byrd and other officers of the law—and of the widow of Mr. Marcum—have not been utterly fruitless. Many obstacles have confronted the prosecutors of the clan, and if some of them have been placed in the way, others existed, in the nature of things. An up-hill fight has been fought well and if the final result is a dog fall a very large dog has been downed.

Sergeant S. Prentiss.

The newspaper reporter, whose knowledge of history is limited to what he has seen with his own eyes, got in his work yesterday, as follows:

"New Orleans, July 8.—Two well-known Confederate veterans died here to-day. One was S. S. Prentiss, the famous ante-bellum slavery orator, who moved from Massachusetts to Mississippi. The other was Eugene F. Gorman, who up to a few years ago was widely known in the United States both as an orator and as a showman."

Sergeant Smith Prentiss emigrated from Maine to Mississippi and died in New Orleans in 1850.

This serves, however, to recall the memory of one who, in his day, enjoyed a phenomenal reputation for his brilliancy as an orator and his success at the bar. He was one of a number of Northern men of talent and education, like Slidell and Quitman, who came in the same epoch from New England and other States North, and became so conspicuous for their extreme Southern views, contributing largely toward the designation of "fire-eaters" as applied to Southerners who had similar opinions and afterward took part in the secession movement.

Mr. Prentiss was a native of Portland, Me., where he was born in 1808. He was a graduate of Bowdoin College and removed to Natchez where he taught school and read law. A few years later he went to Vicksburg, where he rapidly rose in the practice of his profession, to which he assiduously devoted himself. In 1835 he was elected to the Legislature and soon achieved a reputation as a speaker, becoming noted for his wit, sarcasm and argumentative powers. His success before the people was such that in 1837 he became a candidate for Congress, but upon going to Washington to take his seat found it contested by Col. Claiborne, his opponent. His speech in support of his claim was a notable one, occupying a portion of three days, but he failed of success by the casting vote of James K. Polk, then Speaker. At the next election he was successful and had a brilliant career in the house, from which he retired with a national reputation.

No public man in his day had more celebrity in the South and West, and long after his death his fame was kept alive by those, whether friends or foes, who never tired in recounting his remarkable achievements at the bar and on the hustings. A speech in Faneuil Hall in 1838 was pronounced by Edward Everett as "the most wonderful specimen of sententious fluency which I have ever witnessed;" and Webster, when asked by Mr. Everett if he ever heard anything like it, replied "never except from Prentiss himself." In the same year he came to Kentucky and defended his friend, Col. Wilkinson, in a noted trial at Harrodsburg for manslaughter and secured his acquittal against an array of the ablest counsel by a speech which was long noted as a masterpiece of impassioned eloquence. Endowed with such brilliant genius and mental capacity he had the misfortune of being a cripple from birth. His wife was of a prominent Southern family.

Prof. Hall is to spend part of his vacation finding out why a man falls in love with one girl rather than one of the others. If he has any vacation left over he might tackle the problem "if a cat and a half kill a rat and a half in a minute and a half, how long would it take to fill an elephant's ear with lead?"

"The average American flat is more comfortable than the palace of a monarch in the Middle Ages," says a magazine devoted to architecture. Still the King enjoyed the divine right of not having to knuckle to the janitor and abase himself before the rent collector.

Dr. C. A. Smith, of the University of North Carolina, says it is customary in the South for a customer to ask a grocer: "Do you all keep fresh eggs here?" And, by the way, the answer to such impertinent inquiry is always more emphatic than trustworthy.

"'Back to the Constitution,' is Henry Watterson's warning cry to the Democracy, but the rank and file would be glad to merely get back to the pie counter." —[Washington Post.

Well, the short-cut to the pie-counter is round by way of the Constitution.

The Texas law providing that all hotel beds must be equipped with sheets nine feet long must have been an act entitled an act for the encouragement of Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indiana.

There is no longer any backwoods in America, according to a magazine writer. And there'll soon be no woods at all if the western politicians and the timber gobblers have their way.

The Chicago Record Herald, which calls Thomas C. Platt "merely an ornament" in the Senate, is, of course, entitled to its own opinions as to what is ornamental.

THE STAR OF THE NORTH.

Has Minnesota a Democratic Abraham Lincoln In Governor Johnson?

[St. Paul Pioneer-Press.]

The conferring by the University of Pennsylvania of the degree of doctor of laws upon Gov. Johnson is a compliment to him which is gratifying to the people of Minnesota not only because of the honor paid to a popular Governor but because of the indication it affords of the growing reputation of Gov. Johnson beyond the borders of his own State. The plain truth is that, irrespective of party or of political views, the people of Minnesota are deeply interested in the possibility of Gov. Johnson securing the Democratic nomination for the presidency. And it is safe to say that nine men out of ten who take an interest in the matter desire to see Gov. Johnson nominated, less for the honor which his nomination would bring the State than because for their liking for him and because of the belief that, in many respects he would be a desirable candidate.

To say that he owes his popularity more to his great tact and to his ability to make a favorable impression on individuals and on audiences than to any very conspicuous achievements in statesmanship is not to imply that he lacks the sounder qualities of intelligence necessary in the nominee of a great party. For Gov. Johnson has given evidence of a breadth of view and a soundness of judgment which has been lacking in many a man who has been conspicuous enough in national affairs to be mentioned for the presidency. It is very improbable that he would, if placed in a position of leadership, father a single vagary such as Bryan produces in profusion at frequent intervals. For Gov. Johnson seems to be at least sane.

He is, however, to some extent handicapped by want of a broader and more intimate acquaintance with national questions. He has had neither the advantage of a term in Congress nor the advantage of any administrative position at Washington. He has not been conspicuous even in this State for activity in matters of national policy. But unless Minnesota is mistaken in the man, he will be found equipped when he is called upon.

There are a good many Minnesotans who do not take Gov. Johnson's chances for the presidential nomination very seriously. He professes not to take them seriously himself. But there are many indications from all parts of the country that he has enthusiastic and widespread support. If his nomination is not at this time probable, it is far from impossible; and it is not unlikely that his strength will develop rapidly. He is, at least, a factor in the situation which it is worth while to watch; for such a man as he would be welcomed by the entire South as a relief from the quadriennial Bryan incubus. Nor is he offensive to either the radical or the conservative wings. He could not justly incur the hostility of either. Though a "Bryan Democrat," his cast of mind is not such that, as a leader, he would throw prudence to the winds and advocate half-baked remedies for evils real or imaginary. Of the candidates so far suggested Gov. Johnson is the only one who would not antagonize one wing or the other of the Democratic party.

TAFT.

[Alfred Henry Lewis in Human Life.]

Mr. Taft gives forth an unflagging impression of an honesty incorruptible, a courage undaunted, a wisdom neither to be foiled nor led aside. Also he owns a temper, and can rage on right occasion. Beyond these, Mr. Taft is bluff, frank, without pose, nowise in love with himself and lacks wholly in selfishness and an intriguing genius for design. Mentally, morally and physically, he wants in any element of the mollycoddle, and is precisely what Mr. Roosevelt would take to and stick to, and not only believe in but love.

Likewise there is a wholesale sense of humor imbedded in the Taftian bulk. Mr. Taft can tell a joke, and laugh like the roar of a storm. His mind is as clean as a woman's—a point concerning which the Roosevelt tastes are imperative. Rabelais, were he to return, would win no White House vogue.

Much has been joyously written concerning the rotundity of Mr. Taft. He has gained frequent description as the Falstaff of the administration. Mr. Taft himself is prone to unbend to gay sallies about his size. He will tell of the lady, whom he served in some West Point ambitions for her son, and who in her gratitude burst forth with:

"O, Mr. Secretary, you are not nearly so fat as they say."

"Madam," returned Mr. Taft, on this flattering occasion, "however much I may have served you, I am repaid a thousand fold."

Again Mr. Taft relates how a negro boy, on seeing him in the saddle, exclaimed as if from the heart:

"Lawd, I pities that hoss!" and, according to the big cabineteer, the horse sighed a response to the sentiment.

CHICKEN CHEESE.

[Vogue.]

Boil two chickens in water to cover until the meat will fall from the bones. Then remove all the bones, mince the meat very fine, season with salt and pepper, and return to the water in which they were boiled, adding a tablespoonful of butter, one of minced celery and half an onion sliced. Cook until the liquor is nearly gone, skim out the onion and pour into a deep dish. Put a plate over it with a weight on top, and set away in a cold place until firm. When ready to be eaten cut in neat slices and serve with a little red currant jelly or some aspic mayonnaise.

Beginning To See It.

(Washington Post.)

It is beginning to be apparent that Gov. Hughes will have to be reckoned with in the political melee of 1908. The Republican party is a consummate politician. There is no nonsense about it. It never allows a sentiment to interfere with its interests. Its heart was for Grant in 1880; its head was opposed to him, and Garfield got the plum. Its heart was for Blaine in 1876, but Hayes got the nomination.

Here is what the G. O. P. is now meditating: The Republicans can win without New York; the Democrats must have New York to make any show at all. Nominate the Republican who has New York nailed down, and the November election will be a cake walk.

Hughes has made good; he has delivered the goods. He is a reformer and he is that marvelous combination, a reformer who is also safe. The veto of the two-cent fare bill was a brave thing to do, and the Governor's argument appeals to every conservative man in every State. Grover Cleveland never did a braver thing. His veto of the bill to reduce the fare on Jay Gould's elevated roads from ten cents to five cents made him President. The measure was extorted from the Legislature by public clamor and was the fruit of political cowardice.

As Gov. Hughes puts it, the situation at Albany is the same now as it was in 1883 touching this matter of passenger fares. He smote the bill, and all New York whose applause is worth anything is applauding him. It makes him a factor. If he shall be chosen favorite son and New York goes to the national convention absolutely loyal to him, his chances for the nomination will be excellent.

Politics is uncertain, as uncertain as dice or cards. If the masses have their way Roosevelt will be the nominee. It all depends on whether he will yield to the universal demand. But with Roosevelt out of the thing Hughes is in a commanding position. Van Buren, Grover Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt all were graduated from the mansion Charles E. Hughes now occupies.

POINTS ABOUT PEOPLE.

Miss Mary Dabney, who will leave with her father to-morrow for New York to sail on Saturday for a trip through Europe, was the guest of honor at a charming luncheon given yesterday afternoon by Miss Mary Vance at her home on Fourth avenue.

Those invited to meet Miss Dabney were:

MISSES

ON THE FUNNY BONE.

A Friendly Steer.

Lady Clara Vere de Vere,
Please accept a little steer.
You should doff
Elbow gloves when they grow warm.
If they heat each pretty arm,
Take 'em off.

Do not make a wristlet, love,
Of your lengthy elbow glove.
Gloves worn so,
Lady Clara Vere de Vere,
Far from beautiful appear,
Don't you know?

Only use your gloves as such
And you will oblige us much.
Wristlets, dear,
Are all right for winter wear;
But in summer, I declare,
They are queer.

WHERE ARE THE JEW'S HARPS?

[New York Press.]

"Jew's harp?" said the gray-headed man. "Have I heard one lately? Yes, I heard a man playing one yesterday. His performance was to me a great musical treat. That was because it was the first time I had heard a jew's harp for months. Nobody knows how to play a jew's harp nowadays. Even those demonstrators—I suppose that's what you call them—in music stores, who seem to know how to play every other kind of instrument for the benefit of possible customers, fall down on the jew's harp. In fact, nobody seems to know what a jew's harp looks like. Yesterday, just out of curiosity, I stepped into a music store and asked to see one. Also I asked the clerk to play it for me.

"'I want to hear "Nellie Gray,"' I said, 'and "When Johnny Comes Marching home" and a lot more of the old-fashioned tunes.'

"He looked at me as if he thought I had lost my mind.

"'I don't know anything about the jew's harp,' he said, 'but I can play those things on the piano if you like.'

"But I didn't want the piano. I can hear that any time. I was about to go away when an old man who was working in the rear of the store stepped forward.

"'I cay play those tunes on the jew's harp,' he said. And then he sat down and played. Lord, how he did play! Tender, haunting melodies sang themselves off that jew's harp and melted into my very soul. They took me off Broadway, they took me clean out of New York, and set me clean up among the clouds. I haven't fairly got down to earth yet. The chances are I never shall get down if I can persuade that old man to play the jew's harp for me every other day."

EXPENSIVE DOG COULD NOT SWIM.

[Springfield Republican.]

A Springfield man who went to Orange yesterday visiting relatives was accompanied by his $100 French bulldog, which was greatly admired by many people, partly because it was from the city and because there were none in the town of that breed. A young woman who had only a plain dog invited the Springfield man to go down to the river to see her dog swim, and he was so well pleased with the swimming of the plain dog that he threw his fancy animal into the water, which was unfortunately very deep, and the fancy dog sank to the bottom like a log. Unfortunately there was no bathing suit of his size handy, so he jumped into the water, which was over his head, and by a mighty effort he saved the dog's life, though he was put to much inconvenience the rest of his visit, as he did not have an extra suit of clothes.

THE TOMCAT WON.

[Philadelphia Record.]

A boastful machinist, employed at the Jessop Steel Mill, near Washington, Pa., had the conceit taken out of him by a big tomcat one day this week. He was boasting of his strength, declaring that he could pull a horse through the waters of Chartiers Creek. Superintendent Wilson, of the mill, offered to bet $10 that he couldn't pull a cat through the water from bank to bank. The bet was taken, a big, black tomcat was secured at a nearby house, and 200 mill workers gathered at the creek to see the test of strength. The machinist was on one side of the creek with one end of a rope and the cat and the spectators were on the other. The rope was tied around the cat, and, when all was in readiness the word was given and the tug-of-war was on. The machinist held his own for a moment, and then, with a mighty heave against the straining hemp, the cat pulled him into the water.

COCKTAIL FAD IN ROME.

[New York Press.]

Just because, so the story runs, the wife of Ambassador White stopped her carriage outside of a Roman cafe one afternoon and ordered a cocktail to be brought out to her, that purely American drink has become a great favorite in the Italian capital. Cocktails have quite overshadowed the English "afternoon tea" as a refreshment while taking an afternoon drive, and the curious thing about this new fad of the Roman ladies is that they have the drinks brought out to them from the cafes as they sit in their carriages at the curb. A former head waiter in the Waldorf in this city, who returned to Rome recently with the idea of running a cafe on American lines, hit that city just at the outbreak of the cocktail fad, and he is said to be making a fortune owing to the superiority of the brand of these drinks he turns out from his establishment.

NICHOLASVILLE LID PUT ON IN EARNEST

SUNDAY LAW GIVEN MOST RIGID ENFORCEMENT.

LIGHT PLANT CLOSED, LEAVING CITY IN DARKNESS.

JUDGE PHILLIPS COMMENDED.

Nicholasville, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—The Sunday law was strictly enforced here yesterday. Barbershops, meat stores and restaurants were closed, and no ice was sold or delivered. County Judge Phillips recently conferred with a committee of ministers in regard to enforcing the law, and as a result of the conference the lid was put on yesterday. The town was in darkness last night, as the electric light plant was not in operation. After the publication of the statute with reference to the Sunday law, the Mayor and City Council ordered the power house closed on Sunday. People were ignorant of such an order until time for the lights to be turned on, and were thus put to some inconvenience. At the union services at the Methodist Episcopal church, South, last night, the Judge was commended for the stand he has taken to enforce the law.

Marriage License Refused.

St. Louis, Mo., July 9.—[Special.]—Samuel Hughes, of Morganfield, Ky., and Laura Workmen, of Williamson, W. Va., were refused marriage license in the County Clerk's office owing to their youthful appearance.

LITTLE WORK ON OHIO FALLS

Bad Weather and Eight-Hour Law Are Blamed.

Report of Engineer On Improvements Here.

Estimates On Cost of Completion of Project.

DETAILS WHAT IS TO BE DONE.

Washington, July 9.—[Special.]—Bad weather and the operations of the eight-hour law are held responsible for delay in the improvement of the falls of the Ohio river at Louisville. The annual report of the chief engineer on the improvement of the falls was made public at the War Department to-day.

The chief of engineers estimate that $429,215.99 will be necessary to complete the project as planned. On July 1 the balance expended was $348,483. Including the $314,000 appropriated in the last River and Harbor Bill, $1,982,498 has been appropriated since the beginning of the project.

* * *

Unfinished Work.

As reported by Capt. Harry Burgess, United States Engineer in charge of the work on the falls, White river in Indiana, Wabash river, and certain rivers in Kentucky, the work remaining to be done includes:

First—The excavation of rock on the north side of the enlargement at the head of the canal; the estimated quantities remaining to be done are 5,000 cubic yards solid rock to be disrupted and removed by dredging, and 25,000 cubic yards to be removed by dredging.

Second—New wall south side of canal.

Third—Submerged stone dam at whirlpool point.

* * *

Must Replace Dam.

Fourth—Replacing 650 linear feet of existing boule dam immediately north of the upper end of the north wall of the Louisville and Portland canal, having its crest eight feet, upper canal gauge, with a new section of the same type of dam, but with a crest elevator of 12.7 feet, upper canal gauge; estimated cost $31,000 provided for in last bill.

Fifth—Construction of 500 linear feet of boule dam in middle chute, elevation of crest, provided for in last bill.

Sixth—Construction of 1,000 feet of boule dam with crest elevation of nine feet, upper canal gauge, between middle and Indiana chutes.

Seventh—Construction of 648 linear feet of chanoine dam in Indiana chute with crest of nine feet upper canal gauge.

Eighth—Construction of 600 linear feet of concrete dam between Indiana chute and the north bank of the river.

* * *

Unexpected Conditions.

"Upon the passage of the last Rivers and Harbors Bill," says Capt. Burgess, "all plans were made in anticipation of beginning the work immediately upon the occurrence of a favorable stage of river. The section of boule dam north of the canal can be done when the upper canal gauge is between six and seven feet and with the average spring conditions this section would have been completed before June 30. But the last three months brought almost continuous rains, and while the cofferdam was started in May the coffer is not complete and no work has been done on the dam. Several other conditions besides those imposed by the river and weather will operate to retard the progress of the work.

* * *

Effect of Eight-Hour Law.

"Among these may be mentioned provisions of the eight-hour law prohibiting workmen from rendering more than eight hours' service even if they are willing to work more hours and receive additional pay therefor. This is a serious drawback to rapid and economical progress of construction when labor is scarce and the working season short. It is extremely difficult to obtain sufficient labor to work even two shifts and not at all probable that three shifts can be secured.

"The completion of the rock excavation at head of canal is to be done by canal dredges when the stage of water is favorable. It was expected to start dredges in May, but repeated rises have made it necessary to clear the canal of mud."

Pittsburg Report Forwarded.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 9.—[Special.]—Maj. Henry C. Newcomer, United States engineer in charge of the Government work of this district, forwarded to Washington to-night the annual report of the work of this district. As the work involves great sums of money appropriated by Congress, and as the report contains some interesting statistics of the tonnage of every dam of the district, the contents of the document will be read by rivermen with interest when it becomes public. Maj. Newcomer will withhold the report until it has reached the officials at Washington.

MAN AND HORSE KILLED BY FAST-GOING TRAIN.

Seymour, Ind., July 9.—[Special.]—George Nentrup, a prominent farmer and ex-soldier, aged sixty-five, was struck by a Pennsylvania engine on the crossing at Jonesville, seven miles north of Seymour, at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The man and horse were hurled several feet. Both were killed instantly.

BROTHERS MEET

Separated In Infancy By Divorce of Parents.

OLDER BOY IN CUSTODY OF SHERIFF AT PRESENT.

CHILDREN BECOME FRIENDS IMMEDIATELY.

MOTHER WANTS BOTH OF THEM

For the first time since they became old enough to understand things Hammon M. Walker, who will be eleven years old on his next birthday, and Willie D. Walker, who will soon be nine, came face to face yesterday at the residence of Sheriff John S. Pernett, in Jeffersonville. They were soon on terms of intimacy and no one could have told but what they had been together all their lives. Willie Walker is being held awaiting the result of a habeas corpus proceeding filed by his mother, Mrs. Isabelle Smith, of Greensburg, Ind., against George Morris and Ellen Morris, of Sellersburg, to gain custody of her son. The hearing will be had on Saturday.

At the death of her husband, some eight years ago, Mrs. Smith gave her youngest son, who was then only a baby, to the defendants under an agreement, according to the complaint, that the boy was to go back to his mother when she believed she was able to take care of him. Two years ago this month Mrs. Walker married John Simon Smith, of Greensburg, who became greatly attached to the older son of his wife and about a year ago decided he would like to have the younger boy also, but Morris, so she asserts, could not be located. Six months ago a search was begun and recently a brother of Smith met Morris at Sellersburg.

Smith then paid Morris a visit and, as he puts it, tried to buy the boy, offering $15 for him and authorizing his wife to pay $10 more if it was found necessary. Morris said he would not give the child up for $5,000. This was too steep for Smith and he decided to go into court and his wife filed the habeas corpus proceeding last Saturday. The child was taken charge of by Charles D. Pernett, a Deputy Sheriff, who went to Sellersburg after him and had considerable trouble, he says, in getting him. Since then the boy has been at the home of Sheriff Pernett.

Yesterday Smith decided to come to Jeffersonville and see the boy, and brought his brother along. Both children are exceedingly bright and the Greensburg boy insisted his brother must go home with him, but the latter said he could not do so, because he was working for Sheriff Pernett and could not leave until he secured his permission. Smith brought with him letters of recommendation from the Mayor of Greensburg and a number of the leading citizens of that city.

NOTES OF THE NEWS OF JEFFERSONVILLE

—On a complaint sworn out by Mattie McLean in Magistrate Benjamin J. Ferguson's court, George Brown was fined $1 and costs yesterday on the charge of provoke.

—Walter Amos, Roy Perkins and Carl Pruit, all from Howard county, arrived at the Indiana Reformatory yesterday to serve from one to eight years each on conviction on the charge of petit larceny.

—The Apollo Athletic Association, composed of a number of young society men, has completed its arrangements for giving the third annual moonlight excursion on the steamer Columbia one week from to-night.

—Mrs. Devore Biel, who was at the Deaconess Hospital for treatment and recovered sufficiently to return to her home in New Albany, is again very ill, and is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Devore Broy, in this city.

—Vivian Wilson, a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fielding L. Wilson, sustained a bad dislocation to her right elbow yesterday while playing at her home on East Maple street, by tripping on a grapevine, which caused her to fall to the ground.

—Dr. I. N. Ruddell was called to Charlestown yesterday for a consultation with Dr. C. M. Bottorff, on the condition of the youngest daughter of W. F. Boyer, Town Marshal, and a member of the Board of Review. It is believed the girl has typhoid fever.

—James Wacker, the well-known ball pitcher, who was attacked by appendicitis while with the Evansville team, of the Central League, and submitted to an operation, has arrived home to recuperate, but will not be in a condition to go into the box for some time.

—Charles Schiefler was fined $25 and costs in the City Court yesterday morning on the charge of selling ten cents' worth of beer to a minor. His mother, Mrs. Margaret Schiefler, against whom a similar charge is pending, was ill and could not appear in court.

—The question of asking the City Council to pass an ordinance regulating the sale of ice by weight is again being agitated, it being alleged that the size of the pieces sold for a stipulated sum vary according to the weather conditions.

—Michael Welsh, a guard at the Indiana Boys' School, arrived from Plainfield yesterday and returned Ben Allen to the institution, he having been arrested on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon while out on parole.

—Harvey Wilson, a Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad fireman, who was hurt in a wreck at Huron three month ago and afterward developed typhoid fever, is to be given a position in the local yards, as he has never fully recovered from his hurts or his illness.

—A bad case of typhoid fever has been developed by Mrs. Scott O'Neal, who previous to her marriage on June 17 was Miss Georgia Robbins, and she has been removed from her home on East Front street to the residence of her uncle, George Baker, on Pearl street.

—The Board of Review yesterday afternoon made a trip over the city in a carriage looking at the real estate on which appeals from the assessments have been made. The board had a number of small taxpayers before it yesterday. Friday will be the last day for the session.

—A motion has been made in the Supreme Court to reject the appellant's application for a rehearing in the action of the State of Indiana, ex. rel. Henry Knoblock, against George B. Parks, Auditor of Clark county, a suit to collect money under a contract to act as a tax ferret.

—Stephen Whitlow has given notice that at the August meeting of the Board of County Commissioners he will apply for a license to sell intoxicating liquors at 241 Spring street, from which place Stephen Freund recently moved to locate on Court avenue, between Spring and Wall streets.

—Thomas J. Brock, a member of the Clark county bar, and family have gone to Jennysville, Wis., and from there will go to Benton Harbor, Mich., for a stay. The trip is being made on account of Mr. Brock's son, Byron Brock, who had a severe attack of typhoid fever and suffered a relapse.

—The enumeration of voters in this county, which has just been completed, when compared with that of 1901, shows that the total number of voters in the county was 8,780 as against 7,132 in 1907. In Jeffersonville township, at the election last November, the total number of votes cast was 3,346, while the enumeration gives the voting population as 3,296.

—Not knowing the case had been dismissed, Harry E. Barnard, chief of the division of chemistry of the Indiana State Board of Health, and A. W. Bruner, an inspector, came from Indianapolis yesterday to testify in the action of the State of Indiana against Alva Wellman, who was charged with selling adulterated butter, which an analysis showed to be pure.

—Residents of Court avenue, near Wall street, yesterday complained to Capt. Clegg that the express drivers, who have been given a stand on the north side of the first-named thoroughfare, where there are no houses, had crossed over to the south side and were causing considerable annoyance. They were ordered to return where they belonged under penalty of arrest.

—Louis Rose, who is completing a sentence at the county jail on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill on Irvin Floyd, was prostrated by the heat yesterday while acting as a trusty, and for a time it was feared he could not survive. Sheriff Pernett and others gave him attention, and Dr. W. M. Varble was called. Last night he was pronounced out of danger.

TO CLAIM OFFICE

Roy L. White Returns Home From Nebraska.

QUALIFIES AT ONCE AS COUNTY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

DRAWING ADDED TO CURRICULUM OF HIGH SCHOOL.

ALL VACANCIES SUPPLIED.

Roy L. White, who was elected County Superintendent of Schools at New Albany last week, arrived yesterday morning from Nebraska, where he had been prospecting for several weeks, not knowing that he had been elected to a lucrative office until notified by wire. He qualified yesterday, giving bond of $5,000 in the office of County Auditor Thomas Hanlon, and will assume the duties of the place at once. He will be recognized as County Superintendent of Schools by the Board of County Commissioners, and also, it is understood, by Fassett A. Cotton, State Superintendent of Instruction.

Mr. White's claim to the office will be contested by Prof. Levi H. Scott, who has been County Superintendent of Schools for the last ten years, and who asserts that no vacancy existed when Melbert Williams, who was elected the first Monday in June, failed to qualify. It is probable that the contest will be taken into the courts and may result in a long and expensive law suit.

DRAWING IN HIGH SCHOOL.

Added To Curriculum By Board of Trustees.

The Board of Trustees of the public schools has added to the High School curriculum that of drawing, as required under the provisions of a law enacted by the last Legislature of Indiana. Miss Helen Balch has been appointed by the board supervisor of drawing. She is a graduate of the Wisconsin State Normal School and of the Pratt Institute, New York. For two years she taught in the graded schools at Sheboygan, Wis., and she has since been spervisor of drawing and manual training work, at the State Deaf and Dumb Institute at Milwaukee.

The board has also appointed C. F. Williamson, colored, as principal of the Oldenstreet school, and Lavinia B. Snead teacher in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades of the Scribner High School, colored. These appointments filled out all the vacancies among the teachers of the New Albany schools.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN NEW ALBANY.

—Mrs. John H. Belvois, who has been quite ill of typhoid fever at her home on West Ninth street, is somewhat improved.

—Dr. E. R. Perry, manager of Glenwood Park and of the Glenwood baseball team, went to Cincinnati yesterday on a business trip.

—City Clerk John C. Short and family returned yesterday from Knoxville, Tenn., where they had been spending a few days with relatives.

—A number of members of New Albany Lodge of Elks went to Jeffersonville last night to attend a social session given by the lodge at that place.

—Mr. and Mrs. John E. Crane will leave to-morrow for St. Paul, Minn., where they will spend the summer with their daughter, Mrs. Edward Reineking.

—William B. Hardy has been elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of T. E. Crawford.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bareford and Mrs. Cash Pickler left yesterday for the West. They will visit relatives in St. Louis and Kansas City for several weeks.

—Lawrence Merl, who has been spending several months in San Antonio, Tex., returned home yesterday. He had been there for the benefit of his health and is greatly improved.

—Miss Alma Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Reed, of the Silver Hills, west of the city, has returned from Macon, Ga., where she had been visiting friends for several weeks.

—A number of young men and boys of the Third Presbyterian church have organized Castle Sterling, Knights of King Arthur, which starts out with more than fifty charter members.

—Mrs. H. L. Meinhardt and her daughter, Miss Bertha Meinhardt, will leave today for New York and will sail from that port on July 16 for Germany, where they will remain several months.

—George Dodge, owner of a traction engine, was arrested by Patrolmen Fess and Tether for violating the city ordinance which prohibits the running of a traction engine across an asphalt street. He was tried in the City Court and fined $6.

—Deputy County Auditor Julian Miller and Guy McPherson left last night for the East, to be gone ten days. They will visit the Jamestown Exposition, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and the seaside resorts along the New Jersey shore.

—Sam Franklin and John Clark, arrested yesterday by Patrolman Seery on a charge of engaging in a fight on State street, entered a plea of not guilty before Magistrate Fogle and were held in bond for their appearance to answer next Thursday.

—Misses Maude, Mary and Genevieve O'Donnell, Florence Reasor, Edith Doherty, Bertha Beck, Lillian Howley and Kate Herter compose a party that left yesterday for a ten-days' stay at Grayson Springs. They will visit Mammoth Cave while away.

—Charles Umbreit was fined $9.80 in Magistrate Fogle's court yesterday for using profane language. The complaint was filed by Jacob Green, and Umbreit filed a cross complaint, to which Green entered a plea of not guilty. His case was set for trial Friday.

—A party of Y. M. C. A. boys under the leadership of W. G. Paige will go into camp on the hills near the city Thursday night. Supper will be cooked over a camp fire, the boys will roll in blankets and sleep on the ground, returning Friday morning in ample time to go to work.

—The funeral of John Andrew Gebhart, who committed suicide Sunday morning, took place yesterday afternoon at his home on West Ninth street, near Floyd. The services were conducted by the Rev. Frank T. Porter, pastor of the Park Christian church, and the burial was in Fairview cemetery.

—James Bixler was arrested by Patrolman Walls on a charge of having beaten a boarding-house keeper out of a $5 board bill. He was arraigned in Magistrate Fogle's court, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $8.80, which he paid. He then settled the board bill, disclaiming any intention to defraud anyone.

—Members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. have passed the international Bible examinations as follows: George Stephens, Robert Coleman, John Hunlow and Wilbur Reid. Two boys, William Frederick and Burdette King, received certificates for successfully passing the examinations in English and arithmetic.

—Misses Eva Matheney and Alinda Fleischer, teachers in the public schools of the city, have gone to Winona, where they will take a course of study in the summer school. Miss Fleischer, who is primary supervisor of the city schools, will take a course under Miss Eliza Blaker, president of the Indiana Primary Normal Training School.

—Officers have been elected by Ponemah Haymakers of Greenville as follows: Chief Haymaker, Bert Mundy; Assistant Chief, Melbert Williams; Past Chief, F. W. Reisert; Farmer, Charles Ingram; Guard of the Hayloft, Walter Ollis; Guard of the Bardyard, N. W. Byrne; Chief Driver, A. J. Dewitt; Collector of Straws, Elmore Morris; Keeper of Bundles, M. A. Thomas.

—Joseph E. Lloyd has been elected lay delegate from Wesley Chapel to the meeting of delegates to be held at Columbus, Ind., in September, with Philip Diefenbach alternate. At this meeting seven lay delegates will be elected to represent the Indiana M. E. conference at the general conference to be held in Baltimore in May, 1908. Mr. Lloyd was also elected superintendent of Wesley Chapel Sunday-school. Walter I. Gaugh was elected assistant superintendent.

—Transfers of property have been filed for record in the office of the County Recorder as follows: Johanne Fronmiller to John Seebach, lot 55, Charles street, plat 63, $700; Margaret J. Loesch to Wm. H. Huntsinger, lot 21, McLean avenue, plat 327, $1,000; Bridget E. Burke to Jacob S. Emery, part of lot 10, Beeler street, plat 329, $200; John D. Beck to Mary J. Beck, land in 32-1-6, $200; Katherine Tchenlein to Amelia Atkins, land in 11-2-6, $400; Bernard J. Smith to Elizabeth McCutcheon, 4 acres, in 36-1-5, $45; John K. Main to H. E. Jewett, lot 20, Highland avenue, $100; David Sutherland to Alice B. Devol, lot 4, plat 330, Silver Grove, $1,000; Lawrence Tucker to Alexander Zintz, lot 73, Conti street, plat 30, $100; Newland T. Some of the Uses of Spaghetti
How many recipes do you know for cooking Spaghetti—two or three? That's about the average number the great majority of housewives know. As a matter of fact Spaghetti harmonizes well with almost any food—meat, game, fish, vegetables, eggs, cheese and mushrooms. Buy a package of and try it with this recipe you will be delighted and surprised with its goodness. The recipe here given is only one of twenty-three given in our free booklet—it's yours for the asking. Send for it—you won't be happy till you have tried every recipe given. Then you will devise new dishes of your own with FAUST Brand Spaghetti as a base.
Sold by nearly all grocers in 5 and 10 cent packages.
MAULL BROTHERS, St. Louis, Mo.

RECIPE
FAUST SPAGHETTI Au Gratin
Melt one tablespoonful of butter without browning, add one tablespoonful of flour, mix until smooth, add one cup of cream and stir until it thickens, season with salt and pepper. Just as you take it from the fire stir in quickly the yolk of one egg. Do not let the sauce stand on the fire after the egg has been added or it will curdle. Boil eight ounces of Faust Spaghetti in plenty of salted boiling water, drain and blanch; melt four ounces of cheese with two tablespoonfuls of butter. Grease a baking dish and fill with alternate layers of spaghetti and sauce. Pour the melted butter and cheese over the top that it may penetrate the whole dish. Cover with bread crumbs and brown in a quick oven.

The free book entitled "Spaghetti and Some of Its Uses" may be had from your grocer or by writing direct to us.

DEFAULTING CASHIER MAKING REPARATION

EX-OFFICIAL OF NEWPORT BANK REFUNDING MONEY.

NOW HOLDS A RESPONSIBLE POSITION IN HONDURAS.

WILL HANDLE NO MONEY.

Cincinnati, O., July 9.—[Special.]—"Frank Brown, who, as cashier of a Newport bank, was a defaulter to the extent of $192,000, is endeavoring to make reparation insofar as he can by sending money to the widows who lost through his transactions."

This statement was made in the law offices of Stricker & Johnson Tuesday by one of their clients, who, just home from Honduras, was a guest of the former Newport man the greater part of a day in that country.

"Mr. Brown," so the traveler said, "is regarded as one of the best men in Honduras. He is head bookkeeper for one of the largest fruit-raising and exporting firms in that country. He is trusted implicitly. He spoke of Cincinnati, Newport and Covington, and says if he lives long enough he hopes to pay his debts. Mr. Brown's employer told me that Frank is a splendid employe.

"One of Frank's employers told us that before they knew Brown's identity he attracted their attention by calling at their office for news. He was offered a position as bookkeeper and accepted with the stipulation that he should not be asked to handle money, and then revealed his identity. Before taking the position Brown said that he made $2,500 gambling and sent the money to Newport to pay several widows whose money he had taken. Brown regrets that he was compelled to leave his native land a fugitive, but as matters now stand he does not expect to return to the United States."

Owner of Winner Presents Jockey With One Thousand-dollar Bill For His Fine Ride.

TAYLOR AND AUSTIN IN BAD.

LATONIA SELECTIONS.

First Race—Mattie Mack, Tsara, Sorrel Top.
Second Race—Margaret Randolph, Sabado, Ed Kane.
Third Race—Carthage, La Veita, Lexoline.
Fourth Race—Class Leader, Pete Vinegar, Blue Pirate.
Fifth Race—Devout, Paul, Florizel.
Sixth Race—Woolstone, County Clerk, Blaze o' Light.
Two best bets—Margaret Randolph, Carthage.

CINCINNATI, O., July 9.—[Special.]—Chulita, a brown filly, by Kingston—Concertina, this afternoon, sporting the canary and purple of Alex Labold, Cincinnati's popular sportsman, won the Cincinnati Trophy, for two-year-old fillies and colts, with a value of $3,960, and the Fleischmann Cup, donated by ex-Mayor Julius Fleischmann, of Cincinnati, in hollow style, defeating R. C. Rann and Cloyne.

The victory was a most popular one, for Alex Labold belongs to the old-time Cincinnati sportsman. Among the crowd to which Labold always belonged was Charles Fleischmann, Henry Ziegler and a host of others that race their horses for the sport of it. Labold has not been on the turf for several years; in fact, it has been just twenty years ago this spring when his colt Montrose carried the purple and canary to victory in the Kentucky Derby and then ran third in the Latonia Derby.

It has been Labold's one desire to win the Cincinnati Trophy, the cup more than the purse, for it is given annually by his friend, Julius Fleischmann. The cup was first given by Charles Fleischmann, and since his death has been perpetuated by his son, Julius. With the Cincinnati Trophy in view, Labold purchased this filly at Hot Springs and put her in the hands of W. J. Young, the owner of The Abbott. Chulita was taken to Canada and won a couple of races and was then shipped here Sunday for this race, Dave Nicol coming on to ride her. It was a spirited race, and Nicol's jockeyship had much to do with Chulita's victory.

Always alert at the post, Nicol got the filly off in a good position, and, laying behind Joe Moser until straightened out in the stretch, came on and won easily by three lengths. R. C. Rann was a half a length in front of Cloyne, who just nosed out the fast-tiring Joe Moser for the show money. Joe Moser was off well, and Lee sent his mount out into a long lead and stayed there throughout until the stretch was reached, when Nicol passed him. From then on to the wire it was only a good romp for the little brown filly.

Nicol came here especially to ride in this race, and was presented with a thousand-dollar bill by Col. Alex Labold in appreciation of the good ride.

The big stick of Judge Hopper descended, and T. Taylor will not ride at this track for some time, or rather until the judges decide that he is entitled to take mounts. This action came about on Taylor's ride on Barnsdale, a hot favorite, in the second race. Barnsdale got off rather poorly, but the judges did not think that Taylor showed enough vigor in his ride to entitle him to ride longer. He was suspended indefinitely.

Austin also felt the judicial ruling and will not ride for a week. Austin had the mount on The Clansman in the fifth race, and bumpd into Old Honesty, also striking him with his whip.

* * *

Long Shot Takes Opener.

In the first event a number of two-year-olds were brought together that had never before faced the starter. Gratiot, from the Hayes stable, was made the favorite, opening at 3 to 1. No liberties were taken with the Respess colt, Wes Wilson, and no better than 7 to 1 was laid against him. Belarius opened up at 4 to 1, but was backed into favoritism toward post time, the price being 13 to 5. L. C. Widrig was well played around 8 and 9. Widrig got off in the lead and was never headed, winning easily by two lengths. Belarius was second, half a length in front of Lep Godchauz, the former was always well up in front, while the latter, due to the ability of Nicol to get away from the post, rated along in second place most of the way, but the Cook colt quit and just got the show, being a head in front of Bitter Gold.

* * *

Oak Grove Scores One.

In the second race a fair lot of selling platers were thrown together and Barnsdale was made a red-hot favorite, opening up at 6 to 5 and staying at that price throughout the betting. Haughty was second choice, opening up at 3 to 1 and closing at 16 to 5. Oak Grove, the winner, opened up at 12 to 1 and went up to 25. Minos was the other horse in the race that was well played, though the price went up from 3 to 6. There was nothing to the race but Oak Grove, for Ott got the Ferris horse off winging and won in the easiest kind of manner by four lengths. Husted, a 12 to 1 shot, ran second most of the way and got the place, being a length and a half in front of Potter, who got off badly, but closed strong and got the show money. Barnsdale was never much of an important factor, a bad start ruining his chances.

* * *

Nicol and Goldproof.

The third event brought together the best sprinters in the West and, with Nicol piloting the old reliable Goldproof, the bookies were afraid to take any liberties with the old Pugh horse and they opened him at even money. The price finally went up and settled at 3 to 2. Colloquy was made the second choice at 8 and 4 to 1, with Fronteanc third at 6, being backed down to 5 just at the close. Colloquy got the best of the start and proceeded to set a hot pace, with Goldproof laying back in a good position. Turning into the stretch Colloquy was two lengths to the good of Goldproof. Nicol clucked to his mount and away sprinted Goldproof and won in handy style by a length and a half. Colloquy was tiring fast, but lasted just long enough to stall off Frontenac, who had run in third position all the way.

* * *

Running of the Stake.

Always favorite in the betting, the Young entry, consisting of Chulita and Moquette, opened up at 2 to 1, but were backed down to 8 to 5. Joe Moser opened up at the same price as the entry, but went up to 3 to 1. R. C. Rann and Cloyne were the other liked horses and were held at 6 and 7. Cloyne broke first when the barrier was sprung, with Dr. Mathews second and Joe Moser third. Lee sent the Respess colt out into the lead and he set a warm pace for three furlongs, but when Chulita, who had been laying back first in third position and then in second, came on with a rush, the Respess colt had nothing left to stall her off and the Labold filly won by three lengths. R. C. Rann got off well and closed fast, but had no chance to catch Chulita. Cloyne was always well up, though tiring slightly in the stretch, but had enough left to beat out Joe Moser by a head.

* * *

Old Honesty a Surprise.

Old Honesty surprised not only the general public, but the bookies and everybody else by winning at a mile and a sixteenth, beating Monsignor and The Clansman. Monsignor was made a warm favorite, opening up at 8 to 5 and staying at that price throughout the betting. Miss Lida was a warm second choice, opening up at 8 and going a point higher. The Clansman was quoted at 5 to 1, with Redgauntlet and Old Honesty as the longest shots in the race. Redgauntlet got away first, but could not hold the lead. The Clansman beating the Hayes horse to the turn and going out in the lead, stayed there until the half-mile pole was reached. Here Old Honesty, who had been following two lengths behind The Clansman, moved up and took the lead and was never headed, winning easily by three lengths. Monsignor was third all the way to the stretch, where he came on and got the place, beating out The Clansman by a head. Miss Lida was off porly and ran a very poor race, not seeming to have her usual burst of stretch speed.

Monochord At Long Price.

The sixth race brought out so many entries that it had to be divided into two races. Water Lake was made the favorite at 8 to 5 and stayed at that price throughout the betting. Miss Hawley was second choice, opening at 5 and going to 7. There was a decided plunge on Rebounder, which was given out for a good thing, and the price was forcved down from 10 to 8. Spendthrift Helen set the pace for about a third of the journey and then quit. Monochord was following in behind and when Helen tired took the lead and was never headed, winning by a length and a half. Water Lake laid 'way behind in the early running, but moved up on the back stretch and came fast in the stretch, getting the place by half a length from Rebounder. There was a bit of crowding on the far turn and Butler on Miss Hawley was pushed against the rail and his foot hslightly injured. The judges tried to find out the cause, but were unable.

* * *

Carew In Closing Race.

In the last event of the day, which was really the last half of the sixth race, Clyde and Louise Macfarlan were installed the favorites at 5 to 2, but the public evidently did not like the weight hte Ferris horse was asked to carry and his price soared to 4s. The price on Louise Macfgarlane likewise went up and as good as 5 to 1 could be had against her chances, but toward the close a heavy play caused it to drop again to 4s. A heavy play was also directed against Bendigo. The winner turned up in Carew. D. Austin had the leg up, and getting his mount off winging, he forged into a long lead and the result was never in doubt at any stage of the race, and he passed the judges' stand three lengths in front of Clyde, which rated along in second position throughout the journey and had no contenders for the place. Savoir Faire was much the best of the others and secured the small end of the purse by three lengths from Bendigo.

Widrig, off winging, was never headed. Belarius closed with a rush in the last furlong. Lep Godchaux raced along in second place, but tired in the final drive. K. Stone had a flash of speed the first part, then quit. Wes Wilson was crowded back soon after the start and had no chance after that.

2307—SECOND RACE—Six furlongs; purse $500; for three-year-olds and upward; selling. Start bad. Won easily; place driving. Winner, J. C. Ferris, Jr.'s b. f., 4, by The Roman—Rival; trained by R. Cassaday. Value to winner, $400. Fractional time: :24 2-5, :48 3-5, 1:14 1-5.

Oak Grove, off on her stride, kept a safe distance all the way and drew away in the run home. Husted, close up at all stages, easily held the others safe for the place. Potter ran a good race from a poor beginning. Minos tired badly in the closing strides. Haughty was unable to untrack herself and was not a factor at any part of ther ace.

2308—THIRD RACE—Six furlongs; purse $600; for three-year-olds and upward; fre handicap. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Winner, C. E. Hamilton's ch. g., 4, by Goldspinner—Glimmer Glass; trained by J. W. Hall. Value to winner, $450. Fractional time: :23 2-5, :48, 1:13 2-5.

Goldproof laid behind the pacemaker to the stretch turn, then drew away, and had something left at the finish. Colloquy forced a fast pace, but was unable to stall off the rush of the winner. Frontenac had na contenders for third place.

2309—FOURTH RACE—Five and one-half furlongs; the Cincinnati Trophy; $2,000 added; for two-year-old colts and fillies. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Winner, A. S. Labold's br. f., 2, by Kingston—Concertina; trained by W. J. Young. Value to winner, $3,690. Fractional time: :23 3-5, :47 3-5, 1:01, 1:08.

*Coupled. Added starter.

Chulita avoided the pace and came up with a well-timed drive and drew away from her company. R. C. Rann closed resolutely, but could not catch the winner. Clyne was well placed at all stages. Joe Moser tired himself out setting the pace and had nothing left for a final effort. Honest had some speed the first part, then quit.

2310—FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse $500; for three-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Winner, A. J. Gorey's b. c., 3, by Previous—Mamie Doyle; trained by owner. Value to winner, $400. Fractional time: :24, :48 3-5, 1:13 3-5, 1:40, 1:46 3-5.

Old Honesty, in a forward position throughout, walked away from his field in the last quarter. Monsignor gradually mowed down the leaders, coming from last place, and was closing fast. The Clansman forced the pace most of the way, then tired. The other two were badly outrun at all stages.

2311—SIXTH RACE—One and one-quarter miles; purse $500; for four-year-olds and upward; selling. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Winner, J. H. Baker's ch. m., a., by Kantaka—Nattot; trained by E. S. Terrell. Value to winner, $400. Fractional time: :24 3-5, :49 3-5, 1:15 3-5, 1:42, 2:08 4-5.

Monochord, off well in motion, dropped back of the pace, but closed fast in the run home. Water Lake, off poorly, saved ground on the turns and gradually moved into a contending position. Rebounder tired after following the pace most of the way. Harpoon had some speed, but could not last.

2312—SEVENTH RACE—One and one-quarter miles; purse $500; for four-year-olds and upward; selling. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Winner, C. E. Patterson's ch. g., 4, by The Friar—Hanrose; trained by owner. Value to winner, $400. Fractional time: :24 3-5, :49 3-5, 1:14 4-5, 1:41, 2:08 2-5.

Carew, off on his stride, towroped his field to the wire. Clyde was always closest in pursuit and easily held the others safe for the place. Savoir Faire was crowded back soon after the start, but closed strong. Bendigo came from last place and was going fast at the end. Louise Macfarlan quit in the stretch.

CHAT OF LATONIA.

Wednesday, July 10, will be a day of suspense for the many horsemen quartered at Latonia, as their bread and butter depends upon the decision of the Kentucky Racing Commissioners. Unless the board decides to give the extension to the Latonia Jockey Club there is no telling what will become of a great number of horse owners, as their all depends upon a place to race their horses. In making the rounds of stables this morning the main topic of conversation was, "What will we do if the meeting is not extended? There is no track we can ship to, and if there was, more than one-half of the owners have no money to pay the freight on their horses." The feedman has to be settled with, and a number are deeply in debt to him. Only a person on the grounds can have any idea how much suffering there will be among the poorer class of horsemen. The horses will have to be thrown out of training and it will take weeks of hard work to get them back in condition. A number are just rounding to form and they now have an excellent chance of winning a purse, but if they are compelled to lie idle there is little chance for them to earn enough to ship to the winter meetings.

The meeting has been the best for a number of years, free from scandal; as presiding judge E. C. Hopper and Associate Judge John B. Dillon have let nothing escape their eyes. The steeplechase riders have been the only ones to have a shadow thrown over them, and it is still a question whether there was a job in the Class Leader event or whether it was the heavy impost assigned the Noble entry which stopped Dell Leath and his stable mate. The judges are in the best position to decide that question, and every fair-minded person cannot help but admit that they have done everything in their power to make the "sport of the kings" here the cleanest in the country.

The rough riding has almost stopped, as the guilty ones are heavily fined when caught in the act, J. Lee getting his on Monday. No favorites are played by the judges, as they all look alike to them when guilty.

The attendance has been good and many new faces are seen daily at the Milldale course. Horsemen who have been racing on the Canadian circuit are beginning to ship their stables to this point, as the tracks close there in a short time. Several have arrived in the past few days.

* * *

Belarius ran as if he was sore. He ran about fifty yards through the stretch, then stopped, then came again and stopped. It was ascertained after the race that the colt was cut just above the hock, which was done in his work.

* * *

The books had almost a clean sheet in the second event, as none of the choices landed in the money. Oak Grove was entirely overlooked.

* * *

Chulita proved to be as game as a pebble. She was interfered with at the stable turn, then came on and won as she pleased. The filly was bought by Barney Dreyfus and Alex Labold expressly to win the Cincinnati Trophy. She will be shipped back to Buffalo, where she is entered in a stake race. After the race Alex S. Labold called everybody near him into the bar and the champagne flowed like water. No person was barred, even to the rubbers and stable hands. The clubhouse stunt came in afterward, and from the way corks were popping a person would have thought the Fourth of July had returned. J. C. Milam, who finished second, remarked to W. J. Young, the trainer: "I wish you had stayed in Buffalo." Like a true sportsman, he congratulated Mr. Labold and Trainer Young, saying, "the best horse won and I am not disgraced by running second to such a grand filly." Mr. Labold values the cup highly and said he would not take $5,000 for it. The net value to the winner was $3,690, besides the handsome cup donated by the Hon. Julius Fleischman, the most beautiful that skilled workmanship could make. Dave Nicol, who rode the winner, came in for a great reception when he returned to weigh out after the race.

* * *

D. Austin was set down for one week for rough riding in the fifth race on The Clansman.

* * *

T. Taylor received indefinite suspension for his ride on Barnsdale and other races, which have not been satisfactory to the judges.

* * *

A. J. Corey has taken a pointer from the article published in the Courier-Journal and is now training his horse in the right way. He won two purses with Old Honesty and L. C. Wedrig, both horses winning in handy fashion. As stated in this paper, Old Honesty is without a doubt the best horse running at Latonia or in the Middle West at the present day.

* * *

Jockey Brandt has gone to Buffalo. Jim Baker, to whom he is under contract, has gone to New York to purchase some yearlings.

Joe Hawkins will ship to Lexington on Saturday. He intends to turn out Wing Ting, Margaret Randolph, Dunvegan, Mary Talbot and Manchester.

The Latonia management will not discontinue the jumping races, as was intimated after the last steeplechase affair. One is down for decision to-morrow. McClure and Powers, who were suspended for bad rides, will appeal to the Executive Committee of the Latonia Jockey Club for reinstatement. In addition to the steeplechase to-morrow, the card is fairly good, the feature being a purse race at six furlongs. The most likely winners are Sorrel Top, Sabado, Carthage, Blue Pirate, Albert Fir and Woolstone.

W. A. Hughes & Co. added Frank Bird to the Trophy Stakes. He carried 108 pounds and was ridden by Powers. W. H. Fizer decided at the last minute not to start Ed Kane in the Trophy Stakes.

J. T. Clay decided not to start Marcus Aurelius in the Trophy Stakes. He could not secure a good rider. This left eleven starters, and the Young entry was a slight favorite in the betting.

BOONVILLE TO HAVE ITS FIRST HORSE SHOW.

Boonville, Ind., July 9.—[Special.]—Everything is in readiness here for the horse show to be held July 10, and from indications at this time it seems that the affair will be one of the most successful events of its kind ever held in Southern Indiana, if not in the whole State.

The show will be the first in Boonville's history, and if the plans of the managers are carried out it is believed the horse show will eclipse anything of its kind in this section.

CLASS TELLS IN GOLF GAME

Prominent Players Do Well In Qualifying Round of Big Match.

BYERS SURPRISE OF THE DAY.

National Champion Takes Many Strokes For His Round, But May Yet Qualify.

HUNDRED TURN IN CARDS.

CLEVELAND, O., July 9.—One hundred and two golfers, making up what is regarded as the best field that ever has been shown at a national amateur tournament, played the first eighteen holes to-day in the qualifying rounds for the national amateur championship over the Euclid links. One hundred turned in cards.

To-morrow the second eighteen holes will be played, the thirty-two lowest scores qualifying for the match beginning Thursday. Class showed to-day. With weather conditions almost perfect for good golf there were few surprises, and with one or two exceptions the players who were regarded as sure to qualify for the championship made good scores.

So good was to-day's play, in fact, that it looks as though it would take a score better than 165 for the thirty-six holes to qualify. Thirty-two cards of 82 or under were turned in, with ten only one stroke more than that, and with ten more of 84 or 85. Bogey for the course is 77, and seven players succeeded in beating that figure.

The lowest scores of the day were made by Walter E. Egan, of Exmoor, Chicago; Walter J. Travis, the Garden City veteran, and Fred Herreshoff, also of Garden City, each making a 75. Close behind them were Ned Sawyer, of Wheaton, Western champion; W. T. West, of Philadelphia; Thomas M. Sherman, Sadaquada Club, and W. T. Whittemore, of Brookline, a former Harvard baseball star, each making the course in 76, while Jerome D. Travers, of Montclair, had 78 and Chandler Egan, of Exmoor; Harbal Sweger, of Toledo; Chas. A. MacDonald, of Garden City; John M. Ward, of Fox Hills, and W. C. Fownes, of Oakmont, had 79 each.

Of the thirty-two scores of 82 or better, fourteen were made by Western golfers, sixteen by Eastern players and two by Canadians. Unless the unlooked-for happens the field will probably be divided closely to those figures.

The biggest surprise of the day was furnished by National Champion Eben M. Byers, who took 85 strokes for his round. If 164 should be the high qualifying figure, and to-day's play indicates that this is not at all improbable, Byers must do better than 80 to-morrow to qualify, much less to have the honor of being among the leaders. As he has been going well under that figure in practice, however, Byers is regarded as almost sure to qualify, but by a very close margin. Play to-morrow will commence promptly at 9 o'clock.

WOMAN FRIGHTENED BY MYSTERIOUS MAN.

Bedford, Ind., July 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Will Daggy, on her way home last night from her sister's, in passing an alley, was grabbed by a tall man. She screamed wildly and struggled with the man. A party of girls who were going in the same direction a short distance ahead heard her screams and ran back to her assistance, also screaming. By this time Mrs. Daggy had broken loose from her assailant and ran to the home of her mother.

It will be noted that the mysterious man in this case is tall, answering in that respect to the description of the mysterious man who was seen by several persons in the vicinity of the fatal alley where Sarah Shafer was murdered on the night of that crime.

UGLY CHARGE BY GIRL AGAINST EDUCATOR.

Bloomington, Ind., July 9.—[Special.] A sensation was created this afternoon by the arrest of Prof. Bohannon, connected with the City High School until a few weeks ago, upon a charge of improper conduct preferred by Miss Nettie Northcutt. The girl is nineteen years old, daughter of a widow, and was one of Prof. Bohannon's scholars. Bohannon, formerly of Evansville, is about twenty-four, and has a wife and child. Bohannon was one of the leaders against the School Board in a recent High School controversy here.

Burned By Coal Oil Stove.

Jasper, Ind., July 9.—[Special.]—Aunt Bettie Anderson, of Ireland, aged seventy years, sustained serious burns on her hands and arms yesterday while throwing a coal-oil stove, which was about to explode, out of the house into the yard.

WHITNEY WINS TWO BIG RACES

Dinna Ken Easily Takes Lawrence Realization At Sheepshead Bay.

FRANK GILL FINISHES SECOND.

Stamina Runs First In the Second Part of the Double Event, Worth $10,000.

CEDERSTROME IS SET BACK.

NEW YORK, July 9.—H. P. Whitney's Dinna Ken easily won the Lawrence Realization Stakes of $16,380 at Sheepshead Bay to-day, defeating the heavily-played McGinnis colt, Frank Gill, after Peter Pan had been withdrawing owing to the track not being to his liking. Dinna Ken ran the distance, one mile and five furlongs, in 2:48. H. P. Whitney scored his second victory of the day when Stamina won the Double Event.

Cederstrome carried Miss Crawford out in the last race and finished second, but was disqualified for foul.

With flags flying an devery available space taxed to its fullest capacity, this was a gala day in the annals of Eastern racing. Long before the horses had gone to the post for the first scramble thousands upon thousands had fought and wedged their respective ways through the gates at the old Bay track.

The occasion was the wind-up of the big meeting, and the running of the second part of the Double Event, worth $10,000, for two-year-olds, at six furlongs, and the great $10,000 Realization Stakes which, for three-year-olds, at one and five-eighths miles, was devised as a sequel to the Futurity.

A jockey's duel between Miller on Scallop and Garner aboard of Montauk brought the great crowd to their feet in the day's opener. The two horses hung in the final sixteenth and it was only through Miller's superior horsemanship that Scallop won, while Montauk barely defeated Hal, with Henry up, for the place, by the same distance.

Sunglow was best of the leppers in the second, the 7 to 5 favorite having nothing more than a gallop home in front of Dick Shaw and Pigeon, which were best of the others in the order named.

The second part of the Double Event was captured by Harry Payne Whitney's Stamina, Mountain bringing the daughter of Nasturtium home an easy winner by two lengths in front of Fred Burlew's Chapultepec and John Madden's King James, which were second and third in the order named. The crack Colin, belonging to James R. Keene, did not start.

Thousands cheered Harry Payne Whitney when after taking the second part of the Double Event he came along with Dinna Ken and pulled down the great $10,000 Lawrence Realization Stakes. Again James R. Keene declined the issue, his Peter Pan remaining in the stall. Frank was second, while six lengths to the rear of the latter came Madden's Salvidere in the show.

Jockey Onley received $1,000 from "Diamond Jim" for piloting Fountainebleu to victory yesterday.

Rainey Bros. have shipped their racers to Saratoga.

F. J. Farrell has acquired Barbary Belle at a cost of $2,380. J. A. Bennett is now the owner of Castlewood.

Whatever may be the ultimate decision of the courts and the probable action of the Jockey Club, the impression is growing that there will be no meeting this year at the Empire City track. The only open time locally is in August, and horsemen are of the opinion that five weeks is too short a time in which to complete the necessary arrangements and improvements. Summaries:

LOTUS EATER FIRST.

Odds-on-Favorite Beats George S. Davis and Punky At Kenilworth.

Kenilworth Race Track, July 9.—The steeplechase game is in bad odor here. In yesterday's jumping event there were so many mishaps that little room was left to doubt the crooked intentions of certain riders. Centipede fell at the last jump, when he had the race practically won. Carola went down early. Then Tarpon followed. Richard Jr., completed the fun when he ran out at the final jump, after having been well up.

J. T. Gallagher, who claimed from John Dyment last week, has been forced by the stewards to return the filly to Mr. Dyment, owing to some irregularities in the claim. The Lockport Steeplechase, possessing a value of $700, was the star event of the afternoon. Weather clear; track fast. Results:

First Race—Five furlongs:

THE RESULTS AT WINDSOR.

Peter Sterling Beats Nat B., Fantastic and Jacomo In Feature Event.

Windsor Race Track, July 9.—The present meeting will close next Saturday. The question of asking for an extension was deemed inadvisable. Fort Erie's racing season will begin July 22.

It was necessary to destroy The Glean, which snapped a bone in one of his forelegs yesterday. The Glean was the property of George Hendrie.

J. A. Gray has purchased the bay filly, Cantless, from N. Straus.

The features of to-day's seven races were the steeplechase and the handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth. Weather clear; track fast. Results:

AMERICAN JOCKEY CREATES FURORE ABROAD

Milton Henry Playing Host To Yankee Riders and Riding Many Winners In France.

LIVING in a real French chateau in Chantilly, France, the American jockey, Milton Henry, is playing host these days to Yankee pigskin knights who are riding, every one of them with marked success, in foreign lands. Henry entertains Yankee jockeys who are riding in or visiting France, and his entertainment of the American lads is declared to be of the most hospitable character, says a special from New York.

American race-goers will recall Milton Henry as a clever rider and a lad of intelligence and honesty. With increasing weight he found it difficult to get mounts here and determined to go abroad. He rode a winner in his first essay on a French track and has since been piloting winning horses over the line with regularity. His excellent work in the saddle attracted attention and gained applause from the French racegoers and finally resulted in his services being contracted for by Baron Rothschild. Henry has already ridden the winners of the French Derby and the Grand Prix, and just before the winning of the English Derby he entertained Jocky Reiff at the Chantilly chateau and wished him good luck when Reiff started across the channel to ride Richard Croker's Orby. The world knows the result of that great English classic.

Letters received from Henry and other American jockeys proclaim the game in foreign lands to be "great," and these communications add that the field is always open for a capable but by all means honest American rider.

Milton Henry is amassing a fortune through his profession and is safeguarding the present returns for a rainy day. His wife, Mrs. Nellie Henry, is an American girl, originally hailing from this city, and is devoted to the interests of her husband and their pleasant little chateau home in La Belle France. She is described as a typical little American hostess, as returning friends to this country testify.

To a friend in this country Jockey Henry recently wrote: "Am the candy kid all right this season. I rode the winner of the French Derby and the Grand Prix, and those are the most notable events on the French turf. My pal, Johnny Reiff, spent his vacation with me before the running of the English Derby, and we all gave him a grand send off when he started for England to take the mount on Orby. We Americans were delighted when the word came that Orby had won for Big Chief Croker, and there were lots of French gentlemen of my acquaintance who declared that they shared our patriotic pleasure in the win of Orby and the combined success of Croker and Reiff. My wife is my pal—no other woman in this world for me—and she is keeping the bank roll strings tight. The French turf offers many chances for fair and square American jockeys, and I have advised several to come here. They must be on the level, for the French turf authorities are themselves honest and will tolerate nothing but the square thing. The condition of the turf is high class and usually the best horse wins. I have settled my future estates in this country for several years to come, but would be delighted to again be back among my Amergian friends and in America."

HISTORY OF THE TWO NOTABLE RACES RUN YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Lawrence Realization Stakes.

The Lawrence Realization was devised as a sequel to the Futurity. The conditions of both races were prepared by the then Secretary Lawrence, of the Coney Island Jockey Club. This big event for three-year-olds was at first called the Realization, but after the death of Mr. Lawrence was changed to its present name in his honor. It was his hope that the Futurity would attain an annual value of $100,000 and the Realization of at least half as much, but neither has ever reached the hoped-for figures. Still the Lawrence Realization ranks with our greatest races for three-year-olds and its record is as follows:

Year.	First. Jockeys.	Wt.	Second.	Wt.	Third.	Wt.	Value.	Time.
1889	Salvator (J. McL'ghlin)	122	Tenny	109	Long Dance	112	$34,100	2:51

Double Event (Second Half).

The nineteenth running of the second half of the Double Event was run yesterday afternoon at Sheepshead Bay, with Firestone, winner of the first half, an absentee because of injuries received in the Great Trial Stakes. Some great racers have won the second half, notably Russell, Hornpipe, Ornament, Hamburg, Jean Bereaud, Mesmerist and Water Pearl. The record of the race is as follows:

Year.	First. Jockeys.	Wt.	Second.	Wt.	Third.	Wt.	Value.	Time.

PICNIC PARTIES AL RAGE AT FONTAINE PERRY PARLK.

"Campers Out" Spread Their Lunches In Shade On Tables Provided By Resort Management.

Picnic parties are a the rage just now at Fontaine Ferry Park. Not a day passes but a score or more parties may be seen "camped out" on some one of the beautiful shaded lawns at "the park beautiful" with their dinner spread on the tables provided free by the management for basket parties. This has always been one of the rules of the management of Fontaine Ferry Park to make visitors who come with their dinner for a day of outing welcome to all the pleasures of the park. The tables are placed at the most desirable parts of the park and are always kept clean and inviting. Here the people are welcome and without charge, and they have not been slow to take advantage of the inducements offered them.

It would be hard to imagine a more ideal day than one spent with friends at Fontain Ferry. With no charge for entrance to the park, it is possible to spend a delightful day there seing the sights and listening to the fre concerts afternoon and evening. Then at any hour desired dinner may be spread under the trees. Surely no one could pay a visit to "the park beautiful" without returning home with praises sounding for this charming and wholly interesting resort.

CAUCUS TO-DAY NAMES MORGAN'S SUCCESSOR.

Probable There Will Be No Opposition To Mr. Bankhead.

Montgomery, Ala., July 9.—Senator W. H. Lowe, chairman of the Democratic caucus, this afternoon called a joint caucus of the House and Senate for to-morrow night to nominate a successor to Senator John T. Morgan.

There probably will be no name presented except that of Senator John H. Bankhead, appointed to fill the interim between Senator Morgan's death and the convening of the Legislature. Former Congressman Jesse F. Stallings is still a nominal candidate. Nomination by the caucus means election.

Senator Bacon Re-elected.

Atlanta, Ga., July 9.—United States Senator A. O. Bacon was re-elected today for the full term beginning March 4, 1907. Senator Bacon was nominated at the State primary last August, this session of the Legislature being the first since the primary. The Legislature will meet in joint session to-morrow to confirm to-day's action.

DEATH OF MRS. R. J. ROSS.

End Comes To Much Beloved Woman At Shelbyville.

Shelbyville, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Rebecca Johnson Ross, wife of Capt. John P. Ross, died this morning at 7:15 o'clock at the home of her son-in-law, Judge R. Frank Peak, in this city. The end was due to the infirmities of her advanced age, she being in her eighty-fifth year. Mrs. Ross was a native of Monroe county, Virginia, and, notwithstanding her advanced years, she retained full possession of all her faculties until a few hours before her death.

Mrs. Ross is survived by her husband, whom she married sixty-four years ago last December, and eight children—seven sons, C. P. Ross, a prominent merchant of Williamstown, W. Va.; N. B. Ross, of Slater, Mo.; Fletcher Ross, of Charleston, Ind.; E. C. Ross and S. F. Ross, of Oldham county; the Rev. B. J. Ross, of Walton, Ky.; L. W. Ross, County Attorney of Spencer county, Ky., and one daughter, Mrs. Peak, of this city. The remains will be taken to Lagrange for interment to-morrow.

Arm Broken In Ball Game.

Jasper, Ind., July 9.—[Special.]—During a game of baseball at Ireland yesterday between the Velpen and Ireland teams Moxie Renner, pitcher of the Ireland Club, sustained a fracture of his left arm at the wrist joint by being stepped on while trying to put a man out at the home plate.

Killed By a Falling Tree.

Maykiing, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. "Ech" Combs, aged thirty-six, a prominent mountain woman, of Smoot Creek, south of here, was killed by a falling tree during the progress of a furious storm. Not a bone in her body was broken.

COUNTY FAIR

Will Be Started To-day At Crab Orchard.

MARKS BIG SEASON OF THESE EVENTS.

FORTY-SEVEN ASSOCIATIONS TO HOLD THEM.

WILL HELP THE FAIR HERE.

Crab Orchard, July 9.—[Special.]—Crab Orchard will fire the opening gun to-morrow for all the county fair associations. For three days fine horses, fat cattle, swine and sheep, to say nothing of all the products of the varied industries of women, will be exhibited for the dwellers of Crab Orchard and the surrounding country. The opening of the fair here will be the beginning of one of the biggest seasons of county fairs which Kentucky has seen for many years. Forty-seven associations have officially announced their intention of holding fairs.

The Kentucky State Fair will be officially represented at Crab Orchard. A. R. Carothers, who has been connected for more than thirty years with the Nelson County Agricultural Association, will spend the three days of the fair here soliciting exhibits and exploiting the State Fair. It is believed that in this summer many owners of fine horses and other live stock will be interested in the big September event in Louisville.

This is only the beginning of such work of exploiting the State Fair and obtaining exhibits for it. Some member of the State Fair Board or other official will, hereafter, be at each of the county fairs as they are held. All owners of desirable stock can thus be placed in close touch with the State Fair, and can be shown the advantages of exhibiting in the biggest event of the kind to be held in the State.

The list of the fairs to be held in Kentucky during the present summer is as follows:

Crab Orchard, July 10-12.
Stanford, July 17-19.
Henderson, July 23-27.
Lancaster, July 24-26.

DARK TOBACCO MEN

Hear Addresses At Cadiz By Capt. W. J. Stone.

Cadiz, Ky., July 9.—Capt. W. J. Stone, chairman of the Lyon County Dark Tobacco Association, was here yesterday and addressed the meeting of the Trigg County Association, which was held at the courthouse in the afternoon. The people of Lyon county are prepared to build a large storage house for the handling of their tobacco next season, and Capt. Stone's mission here was to look over our storage house and the system under which it is conducted, preparatory to erecting and operating their house.

Capt. Stone said he did not see where the system of storage house could be improved upon and he asked permission of Manager Wallace Hancock to send their manager up here when they completed their house to remain a month or two to thoroughly familiarize himself with the system under which the Cadiz storage house is operated.

Capt. Stone also said that Trigg county had the reputation, wherever he had been, of being the banner county of the entire "Black Patch."

INTO TENNESSEE

Happy Pair Elopes To Have the Knot Tied.

Somerset, Ky., July 9.—Somewhat of a surprise was created here this morning when it was announced that Miss Lorene Humble, the seventeen-year-old daughter of A. R. Humble, a lumber and stave dealer, had eloped to Tennessee with Cole Coffey, a bookkeeper for a construction company now operating at Burnside, this county. They took the midnight train at this place for Helenwood, Tenn., from which point they drove to Huntsville where a marriage license was procured, and the nuptials consummated.

A telephone message to the clerk's office at Huntsville reached the clerk ten minutes after the license had been issued and the ceremony performed. The young bride was still in school frocks, and no suspicion of the elopement was felt by her parents, her father being in Cincinnati at the time. She is the eldest daughter of A. R. Humble, one of the wealthiest citizens of Somerset.

REQUISITION HONORED.

Negro Prisoner At Eddyville Goes Back To Tennessee.

Frankfort, Ky., July 9.—Gov. Beckham this morning honored a requisition from the Governor of Tennessee for the return to that State of Dick Tate, colored, now an inmate of the branch penitentiary at Eddyville.

Tate is wanted in Robertson county, Tenn., where he has been convicted of larceny and sentenced to three years' confinement in the State prison at Nashville. Tate will be released at Eddyville on Thursday next and taken in custody at the prison gates.

TRIGG COUNTY CROPS.

Reports On the Tobacco, Hay, Wheat and Corn Acreage.

Cadiz, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—From reports received from all sections of this county, it evident that not more than from 50 to 60 per cent. of the tobacco crop that was intended to have been put out this season has been set. It is so late now that it is hardly probable that any more will be put out. That which is out, however, is looking fairly well.

A few of our farmers succeeded in getting out all they had intended to, while many others have not half a crop.

The hay crop in this county is the best for years. The most of it has been cut and housed or is being gotten in this week.

The wheat crop is small, but it is thought that the yield will be fairly good per acre. The threshers are now all out, and it will be but a short while before it will all be in the house. Corn has been needing rain very badly.

DATE FOR EXECUTION.

Harrison Alexander To Be Hanged Friday, August 9.

Frankfort, Ky., July 9.—Upon the filing in the State Executive Department to-day of the mandate of the Court of Appeals affirming the death sentence imposed in the Muhlenberg Circuit Court upon one Harrison Alexander, colored, convicted of the crime of rape, Gov. Beckham fixed Friday, August 9 next, as the date of the execution.

Alexander's victim was a white woman, and State troops were called to the county to prevent mob violence to him.

DEATH OF A LOVED WOMAN.

Mrs. Callie Black Tipton Passes Away At Mt. Sterling.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Callie Black Tipton, aged sixty years, died here of rheumatism. She had been an invalid for twenty-eight years, and for years had sold trinkets for Japanese and Chinese, refusing to accept any commission for her work. The Japanese have erected a chapel and named it for her. Mrs. Tipton was the widow of Judge James Tipton, was widely known, and a lovable Christian woman. She had been a member of the Presbyterian Church for years.

NO MORE FREE LUNCHES.

Maysville Saloonmen Claim There Is No Money In Them.

Maysville, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—At a meeting of the Saloonkeepers' Protective Association here this afternoon it was decided by a unanimous vote to do away with all free lunches after next Saturday. Some time ago they raised the price of "growlers" to ten cents. They claim that there was no money in free lunches as those who got the benefit of them were the ones who usually bought only one glass of beer.

CONFEDERATE REUNION.

Many Veterans To Gather at Kuttawa On August 3.

Cadiz, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—A reunion of the surviving members of the Second Kentucky Brigade, United Confederate Veterans, will be held at Kuttawa, Ky., on Saturday, August 3, at which time a big dinner will be spread. It is expected to make this a great day, not only for the members of the Second Kentucky Brigade, but for all Old Veterans and the friends throughout Western Kentucky.

NEW CLUB FORMED.

To Hold Saturday Races and Annual Horse Show.

Frankfort, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—The Gentlemen's Driving Club and Horse Show was organized by local people at a meeting held at Elk Club to-night. The club will hold Saturday matinee races, and proposes an annual horse show. The organizers are Col. A. D. Martin, George G. Speer, George L. Payne, H. Z. Churchill, A. T. Kirtley and T. E. Kenney.

BAR OF KENTUCKY.

State Association Meets At Bowling Green To-morrow.

Bowling Green, Ky., July 9.—The State Bar Association will meet here Thursday. All but two of the Judges of the Court of Appeals have promised to be present.

The State Executive Committee has been called to assemble at the Mansard Hotel to-morrow.

Deaths of Three Infants.

Hickman, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pollock died at their home, four miles northwest of town. The remains were carried to the city cemetery for interment.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. E. Roper died at their home, four miles northeast of town. The remains were carried to family burial ground for interment.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Webb died at their home, three miles northeast of town. The remains were carried to the city cemetery for interment.

Funeral of Mrs. Francis Rice.

Hickman, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—The funeral services held by the Rev. J. L. Steigler over the body of Mrs. Francis Rice were conducted in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives at Mt. Zion cemetery, eight miles southeast of town. Mrs. Rice was born and reared near Lexington, Ky. She, with her husband, moved to these parts in 1857. She was seventy-eight years of age and is survived by six sons, E. C. Rice being one of our leading shoe merchants.

Dr. D. Y. Thomas Honored.

Hickman, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—Dr. D. Y. Thomas, a former member of the faculty of Hendrix College, who has been with the University of Florida for the past year, received notice of his election as assistant professor of history and political science at the University of Arkansas. Prof. and Mrs. Thomas are spending the summer in Conway, Ark. Dr. Thomas was reared near this city, where he has many friends and relatives.

Negro Gives Himself Up.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., July 9.—Mack Anderson, the colored boy who killed Luther Johnson, in Davis' saloon, on July 4, has given himself up to Sheriff Crooks. He was released on $1,000 bail. Misses Sallie and Annie Clay, wealthy white women, who reared the boy, signing his bond. The examining trial will be held July 23. Anderson claims the shooting was accidental.

Four Aspire To Toga.

Bowling Green, Ky., July 9.—J. E. Greathouse, of this city, to-day announced himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Senate from the Eleventh district. There are now four aspirants for this honor, two from this county, one from Allen and one from Edmonson.

Death of Miss Susie Hardesty.

Taylorsville, Ky., July 9.—After a long illness caused by tuberculosis of the lungs, Miss Susie Hardesty, eighteen years of age, died at the home of her father, Mr. John B. Hardesty. The father and several brothers and sisters survive her. The funeral was preached in the Plum Creek Baptist church.

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES YESTERDAY.

City of Cincinnati, from and to Cincinnati....Helen M. Gould, from and to Carrollton....Morning Star, from and to Evansville.

BOATS LEAVING THIS DAY.

City of Louisville, Capt. Brennan, for Cincinnati at 5 p. m....Helen M. Gould, Capt. McIntyre, for Carrollton at 4 p. m. ....Tell City, Capt. Howard, for Evansville and all way landings at 4 p. m.

RIVER, BUSINESS AND WEATHER.

The river was rising last evening with 6 feet in the canal, 3 feet 8 inches on the falls and 12 feet 3 inches at the foot of the locks. Business active. Weather very warm, with cloudburst in the early evening.

DRIFTWOOD.

The Tell City for Evansville to-day at 4 p. m....The Georgia Lee for Memphis to-morrow at noon....The Falls City for Kentucky river Friday at 4 p. m....The Evansville packets are carrying crowds of people at reduced round-trip rates....The Cincinnati packets are carrying crowds. ....There will be a boat launched at Howard's in a few days....Pete Cosby got overheated at Paducah Monday, got crazy, walked overboard off the Joe Fowler and drowned....A coon remarked yesterday: "Jim, de riber is so wa'm dat yer kin ketch baked fish, an' de hens is so hot dat dey's a-layin' biled aigs." "Moze, you'se a bigger liar dan a gas meter."....It is very dull in river circles nowadays. ....The upper is now the lower Ohio.... There will be a low-water stage in the Ohio after awhile....All the packets are carrying crowds of people coming and going....A great deal of coal is being hauled from the floats at the river....Several alligators have been seen in the river near large towns lately....The R. L. Aubrey brought down a tow of coal from Cincinnati....The Charles Brown arrived from above with a tow of coal and took empties back....Heretofore flood stage at Pine Bluff has been 23 feet, which means that at this stage the river begins overflowing the lowlands and reaches what is known as the danger line. After an examination of the river banks near Pine Bluff, Section Director Alciatore has found that this stage is far too low and he has therefore decided to place the danger line at 25 feet. Some of the lowalnds are inundated when the river reaches a stage of 23 feet, but not much damage is done until this stage is exceeded....A special from Pittsburg of yesterday says: After remaining at a navigable stage for several months the rivers for the first time this season are at a really low stage. In order to keep the water in the harbor necessary for river operations the wire and bear trap at Davis Island dam was put up. Three packets and one towboat with empties were stranded for a time this morning on account of the raising of dams, cutting off water below Dam No. 2 in the Ohio river. For a time it was thought that the boats were in a dangerous position, but with the filling up of the pools the water partially returned and all the vessels were able later to make the harbor. The boats caught in the low water were the Ben Hur, Capt. Kraft, from Parkersburg; Keystone State, Capt. Knox, from Cincinnati, and Kanawha, Capt. Maddy, from Charleston. The Tornado, with a tow of empties, also was caught in the low water....Slack water on the Kanawha to Lock No. 10....The S. S. Brown is doing a big business....The prospect of low water in the Ohio is encouraging to mussel-shell grabbers....The Government work on the canal at the upper end of it is progressing at a rapid rate....The dredgeboats will resume work in the mouth of the canal as soon as the river falls some more....Both wharfboats were busy all day yesterday and the packets had about all they could do....A crowd has engaged rooms on the Falls City next Friday for the round trip to Valley View. The Kentucky river trips are very popular. It is one of the most picturesque streams in the country....What is left of Corn and Goose Islands can be seen on the falls. Both spots are covered with willows....Several of the ring bolts used by steamboats at the levee forty and fifty years ago can be seen on the levee. Many of the big New Orleans sidewheel palaces used to tie to them when they were in port, but they are seldom used now....The Evansville Journal-News of Monday says: "A new order has gone into effect at the Surveyor of Port's office in the Federal building in which each boat entered for record must detail its service on the water in which it runs. This being a new order, in the annual report it has been found a great difficulty to class some of the boats to find out what they do and the number that compose the crew. Owners of seventy-five gasoline launches which come under the inspection laws and which are entered as probable passenger and traffic boats have been written to, but so far only five letters have been received in return. These five boats represent passenger service. The authorities are forestalled in their attempt to get the information and may have to send out the second batch of letters with imperative instruction that they be answered."....The harbor boats are putting a lot of coal through the canal to go South....The Charley Brown brought down a tow of coal and went back to Pittsburg last night....The Fulton goes to Cairo to-day with a tow of coal and brick....Chief Engineer Adolph Schaaf, of the M. R. C. C. and C. Co., of Pittsburg, was here yesterday....Capt. Arthur Moren, of Pittsburg, was here yesterday....Mr. James Steward, chief engineer on the big towboat W. W. O'Neil, fell into a sewer at Cincinnati night before last, and died in that city yesterday morning....The towboat Cherokee and dredges will clean the harbor of mud in front of the city wharf.

Minneapolis Scores Five Runs In the Fifth Inning.

FRANTZ WEAKENS AT THE END.

Dundon's Two-bagger, Mertes' Sacrifice and Freeman's Long Fly Do the Business.

TWO HOME RUNS ARE MADE.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 9.—[Special.]—Louisville narrowly missed winning from Minneapolis to-day, having the game well in hand, with a lead of four runs, when Frantz weakened in the sixth inning and Minneapolis made five runs. Two home runs were features of the game, Mertes driving one over the right-field fence in the sixth inning.

Stovall and Woodruff were both there with the stick, the former getting two singles and a two bagger, while Woodruff hit for a triple and in the eighth banged out a double.

Owing to his train being delayed, Umpire Kerins did not arrive until just as the teams were going on to the field for the beginning of the sixth inning, and Louis Durham and Orville Kilroy did the umpiring until that time, giving excellent satisfaction.

O'Neill, the first man up, singled. Dundon sacrificed, and Sandow Mertes drove out a home run. From this time on until the lucky sixth there was nothing doing for the "Reds," and "Parson" Frantz had them at his mercy.

Woodruff started off the third with a three bagger. Frantz struck out, and then Stovall picked out a good one and sent it to deep center, scoring Woodruff. Stanley struck out after Stovall had been caught trying to steal second.

The fourth passed quietly, Brashear, Cooley and Sullivan going out in one, two, three order. In the fifth, after Peitz and Quinlan were out, Woodruff sent a high fly to Dundon, and the latter never touched it. Oyler muffed Frantz's grounder, and Stovall again came to the rescue and drove out a double, scoring Woodruff and Frantz.

Minneapolis started things in the fifth, Dundon sending one down to third which ought to have been an easy out, but Cooley muffed the throw, and Mertes was grazed by a pitched ball, getting his base. The ball bounded of Mertes and struck Heine Peitz on the finger, injuring him so that he was forced to retire from the game, Hughes donning the mask. John Freeman next came to bat, and, picking out his favorite corner over in right field, he sent the ball over the fence for his eleventh home run of the season. Greminger singled and Jerry Freeman doubled, scoring Greminger, and on Brashear's error scored himself.

Brashear singled in the sixth and Cooley was safe on a bobble of Dundon's. Sullivan sacrificed, scoring Brashear, and in the general mix-up, in which the ball was tossed about the field, Cooley also scored. Stovall started the seventh with a single, and on Stanley's double came home. The "Reds" scored the winning run in the seventh on a two bagger by Dundon and a sacrifice by Mertes. Freeman then sent a long fly to center, and Dundon same home on the throw in. Score:

Little Rock 6—1, Shreveport 0—0.

Little Rock, July 9.—Keith was in wonderful form to-day, shutting out the Shreveport team for eighteen innings. The first game was easy, the locals hitting Beeker hard at times. The second was a brilliant pitchers' battle with Keith having slightly the best of it, Little Rock scoring the only run in the ninth inning on Miller's hit for three bags, followed by Page's single. Keith allowed ten hits in the two games and did not issue a base on balls. Both games were characterized by sensational fielding. Not a visitor passed second base in the double-header. Scores:

CHICAGO TEAMS MAY WIN AGAIN

Cubs and White Sox Seem To Be Slowly But Surely Clinching the Pennants.

TAKING the Fourth as the chronological center of the major league races, it looks as if one of them was over and the other only just commenced. In the National League the Cubs have such a commanding lead, despite their surprising slump of last week in the series with Pittsburg, that they ought to walk home under the wire with any kind of luck. This is especially true as Manager Chance had his original championship line-up intact to-day for the first time this year and the indications are he will be able to keep it so, barring the inevitable accidents, says a special from Chicago.

The Sox have a harder fight on their hands, but they in turn have a better outlook ahead of them in the near future because it looks as if their hospital would be cleared of patients shortly and for the first time this year. Frank Owen, who has been of little use to the Sox all season on account of a fight with malarial fever, is nearly ready to work again, and Lee Tannehill, who has been flat with a dangerous fight against blood poisoning as the result of Harry Niles' spikes ever since the second game of the season, is able to walk once more, and his doctors tell him he will be allowed to practice inside of ten days.

With the prospect of having all the Sox available for the last laps of the race Manager Jones faces the outlook with some complacency, despite the fact that his team has to finish the season on the road and is usually a poor road team.

The Cubs have another advantage to add to their commanding lead, and that is the fact that they get the finish at home this season, but inexplicable as it may seem, Chance's men are better performers on the road than at home, as a rule. Past performances indicate that to be a fact, but no one has been able to furnish the explanation. For the first time this year the Cubs lost a series last week, the Pirates being the victors and on the local West Side lot at that. If it had happened in Pittsburg it would not have been as surprising.

Instead of being a disaster to the Cubs, however, the slump has been beneficial in the financial sense. Chance's men were getting such a long lead that all interest in their games was waning and the attendance was sure to fall off tremendously for all except games between the leading clubs. By cutting a chunk out of that lead the Pirates did President Murphy a favor in reality instead of giving him cause for worry.

Going back to the Sox and Lee Tannehill, the world's champions would have had almost as long a lead as the Cubs by this time if Tannehill had not been crippled. The hole left in the infield by his absence and that of George Davis for a considerable part of the race, has cost the Sox many games which they had won, only to see them tossed away by actual errors or by the inexperience of the men who filled the places of regulars.

The players themselves are getting interested in a movement to abolish spiked shoes from the game next year and the club owners will get in line and take some positive action on the matter if they are wise. The national pastime has developed and progressed wonderfully in the last twenty-five years, but the players still wear the barbarous spikes which have caused many an injury which never would have happened but for them. There is no reason why cleats similar to those worn by football players, or rubber points fixed to the soles of players' shoes, will not do the work of spikes without danger to opponents. If not, no team would have any advantage if the abolition of spikes were made imperative on all clubs.

FITZ PREPARES FOR BOUT WITH JACK JOHNSON.

BOB FITZSIMMONS surely has the courage of his convictions. His fight next week at Philadelphia with Jack Johnson, the Zulu, will squelch these howlers who claim that white men are afraid of the "big smoke." Bob Fitzsimmons never feared any man. He is the oldest successful fighter now in the ring, but although he will never see forty again—or forty-three, for that matter—he is willing to take any kind of a chance. And when Jack sees the icy glint in Bob's blue eyes it's a good bet that he will feel less like fighting than like running a hundred yards in 9 3-5 seconds.

I was talking to Jeffries a short time ago about his last fight with Fitzsimmons, says an Eastern critic. "I wouldn't have been cut up so much," said Jeff, "if the ring had been all right. The floor was made of thin boards and whenever I moved they bent under me. I couldn't get up any speed and old Fitz hopped around me like a flea. He gave me a terrible beating before I landed him. I wouldn't have taken that licking for $100,000. I never believed a man could hit so hard. I had eight stitches taken under my right eye after the fight and eight over it. My left eye had to be sewed up. My nose was busted flat on my face and all my teeth were loosened. Fitz was the greatest fighter I ever saw. These little fellows fighting now wouldn't have classed with him for a minute."

Fitz is a born fighter and he will fight as long as he can raise his hands above his head. Bob has a fighting streak just now. He is all unstrung over the desire to win it and his desire to again appear in the ring has matched him with "Little Arthur."

"Bob's hands are in great shape now and you can wager your life that if the big smoke winks an eye while facing Fitz, Bob will cross one over so fast Jack won't know what struck him. For six rounds Fitzsimmons is an Abe Attell of the ring and he will give Jack the liveliest battle that the colored fighter has ever experienced," said an Eastern critic who has been watching Bob in his light training stunts.

Great interest is centered in this bout. First, because many believe Johnson the most dangerous man in the ring; secondly, because whenever Fitz enters the ring pugilistic interest follows.

Boston 5, Cincinnati 1.

Boston, July 9.—In a disorderly game to-day Boston defeated Cincinnati, 5 to 1. In the sixth inning Lobert claimed that Tenney interfered with his throw when the Cincinnati player sent the ball into the bleachers, letting in three runs. Lobert and Huggins argued the point with Umpire Rigler, who ended the debate by putting the protestants out of the game. Later a riot appeared possible when a spectator in one of the stands was arrested for refusing to give up the ball which went foul. Tenney, who assisted the police to identify the culprit, was hooted and jeered by the crowd. Score:

Chicago 7, Brooklyn 1.

Brooklyn, July 9.—There was no disturbance during to-day's game at Washington Park where the Chicago and Brooklyn teams played their fourth game of the present series, which will be concluded to-morrow. Manager Frank Chance, who flung back two of the empty bottles hurled from the bleachers during the final inning of yesterday's game, was not present to-day. Secretary Heydler, of the National League, acting in the absence of President Pulliam from the city, indefinitely suspended Chance on complaint of Umpire Emslie. Chicago won, 7 to 1, Overall's pitching being too strong for the local team. Score:

The United States is not alone in the rapid increase of incorporated stock companies. The financial status of Chile, our longest South American neighbor, shows that from 1901 to 1905 there was an increase of 800 per cent. in the amount of stock issued by incorporated companies in that country.

Curiously enough, the output of new securities of the first half of the new calendar year is just about as large as the total exports of the United States to Europe for the entire fiscal year, estimating those of June at about $80,000,000. The grand total of the securities issued between January 1 and July 1, 1907, was $1,278,728,000, though only about $800,000,000 of these have been marketed, the others remaining to be sold. Exports to Europe, on the basis of the June estimate, should be $1,285,000,000. Comparison of the largest commercial movement of the country for a year with the enormous issues of securities, 80 per cent. of which are for railroads alone, indicates how extensive consumers of capital the American railroads really are. If the railroads were given all they asked for it would take one whole year of exports to Europe to pay for half a year of securities issued.

Comparing the loss of life by the accidents with the tonnage and production of the Pittsburg district, one life has been snuffed out for every 50,000 tons of coal shipped, and the annual shipment is about 50,000,000 tons. Consequently for every 3,800 cars that carry freight out of or into Pittsburg some mortal has given up the ghost. This is exclusive of cars that are carrying freight through to other points.

It is said that fifteen individuals, or estates, control more than 90 per cent. of the Standard Oil Company, the outstanding capital of which is $98,338,300. The estimate given is based on the holdings of the leading shareholders, when the capitalization was $70,000,000 previous to the foundation of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, the dividends received by each a year, and total dividends during the last ten years, in which time the average yearly rate has been something over $40 a share on an authorized capital of $100,000,000:

The entire dividends for the last ten years, ending with this calendar year, on the authorized capital of $100,000,000, will reach $404,000,000. The net earnings of the corporation for many years have been far in excess of the dividend requirements.

According to the American Federationist 1,013 unions, with a membership of 74,300, reported 1.7 per cent. without employment in May. In the preceding month 739 unions, with a membership of 59,824, had five-tenths of 1 per cent. unemployed. In May the ratio was seven-tenths of 1 per cent.

MARKET LETTERS.

New York.—While there was nothing new in the attitude of the Government to go for the trusts, yet the possibilities of a very drastic new policy in this respect was sufficient to give quite a jolt to the market to-day. Well-informed quarters claim to have information that the Administration had adopted a new policy for trying to force into the hands of receivers any such company convicted of violating an anti-trust law. It was even hinted that such gigantic corporations as the Standard Oil Company might find itself in the hands of receivers, which is equal to telling a corporation that the Government will appoint men to run their various plants separately instead of the companies running them jointly themselves; in other words, the Government is going to appoint politicians to run other people's business. No one will gainsay the fact that the law shall be obeyed and that all corporations shall be run honestly, but pending the carrying into effect of such drastic measures it is no wonder that Wall street halts. So once again we have with us the same old thing of frightening away capital by drastic legislation. Stocks are low intrinsically, but confidence is necessary for a sustained advance, which seems not likely in view of this latest news.—(Miller & Co. to John L. Dunlap.

New York.—To-day's market was given to reaction almost from start to finish. The recent irresponsiveness of London was a minor influence although a practical effect was produced by some selling for London account. Other depressing factors were the fresh aggressiveness indicated by the Washington Administration against the large industrial combinations, the sharp reaction in the price of copper the renewed adverse action against the Union Pacific and apprehensions to the monetary developments in the near future. St. Paul was exceptionally strong most of the time. A recovery in this stock exerted a beneficial influence for the rest of the list which closed at recoveries of substantial fractions and bottom prices.—(Miner & Co. to Herman F. Monroe & Co.

New York.—It appears very unlikely that the bullish operations which have influenced the market during the past two weeks is to be abandoned, although there may be a suspension of aggressiveness until the monetary situation becomes a little clearer. The repayment of Government deposits must be made by to-morrow and close attention will be given during the remainder of the week to all operations affecting the standing of the banks. It appears unlikely that the reaction will extend much further and the standard stocks should be a good purchase on any further decline.—(A. O. Brown & Co. to Hunt, Bridgeford & Co.

New York.—The stock market this morning had a heavy tone due to small London selling and a switching of room traders to the bear side because of the prominence given to the President's anti-trust policy in the morning papers and uneasiness over money conditions. Enough selling was influenced by the bear factors to cause declines ranging from fractions to over one point all through the list in the first hour.—(Ex. Norton & Co. to J. J. B. Hilliard & Son.

New York.—The market sold off on rumors that more unpleasant news was coming from Washington regarding the trusts. It looked to us more like a bear raid on Union Pacific to affect the balance of the market. The support that has appeared lately was not in evidence to-day.—(Kelley, Miller & Co. to Almstedt Bros.

New York.—There was a sharp break in stocks in the last hour, during which Union Pacific, copper and other active issues suffered worst. It started with the decline in Union Pacific, in connection with two reports, one that the Interstate Commerce Commission report on the Harriman case would be made public to-morrow, and the other that the bankers had suggested an extension of the time for the shareholders of Union Pacific to take the new bonds. To-morrow is the last day that the rights are operative. There was no confirmation of either of these stories and Union Pacific rallied a point at the close. The setback which we had to-day in stocks was natural enough after the continued rise which we have had. The market will be all the better for it. The berak should bring in a good many buying orders to-morrow. Certainly stocks are cheap at current prices, with prospect of very little setback in business and with the railroads showing steady gains in gross earnings.—(C. I. Hudson & Co. to S. C. Henning & Co.

New York.—The market was reactionary, with London a moderate seller in connection with the settlement there to-morrow and various adverse reports which induced traders to throw over their long stocks, producing a normal recession after the recent sustained advance, and greatly improving the technical position. Stocks are cheap enough to buy for the long pull.—(Ennis & Stoppani to E. H. Morgan & Co.

New York.—Nothing was announced during the day affecting prices, unless it be the report that the deadlock in the sale of copper had been broken and that new contracts were being made freely to 22c per lb. Though a concession in prices, this is still a substantial figure and for awhile had a beneficial influence on Amalgamated stock. To-morrow the Government crop report is due, and this is awaited with much interest. The market as a whole to-day, while decidedly reactionary and closing rather weak, the selling was pretty well taken and the bull element hopes it is only a slight setback in the upward course of prices. It is pretty hard, however, under present money conditions to see how anything like a real bull market can be successfully financed, and the general public disposition seems to be one of caution toward new commitments.—(Post & Flagg to John W. & D. S. Green.

New York.—Union Pacific was the weakest of the active issues, but the bear forces did not seem aggressive and prices hardened somewhat after the first half hour's trading. The selling pressure increased on the rally and caused fresh weakness in all the leading issues. Taking their cue from fluctuations the room crowd was more inclined to make bearish capital of the latest news of the Administration in its campaign against bad corporations, but the market took the stock well, probably due more to the fact that it is sold out and liquidation is completed. There was a good deal of speculation as to the cause of the weakness in Japanese bonds. No one could give any reason other than political bogies. Toward the close prices fell off sharply under selling which looked like a bear raid.—(E. & C. Randolph to E. E. Paine & Co.

New York.—There was considerable realizing and short selling in the New York stock market to weaken and close at about the lowest prices of the day. The recent advance eliminated the short interest in the market to a very great extent and weakened the technical position, so at this time bear commitments are likely to be made the basis of a sharp rally in the near future. Call money was rather easy and the announcement of sales of copper metal was a factor, which will perhaps prove favorable to the bulls when digested.—(W. L. Lyons & Co.

New York.—The pressure on the market evident yesterday was renewed this morning. The fact that very many speculators were awaiting just such a decline to get in the market was a stimulating influence on prices. After the selling pressure had spent its force a general improvement occurred later in the day, although trading was quiet and business dull. Prices became weaker, having lost nearly all of their gain of the last hour. Reports from Washington that the Interstate Commerce Commission-Harriman report was ready to submit to the President to be published in near future was said to account for general uneasiness in prices.—(J. S. Bache & Co. to Washington Flexner & Co.

STOCK MARKET REVIEW.

New York, July 9.—Money on call firm at 4@4¾ per cent.; ruling rate 4½; closing bid 4¼; offered at 4½; time loans firmer; 60 days 4½@4¾; 90 days 5; six months 5¾; prime mercantile paper 5½@6. Sterling exchange easy, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8680@4.8685 for demand and at $4.8370@4.8375 for 60-day bills; posted rates $4.84½ and $4.88; commercial bills $4.83½. Bar silver 67⅝c. Mexican dollars 52¼c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds weak.

The reactionary tendency became rather marked in to-day's stock market, although there was some show of resistance to the decline and efforts to support were evident at some points. The principal ground for the reaction was the banking position, which is the cause for some anxiety based on the public accounting of the banks themselves, although the rates charged for money to-day showed no symptoms of a coming stringency.

In view of the special requirements impending, this tranquility of the money market looks back for explanation to the estimates of the known movements of money last week, which indicated a gain by the banks of six to eight millions of dollars, although the banks' statement reported a decrease in cash of five millions. This discrepancy in the statement was the main cause of the low surplus which was stated at below $900,000. If this had been the actual condition of New York's banking surplus on Saturday it would be difficult to explain how the withdrawal of $1,750,000 gold for export and the obligation to be faced of a return of Government deposits to-morrow, amounting to $30,000,000 for the whole country and about $12,000,000 for the New York City banks, could fail to precipitate a disturbance in the local money market. The New York banks have turned in only about $2,000,000 of the $12,000,000 of Government deposits which they will be required to surrender to-morrow. On the other hand only $2,624,750 of Government 4 per cent. bonds have been presented at the New York Subtreasury since July 1.

The seemingly total indifference of the financial community to the apparent inevitableness of a money flurry under these circumstances gave rise to conjectures that some relieving influence not generally known was in the background. Rumor suggested that the Secretary of the Treasury might postpone the return of part of the Government deposits in view of the small amount of bonds redeemed. No authority for this rumor could be learned. The maturity to-morrow of installments of subscriptions amounting to $15,000,000 for Union Pacific convertible bonds and $7,500,000 for Atchison convertible bonds are complicating factors in the situation. July 10 is thus seen to be, to some extent, a critical period in the money market and its passage without disturbance will be felt as presenting a clear field beyond.

Foreign exchange rates declined during the day and the chance of further immediate exports of gold was averted. Foreign subscriptions for the Union Pacific and Atchison bonds may have helped to affect the exchange market. Rates on time loans were inclined to advance here. The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany showed a recovery of only $2,815,000 of the $34,255,000 cash loss of the previous week, but over half of the previous week's prodigious loan expansion of $79,095,000 was reduced and the private rate of discount in Berlin was lower to-day.

Reports of various new phases of Government activity against corporations were an adverse influence to attempts to advance prices, including the Federal Government's plan to apply for receivers for offending corporations, a judicial expression of the view that the New York traction control represented a monopoly and proceedings against the telegraph companies on charges of combination by the New York State authorities. The marking down of the price of copper seemed to be of unfavorable effect, although copper stocks were advanced yesterday in expectation of this action. St. Paul offered the only point of active resistance to the decline, efforts at support centering on that stock, which closed at a gain of over a point. Otherwise declines are general, Union Pacific being the most conspicuous.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, July 9.—To-day's statement of the Treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve, shows:

Available cash balance	$256,935,512
Gold coin and bullion	68,544,022
Gold certificates	75,642,480

FOREIGN FINANCIAL.

London, July 9.—Money was in good demand and supply in the market to-day. Discounts were firm. On the Stock Exchange the recent advance pointed to a satisfactory arrangement of the settlements, but the markets developed irregularity under realizations from various directions. Consols and Japanese bonds as a rule were steady, but foreigners were weak. Japanese Imperial 6s of 1904 closed at 102¼. Copper shares declined in sympathy with the metal. Americans opened weak at below parity, the gold exports and the monetary situation at New York prompting realizations. At about noon a firmer tone prevailed, with a partial recovery of prices, but the volume of business during the afternoon was small. Later New York sold and prices closed weak. Consols for money 84¼; do for the account 84⅜; Anaconda 12½; Atchison 94; do preferred 98; Baltimore and Ohio 179¼; Canadian Pacific 179¼; Chesapeake and Ohio 36⅜; Chicago Great Western 11⅝; Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul 138½; De Beers 24⅛; Denver and Rio Grande 29; do preferred 74; Erie 26; do 1st preferred 63; do 2d preferred 45; Grand Trunk 29⅝; Illinois Central 146½; Louisville and Nashville 119; Missouri, Kansas and Texas 35; New York Central 118; Norfolk and Western 78½; do preferred 86; Ontario and Western 33¾; Pennsylvania 63½; Rand Mines 5½; Reading 54½; Southern Railway 20⅞; do preferred 70; Southern Pacific 82¼; Union Pacific 144¼; do preferred 89; United States Steel 38½; do preferred 103⅛; Wabash 14½; do preferred 26½; Spanish 4s 93½. Bar silver steady at 31d per ounce. Money 1¾@2¼ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 3¼@3⅜ per cent., and for three-months' bills is 3 7-16@3½ per cent. Bullion amounting to £66,000 was taken into the Bank of England to-day and £80,000 was withdrawn for shipment to the Continent.

Berlin, July 9.—Prices on the Boerse to-day were weak upon the New York advices and the fall in Japanese bonds reported from London. In this market Japanese were sharply depressed. Exchange on London 20 marks 24½ pfgs. for checks. Discount rates: Short bills 5 per cent.; three months' bills 4⅝ per cent.

Paris, July 9.—Prices on the Bourse to-day were lower on the weakness of Copper shares. Russian Imperial 4s were not quoted. Russian bonds of 1904 closed at 488. Three per cent. rentes 95f 12½c for the account. Exchange on London 25f 16½c for checks.

Imperial Bank Statement.

LEAF TOBACCO.

Tuesday Evening, July 9.—The local leaf tobacco market, after a rest since last Wednesday, opened up to-day with sales totaling only 90 hogsheads, and these confined to three houses. Of the 90 hogsheads 40 were Burley and 50 dark. The quality and condition were up to expectations for this season of the year. The limited offerings made it difficult to get a line on the market, but the best opinion was that it was firm and unchanged from last week, both for Burley and dark.

The following is the report of offerings to-day on the Louisville market, including all the warehouses:

	Hhds.
Burley	40
Dark	50

First sale to-morrow at the Ninth-street Warehouse.

Cincinnati Market.

Cincinnati, July 9.—(Special.)—The tobacco market was small, quality fair, condition good and sales figures about on a par with last week's quotations. Total offerings 59 hhds: 18 at $8.20@9.90; 17 at $10.25@11.75; 23 at $12.25@14.75; 1 at $10.

Leaf Tobacco Exports.

The volume of leaf tobacco exports, including stems and trimmings, from the United States during the month of May, 1907, was not so great as during the corresponding month of 1906, and compared with the preceding month of April of the current year the decrease is still more marked. In the former comparison the decrease amounts to 1,672,031 pounds, or 11 per cent., and in the latter 8,111,922 pounds, or 38 per cent. Of the 13,315,173 pounds of leaf tobacco exported from the United States during May the United Kingdom took 4,688,764 pounds, or about 35 per cent. France took 2,224,509 pounds of the leaf exported during the month, or about 16 per cent., and retains second rank for the month.

During the expired eleven months of the fiscal year the leaf tobacco trade of the United States, as compared with the corresponding period of 1906, increased 10,418,387 pounds, or about 4 per cent. Among the countries which increased their consumption of American leaf tobacco during the past eleven months the most notable are the United Kingdom, 14,793,783 pounds; British North Aemrica, 3,940,758 pounds; British Australasia, 2,028,137 pounds, and British Africa 791,050 pounds.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Louisville.

(Furnished by the Bourbon Stock Journal, Bourbon Stock Yards, Louisville, Ky.)

Louisville, July 9.—Cattle—The receipts of cattle were light, 48 head; for the two days this week 1,773. There was rather a light attendance of buyers on the yards this morning; the market was quiet and generally unchanged. Choice well-finished butcher cattle had the call over all other kinds and sold readily at fully steady values; medium and common kinds slow. Nothing much doing in the feeder and stocker trade; the best steady and others slow. Bulls and canners unchanged; milch cows about steady. No heavy shipping cattle here; feeling firm. The pens were well cleared. The market closed steady.

Calves—Receipts of calves 130 head; for the two days 330. The market was firm; bulk of the best $6@6.50; some fancy a shade better; common calves slow sale.

Hogs—The receipts of hogs to-day were moderate, 1,230 head; for two days 4,258. The demand was lighter than usual and trading very slow; values mostly 5@10c lower; selected, 160 pounds and up, $5.90; 100 to 160 pounds $6; light pigs $5.25; roughs $5.25 down. The pens were only fairly well cleared and the trade closed very dull, especially on light hogs. Grassy half-fat hogs are hard to sell at any price, buyers discriminating against that class.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts of sheep and lambs to-day were 3,903 head; for two days 12,776. There was a fairly good demand for prime lambs to-day and values were about steady; bulk of the best lambs changing hands at $7.50; good seconds $6.25@6.50; best fat sheep $4.75. Common sheep and trashy cull lambs continue dull. Fair demand for choice stock ewes, but only the best are wanted.

(Reported by the Central Live Stock Exchange, Central Stock Yards.)

Louisville, July 9.—Cattle—The market was fairly active on all grades of butcher cattle; good to choice well-finished butcher cattle were in good demand and changed hands a shade better than last week's prices; medium and common kinds did not show any improvement over last week, the grassy half-fat kinds being rather slow. Bulls, canners and milch cows unchanged; feeling on heavy cattle steady to a shade stronger.

Calves—The market ruled about steady; bulk of the best calves $6 to $6.50; common calves slow sale.

Hogs—The market was slow in opening and selling 5c to 10c lower; selling 160 lbs. and up $5.90; 100 to 160 lbs. $6; pigs $5.20; roughs $5.20 down; market closed easy.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were liberal; bulk of the best lambs selling at $7.50; good seconds $6.25 to $6.50; fat sheep $4.75; common sheep and grassy cull lambs slow sale; good demand for good Western stock ewes at $6 to $6.25.

New York.

New York, July 9.—Beeves—Receipts 34; no trading; feeling steady; dressed beef firm at 9@10c per lb. for ordinary to prime to native sides. London and Liverpool cables quoted live cattle selling at 12@13¼c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef at 9@9½c per lb. Exports to-day were 900 cattle and 3,450 quarters of beef; to-morrow 2,850 quarters of beef. CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, July 9.—A large decrease in the world's visible supply of wheat and crop damage reports from the Northwest caused strength to-day in the wheat market. The September delivery closed at a net gain of ⅝c. Corn was off ⅛@¼c, oats were up ½@⅝c and provisions were 2½@17½c higher.

The wheat market opened weak because of a decline of more than 1d at Liverpool, said to be due to better weather conditions and the continued favorable weather in this country. At the end of the first half hour commission houses commenced to buy freely and the market became firm. Numerous reports were received from Minneapolis regarding damage by the "green bug" in the Northwest. In addition to this Bradstreet's weekly report showed a decrease of 6,160,000 bushels in the world's visible supply. Under these influences the market closed strong and near the highest point of the day. September opened ¼@¼c to ⅜@½c lower at 95@95¼c, sold off to 94⅝c, advanced to 96¼c and closed at 96@96¼c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 136,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 427,000 bushels, against 566,000 for the same day last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 391 cars, against 552 last week and 392 one year ago.

The corn market was weak early in the day, in sympathy with wheat and because of favorable weather conditions. Later the market rallied on reports that corn in the Southwest is "firing" because of the intense heat. The close was steady. September opened ⅛@¼c to ½@⅝c lower at 54½@54⅞c, sold off to 54⅜@54½c and then advanced to 55¼c. Final quotations were at 54⅞c. Local receipts were 489 cars, with 58 of contract grade.

With the exception of moderate weakness early in the day the oats market was strong. Active buying by bulls and an improved demand for cash oats were the strengthening features. September opened unchanged to ⅛@⅜c lower at 38⅝@39c to 39¼c, sold at 38⅞c and then advanced to 39⅞c, where it closed. Local receipts were 167 cars.

Trade in provisions was quiet and the market in general was steady. Pork displayed some firmness on covering by shorts, the September delivery closing at a net gain of 17½c at $16.35. Lard was up 2½c at $8.97½. Ribs were 2½c higher at $8.67½.

Estimated receipts for to-morrow: Wheat 29 cars; corn 172; oats 41; hogs 28,000 head.

Bradstreet's Available Supplies.

New York, July 9.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreet's show the following changes in available supplies as compared with previous account:

Wheat—United States east of the Rockies increased 508,000; Canada decreased 1,168,000; total United States and Canada decreased 660,000; afloat for and in Europe decreased 5,500,000; total American and European supply decreased 6,160,000.

Corn—United States and Canada decreased 81,000 bu.

Oats—United States and Canada decreased 1,294,000 bu.

The leading decreases and increases reported for this week follow:

Decreases.—Manitoba, 877,000 bu.; Omaha, 81,000 bu.

Increase.—Chicago private elevators, 152,000 bu.

GRAIN LETTERS.

Louisville.—In view of the recent decline and the number of legitimate bullish factors, the bull side of wheat appears attractive and we favor purchase of wheat, particularly on dips. We strongly advise taking profits in corn on all upturns. In view of the fact that big bull interests in oats seem disposed to take profits we advise profit taking on all upturns.—(E. E. Paine & Co.

Chicago.—The good yields reported in the winter wheat country are found on investigation to have come largely from the sections where good yields were expected. The poor sections have had no reports to make. Reported larger offerings of new wheat for shipment this month and next both here and to Kansas City. This has not discouraged the Northwest buying.—(John Dickinson & Co. to Herman F. Monroe & Co.

Chicago.—News from the Northwest has been disquieting, particularly so in view of yesterday's strength there, and the buying from there to-day in this market. The chief feeling of uneasiness appears traceable to claims of green bugs reported from widely scattered areas and the reports from a number of localities claiming a diseased condition. The latter has thus far, however, lacked definiteness. All sorts of threshing claims from the Southwest, usually good where a good crop was expected, disappointing where bug or frost damage had been recognized. The weather is favorable both in the Northwest and Southwest.—(Hunt, Birdgeford & Co.

Chicago.—We think the most important news at the moment is that from North Dakota. Leaders at Minneapolis and Duluth claim to be getting very bad reports from a large portion of that State. In the vicinity of Hillsboro and Grand Forks wheat fields have been plowed up as worthless. Dalrymple estimates the possibility of the State at 60 per cent. of last year. There is sharp bidding for new wheat on the Pacific coast by continental houses. The weekly review of European crops is bullish. The Paris market was strong and higher. Leaders in the Northwest, who know most about the Northwest crop, are backing their views with big buying orders, and we believe the market has taken a permanent turn. Once the Washington report of to-morrow is out of the way, it will not be surprising to see dollar wheat again in this market before the week is over. Until the country feels sure about the new corn crop the market is likely to rule very strong.—(Logan & Bryan to W. L. Lyons & Co.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, July 9.—Wheat—Spot steady; No. 2 red Western winter 7s 2d; futures easy; July 7s 2d; September 7s 3½d; December 7s 5⅝d. Corn—Spot quiet; Hess dried 5s ½d; old Northern 5s 2½d; future quiet; July 4s 11½d; September 4s 11½d.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, July 9.—Trading in cotton was less active to-day, but the market showed a generally steadier tone and closed steady at a net advance of 5@13 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 200,000 bales. The opening was steady at a decline of 1 to 4 points owing to lower cables, reports of beneficial showers in the Western belt and the expectation of a bearish weekly weather review at midday. There seemed to be good buying at the decline, however, and prices later steadied up on covering of shorts. The weekly report at midday proved about as looked for but had evidently been discounted and in the afternoon the market was firmer on covering of shorts and fresh buying for long account, part being attributed to the bull leaders. The close was within 2 or 3 point of the best on the active months. It was reported that leading bull interests were buying January during the day but part of the selling at the advance in the afternoon was attributed to Southern interests which was supposed to reflect improved crop conditions.

Estimated receipts of cotton at the ports to-day were 3,000 bales, against 1,999 last week and 5,684 last year. For the week 15,000 bales, against 13,418 last week and 27,736 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans were 549 bales, against 2,382 last year, and at Houston 1,216 bales, against 691 last year.

Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands 13.40c; do gulf 13.65c. Closed steady and 5 points higher; middling uplands 13.45c; do gulf 13.70c. Sales 100 bales.

Futures opened steady from 1 to 3 points below yesterday's close, as a result of lower cables and reports of rain in Texas. Unfavorable weather conditions throughout the belt, together with reports of the activity of the boll weevil, had a bullish effect and the close found the active months ranging from 12 to 14 points above yesterday's close. The range for the day was as follows:

COTTON COMMENT.

New York.—We think the scalping position is the safest just at present.—(J. S. Bache & Co. to Washington Flexner & Co.

We would advise buying cotton on all such breaks.—(Dick Bros. & Co.

We would adhere to a traders' position on the long side and buy on all setbacks.—(Hubbard Bros. & Co. to E. E. Paine & Co.

We think purchases of cotton, October around 12c, on a scaledown, will show profits before or after the next Government report early in August. We particularly advise not to get loaded up at high prices; buy moderately so as to average.—(A. O. Brown & Co. to Hunt, Bridgeford & Co.

It is well to bear in mind that the pointer is there to a much higher market in the near future.—(Atwood, Violett & Co.

On any further decline would rather favor purchases of September, October and December on the scale.—(T. A. McIntyre & Co.

The market may continue to seesaw within moderate limits until something new occurs to give it a decided impetus one way or the other, but in very many well-informed quarters the disposition is still to buy on breaks.—(Bond & Buttfield.

On a further decline we think cotton should be bought.—(Carpenter, Baggot & Co.

COFFEE MARKET.

New York, July 9.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 5@10 points in response to lower European cables and some selling by Wall street longs. Brazilian markets were higher and receipts at interior Brazilian points ran rather light, imparting a steady tone to the market, at the decline while there was a few scattered demand to absorb offerings around the initial figures. The market closed steady at a net decline of 5@10 points. Sales for the day were reported of 10,500 bags, including July at 5.45c, September at 5.40@5.45c, March at 5.60c and May at 5.65c.

Spot coffee steady; Rio No. 7, 6⅝c; Santos No. 4, 7½c. Mild coffee quiet; Cordova 9@12¼c.

New York Dry Goods.

New York, July 9.—Many buyers are in the dry goods market but they are operating conservatively for current needs. Many of them, however, are placing large forward orders as a consequence of not being able to get spot merchandise. The export markets are quiet, but large orders have recently been placed by Hayti. Cotton yarns are quiet and firm. The local retail trade is not large, although considerable activity exists on surface owing to the prevalence of the clearance sales.

Boston Wool.

Boston, July 9.—Despite interruptions to business caused by the holiday last week and by the vacation given to employes by leading manufacturers, the volume of sales in the wool market during the past week has been surprisingly large. Several million pounds have been transferred, nearly all in domestic wools. Foreign wool is quiet. There is a more general interest among buyers and receipts are increasing. The market is firm at unchangd prices. Fine wools especially are selling well. Leading quotations follow:

Ohio and Pennsylvania Fleeces—XX 33@34c; X 31@32c; No. 1 washed 38@39c; No. 2 washed 37@38c; fine unwashed 25@26c; fine unmerchantable 27@28c; ½-blood clothing 27@28c; ½-blood combing 33@34c; ⅜-blood combing 33@34c; ¼-blood combing 31@32c; delaine washed 37@37½c; delaine unwashed 30@31c.

Reduction in Refined Sugar.

New York, July 9.—All grades of refined sugar were reduced 10c a hundred pounds to-day.

London Wool Sales.

London, July 9.—A large number of buyers attended the opening of the fourth series of wool auction sales here to-day. The offerings amounted to 14,895 bales, principally crossbreds. Home and French spinners were the principal buyers. Americans took a few lots of Victorian greasy combings at 1s 3d and fine, half-bred New Zealand at full rates. Merinos and fine cross-breds sold at unchanged prices, but medium and coarse cross-breds declined 5 per cent. Punta Arenas offerings brought lower prices and slipes were generally a penny below the May average. Following are the sales in detail:

Queensland—100 bales; scoured 1s 1½d; greasy 1s.

Victoria—1,000 bales; scoured 1s 4d@2s; greasy 9d@1s 3d.

West Australia—409 bales; greasy 7d@11½d.

New Zealand—7,400 bales; scoured 1s 3d@2s; greasy 6½d@1s 1½d.

Punta Arenas—4,200 bales; greasy 8d@11½d.

Falkland Islands—1,200 bales; greasy 6½d@11d.

River Platte—500 bales; greasy 8d@1s 1½d.

FIREBUGS DO DAMAGE, THEN LEAVE WARNING.

Nashville, Tenn., July 9.—As the result of an incendiary fire last night in Christian county, Kentucky, R. D. Fort lost 100 bushels of wheat piled in the fields in sacks. A lot of tobacco plants recently set were pulled up. He is not a member of the Tobacco Growers' Association. The fire bugs cleared a space and wrote in the dust a warning that unless he joined the association he would suffer a further loss.

JUDGE WILSON TO SEE TO "KIDS" ON EAGLES' DAY.

Big Time Assured At White City On July 17 and Big Crowds Expected.

Former County Judge Charles A. Wilson, whose success with the "kids" is known far and wide, will have charge of the amusement features for the children at the White City "Eagles' Day," July 17. Judge Wilson during the past few days has been busily engaged arranging entertainment for the young folks, and it is a safe bet they will long remember their trip to the Eagles' picnic. Doll shows, "Teddy" bear parades, possibly an egg hunt and numerous prize contests for the little fellows will be the order of the day, and an effort will be made to send each child away happier for having spent the day with Judge Wilson.

From present indications the crowd will eclipse that of any of the many "special" days this season, and the officials of the Louisville Railway Company are planning to throw every available car onto the Broadway and Walnut-street lines on that day. Extra precautions will be taken at the park to handle the crowd, and there is not the possibility of the slightest hitch during the day's pleasure. The best vaudeville features on the road have been secured by the White City management, and the prize contest for the heaviest, lightest, tallest and shortest persons in the park will furnish amusement for thousands.

ANCIENT MUSKET BLOWS GUNNER THROUGH FENCE.

Christ Able Injured, Partition In His House Destroyed and Whole Neighborhood Shaken.

An old muzzle-loading gun that had not been discharged in more than fifty years was accidentally exploded yesterday by Christ Able, a cigarmaker, at his home, 634 First street. Able was hurled through a fence by the gun's rebound and many windows in his and neighboring houses were shattered. Able was made unconscious, his left arm badly sprained and his body bruised.

Able was making an examination of the weapon when he pulled the trigger and accidentally discharged it. He had just finished loading it, not knowing until he finished the operation that the gun already had a charge in it that had been there many years. The force of the explosion blew out a partition in Able's house and knocked all the occupants off their feet.

The children playing in the yard of the Neighborhood House, next door, were deafened by the report and houses within a radius of a block felt the shock of the explosion. That the old load in the gun should still retain its explosive force after so many years is remarkable.

Although the barrel of the weapon, which is a flint-lock gun of the Revolutionary type, and has been in the possession of the Able family for many generations, was not rended asunder by the force of the load, the stock was torn from it and shattered into many pieces. A small-sized panic reigned immediately after the explosion, which was quieted with great difficulty by Patrolman Trompeter.

Bids For School Supplies.

The Salaries and Supplies Committee of the Louisville School Board at a meeting held Monday night, opened bids for textbooks, stantionery, janitors' supplies, coal, blank books, stoves, kindergarten supplies, forty typewriters and typewriter desks. It is likely that a special meeting of the board will be held Monday night for the purpose of awarding contracts.

ENLARGED SCOPE

Given Health Department By Additional Analyst.

MILTON GOODMAN MADE ASSISTANT TO DR. VERNON ROBINS.

DR. ALLEN PLANS THOROUGH INSPECTION OF FOOD SUPPLY.

MAYOR BINGHAM CO-OPERATES

By consent of Mayor Bingham, Dr. M. K. Allen, Health Officer, has secured the services of Milton Goodman, recently graduated from the Rose Polytechnic Institute at Terre Haute, Ind., who will assist Dr. Vernon Robins in the laboratory work connected with the Health Department. Mr. Goodman has already arrived in Louisville and took charge of his duties yesterday. He will do most of the chemical work in connection with the Health Department and Dr. Robins will look after the bacteriological work.

Mr. Goodman comes to Louisville highly recommended, having been the honor man of the class with which he was graduated, and he will enable Dr. Allen to increase largely the scope of work of the Health Department. His appointment was made possible by the terms of an ordinance passed recently, providing for an additional chemist in the Health Department. In sanctioning the employment of Mr. Goodman, Mayor Bingham assured Dr. Allen that he could count on him for support in any undertaking he deemed essential to the efficiency of the Health Department.

* * *

His Handicap Removed.

Prior to the employment of Mr. Goodman, Dr. Allen found his work greatly retarded because of the inability of Dr. Robins to attend to all the work that was put upon him. This was because it was impossible for one man to attend to all the work imposed upon him. Since the addition of Mr. Goodman to the Health Department, Dr. Allen has matured plans for enlarging the scope of that department and which he will put into effect immediately. The changes will place the Health Department of Louisville among those with rank first in cities the same size. In addition to Mr. Goodman a college student will assist in the laboratory work of the Health Department free of cost during the remainder of the summer.

"I have now planned to take up the matter of food products in an extended way," said Dr. Allen yesterday afternoon. "In addition to having the supply of Louisville thoroughly inspected at different intervals, I shall have the milk and food inspectors visit all the dairies that supply Louisville with dairy products. At least one-third of Louisville's dairy supplies come from Indiana, and I shall send my inspectors over there.

* * *

Means Business About Milk.

"If the Indiana dairymen who supply Louisville people with milk and butter object to having their dairies inspected by my men I shall be able to reach them after they bring their products to Louisville. In case the milk and butter supplied by them does not come up to the standard I shall refuse to permit its sale here, and I shall have inspectors at the different railroad depots to inspect the milk and butter as it comes in on the cars."

For some time Dr. Vernon Robins, city chemist, has been making tests for physicians of Louisville free of charge, thus assisting them to determine the true nature of the disease from which their patients are suffering. This work will be continued, only on a larger scale, according to Dr. Allen, the acquisition of Mr. Goodman making it possible.

"The Health Department never has been a place for drones," said Dr. Allen yesterday, "and now that we have additional help all will be kept as busy as ever. Mayor Bingham has promised to give me every assistance possible, and I am much gratified over the fact."

COURT PARAGRAPHS.

—William Hayes sued the Home Building Company for $15,000, alleging that he was hurt while in the defendant's employ.

—Eva Dickinson sued the Louisville Railway Company for $7,030 because of injuries she received in a collision between two cars.

—The heirs of James D. Copeland sued to determine whether a certificate of insurance for $250 on his life shall be payable to his widow or his children.

—H. C. Frierson, a minor, brought suit by J. P. Embry, his next friend, against James Clark, Jr., & Co. for $5,000. He was hurt while in the defendant's employ.

—Daisy Jackson sued J. William O'Bannon and the Louisville Plumbing Company for $5,000 charging that she was injured by falling into an excavation for which the defendants are alleged to be responsible.

—Elsie Black, a minor, brought suit in the name of Spencer Black, her next friend, against the Louisville Railway Company, the Henderson Route and the Illinois Central railroad for $10,025. She was hurt in a collision between a street car and a train at Fourteenth and Main streets on June 17.

Court of Appeals Decisions.

Fanny Ware vs. S. W. Hager, Auditor.—Filed June 26, 1907.—(To be reported.) Appeal from the Franklin Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Hobson, affirming.

First—Land—Bed of Ohio River—Patents Therefor—Authority to Grant.—While it is well settled that the boundary of the State of Kentucky extends to the northern shore of the Ohio river at low water mark, and it has also been held that patents issued by this State for land on the Ohio river give the patentees title to the head of the stream, there is no statute authorizing the granting of a patent to land beneath the waters of the Ohio river between the thread of the stream and the low water mark on the northern shore.

Second—Same—Authority of Legislature.—While the Legislature may provide for the issuing of patents for the bed of the Ohio river north of the thread of the stream, so that the sand or minerals which may be on or under the land may be appropriated, it has not yet done so.

Haszelrigg, Chenault and Hazelrigg, Orie S. Ware for appellant; N. B. Hays, Attorney General, C. H. Morris, Green & Van Winkle, for appelle.

Freeman vs. Commonwealth—Filed June 19 1907—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Owsley Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Lassing, affirming.

First—Instructions.—There was nothing in the evidence to warrant an instruction upon self-defense, but a qualifying instruction with the self-defense clause was not prejudicial to appellant.

Second—Examining Trial—Facts Testified to Before.—It was not error to permit the County Judge to testify in chief as to facts testified before him upon the examining trial by the defendant. See Bess vs. Commonwealth, 118 Ky., 858.

E. E. Hogg, Charles W. Hogg, H. C. Eversole, for appellant; N. B. Hays, Attorney General, Charles H. Morris, for appellee.

Chesapeake and Nashville R. R. Co. vs. Anderson's adm'r—Filed June 19, 1907—(Not to be reported.)—Appeal from Allen Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Carroll, reversing.

Railroads—Injury to Servant—Evidence.—In this action to recover for death of appellee's intestate the evidence examined and held that appellee failed to introduce sufficient evidence of negligence to take the case to the jury, and a peremptory instruction should have been given at the request of appellant.

B. W. Bradburn, Lewis McQuown, John B. Rodes, W. L. Porter, Huntsman & Huntsman, for appellee; Goad & Olliver, Baskerville & Collier, for appellant.

Washington, etc., vs. Giddens, etc.—Filed June 19, 1907.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Mason Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Barker, affirming.

Local Option.—As a separate election could not be held for the town in question there was no reason to contest what purported to be such an election. See opinion in case of Board of Trustees of the town of New Castle vs. Scott, 30 R. ante.

J. M. Collins, T. R. Phister for appellants; Worthington & Cochran, Salee & Slattery for appellees.

Carpenter and Beck vs. Commonwealth.—Filed June 20, 1907.—(Not to be reported. Appeal from Warren Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Nunn, reversing.

Instructions.—This case must be reversed because an instruction of the trial court authorized a penalty in excess of that fixed by the statute.

D. W. Wright, Wright & McElroy, N. A. Porter for appellants; G. H. Morris, N. B. Hays for appellee.

Marston vs. Fremd, etc.—Filed June 20, 1907.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Owen Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Hobson, reversing.

Liens.—The payments made by appellant were not fraudulent to the extent of the lien debts paid by him and to this extent the judgment was erroneous. The findings of fact are approved.

J. H. Settle for appellant; Cammack & Perry, John B. Lindsey for appellees.

Spinks vs. Turley.—Filed June 20, 1907.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Campbell Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Hobson, affirming.

Instructions.—A defense should not be submitted by an instruction when the plaintiff has not been apprised by the answer of such a defense.

L. J. Crawford for appellant; John S. Roebuck, Jr., for appellee.

Carter vs. Dotson.—Filed June 20, 1907. Opinion of the court by Chief Justice O'Rear, dismissing rule against Kirk, Circuit Judge.

Circuit Court—Rule against.—The response of the Circuit Judge to the rule of this court requiring him to obey its mandate is sufficient, and the rule against him is dismissed.

W. S. Pryor for appellant; Hager & Stewart for respondent Kirk.

Underwood's Admr. vs. I. C. R. R. Co.—Filed June 14, 1907—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from McCracken Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Hobson, affirming.

Actions—Removal of to Federal Court.—The right to transfer a case to the Federal Courts cannot be defeated by a mere form of allegation, and when it is apparent that a resident defendant was joined for the purpose of preventing a removal, the court should dismiss the action as to the defendant joined and remove the cause to the Federal Court.

Hendrick, Miller & Marble, Hendrick & Miller for appellant; Wheeler, Hughes & Berry, Trabue, Doolan & Cox and J. M. Dickinson for appellee.

Brownlee, etc. vs. Bunnell—Filed June 20, 1907—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Hart Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Hobson, reversing.

First—Parties.—A person who, though not a party to an action, employs counsel and conducts the defense to it is as much bound by the proceeding as the persons named as defendants.

Second—Arbitration—Estates — Division of.—The allotment of this estate has failed by reason of the disaffirmance of the infant of the action of her guardian, and the parties who are sui juris must bear their proportion of the loss sustained by reason of the recovery of the infant, those of them who were charged in excess of what they received are entitled to such an accounting as will render them equal.

W. L. Porter, Blair & Richardson, Watkins & Cardin, H. C. Martin for appellants; Hazelrigg, Chenault & Hazelrigg, McQuown & Brown, D. A. McCandless for appellee.

Hurst vs. Williams—Filed June 19, 1907—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Wolfe Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Lassing, reversing.

Contracts—Instructions—Misconduct of Attorney in Argument.—The instructions herein are condemned because they did not properly present the issue as raised by the pleadings and evidence.

Appellee's counsel in his closing argument to the jury made statements not supported by the evidence, and it was improper also for him to say that the jury should only consider the instructions which presented his client's theory of the defense.

William L. Hurst, Gourley & Redwine for appellant; Beckner & Beckner, Floyd Byrd for appellee.

Stamper vs. Commonwealth.—Filed June 25, 1907.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Knott Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Chief Justice O'Rear, reversing.

First—Local Option—Sale by Distiller to Partner.—The sale by appellant of his interest in the product of their distillery was not a violation of the local option law.

Second—Local Statutes—Affected by Present Constitution.—Local statutes which conferred jurisdiction in excess of that conferred by the present Constitution, or by statutes enacted since its adoption, are held to have been repealed.

Grenee & Van Winkle, W. V. Craft for appellant; N. B. Hays, Attorney General, C. H. Morris for appellee.

Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. vs. Joseph.—Filed June 25, 1907.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Jefferson Circuit Court, Second Chancery division. Opinion of the court by Judge Carroll, reversing.

Life Insurance—Election—Mailing Acceptance.—The insured elected to take a cash settlement of his policy with appellant and mailed his acceptance of such proposition to the company, but died in the forenoon of the day before the acceptance reached the company in the afternoon. His widow refused to accept the settlement thus made and sued upon the policy. Held—That the contract was completed when the letter of acceptance was mailed, and it was error on the part of the lower court to allow a recovery upon the policy.

Barnett & Barnett, Hardin H. Herr for appellant; Emile Steinfield, W. W. Watts, J. Richard Watts for appellee.

Ferguson, etc., vs. Heffner, etc.—Filed June 25, 1907.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Franklin Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Lassing, affirming.

Question of Fact.—This is purely a question of fact, and upon a consideration of all the testimony the judgment of the Chancellor holding that the testatrix had not the mental capacity to dispose of her property and setting the conveyance aside, is approved.

Hazelrigg, Chenault & Hazelrigg, Guy H. Briggs for appellants; Frank Chinn, John W. Ray for appellees.

SUPPER PREPARATIONS INTERRUPTED BY FLAMES.

While the cooks were preparing the evening meal at the American Restaurant, 431 West Market street, yesterday afternoon, exploding grease caused a small fire, entailing a loss estimated at $25. The department was called, and the blaze extinguished with chemicals. The dining-room of the restaurant was not damaged, as the kitchen is an L in the rear of 427 Market street. The smoke was so thick that all the cooks and dishwashers were compelled to flee from the kitchen until the blaze was put out. A quantity of food in preparation for the evening meal suffered as a result of the absence of the cooks.

BITE OF STRANGE INSECT MAY CAUSE WOMAN'S DEATH.

It is feared that the sting from some unknown insect may cause the death of Mrs. James Redding, an elderly woman, living at 1311 Van Buren street. Erysipelas set in immediately following the bite and has caused her head to swell to twice its normal size. Grave fears are entertained that the spread of poison cannot be stopped because of Mrs. Redding's advanced age, eighty-one years. Dr. Theodore Jennings has the case in charge. So badly is Mrs. Redding's face swollen that it is necessary to give her nourishment through a glass tube.

Joseph Werne With Southern.

Joseph Werne, who has been commercial agent of the Blue Ridge Dispatch Fast Freight Line, has been appointed soliciting agent for the Southern Railway Company, with headquarters in Louisville. He will assume the duties of his new position next Monday. The office of soliciting agent for the Southern railway has been vacant for several months, occasioned by the transfer of Paul Escott to the tariff department, with headquarters in Atlanta.

Attended Rockwell Funeral.

William H. Newman and E. H. Bacon, of the Monon railroad, and Charles L. Stone, of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, returned yesterday morning from Terre Haute, Ind., where they had been to attend the funeral of Charles Rockwell, who for many years was traffic manager of the Monon railroad.

MISREPRESENTED

Charge Banker Makes Against W. L. Pfaffinger.

SAYS HE OBTAINED MONEY ON FALSE PRETENSES.

BANKRUPT PACKER ARRESTED AND RELEASED ON BOND.

MORE THAN $15,000 INVOLVED

Charged with obtaining $15,750 from the Louisville National Banking Company under false pretenses, W. L. Pfaffinger, a bankrupt, formerly in the meat packing business at 922 East Market street, was arrested yesterday morning on a warrant issued on an affidavit of Theodore Harris, president of the banking company. Pfaffinger was notified of the warrant against him by his attorney, J. D. Conkling, and went to the attorney's office, where he gave himself up to Detectives Sexton and Brown. Shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Pfaffinger was released on bond of $3,500 furnished by Nathan Marx, of 160 East Main street.

Mr. Pfaffinger refused to discuss the charges against him, giving as his reason that it was in accord with the advice of his attorney. His attorney would say nothing.

* * *

Misrepresentations Alleged.

In the affidavit of Mr. Harris it is stated that on March 24, 1903, Mr. Pfaffinger went to the bank seeking a loan and that he gave his liabilities as $10,200 and his assets as $59,874. The bank arranged to furnish loans and on several occasions advanced money to Pfaffinger. The affidavit states further that at the time he negotiated his first loan from the Louisville National Banking Company he owed the German Insurance Bank $34,500; bills payable $8,000, and his mother $25,000.

The affidavit sets forth that from time to time money on notes was advanced to Pfaffinger, the notes being signed Pfaffinger & Company. In all $15,750 was furnished to Pfaffinger & Company. The affidavit states that W. L. Pfaffinger is the only member of the firm.

First Note In 1903.

The affidavit says that the first note, indorsed also by Margaret Pfaffinger, mother of W. L. Pfaffinger, was made March 28, 1903, and that other notes were made out from time to time as follows:

April 4, 1903	$2,500
August 7, 1905	3,000
April 6, 1904	5,000
October 21, 1904	3,000
January 24, 1905	2,500
September 16, 1905	3,000
November 21, 1905	1,000
April 6, 1906	2,000
May 20, 1906	3,000

When first arrested yesterday Bond Commissioner J. Hunter Ross fixed the bond at $15,000, but later on order of Police Judge Chatterson the bond was reduced to $3,500.

German Bank Sues Mother.

The German Insurance Bank yesterday filed suit against Margaret Pfaffinger, mother of W. L. Pfaffinger, for $23,612.67, alleged to be due the plaintiff upon promissory notes aggregating that sum. Each note, the petition says, was also signed by W. L. Pfaffinger, but as he has been declared a bankrupt in the United States Court he is not made a defendant. The various notes and the dates of their execution are as follows: $3,500, August 23, 1906, four months; $3,000, September 26, 1906, sixty days; $1,000, September 29, 1906, sixty days; $4,000, October 2, 1906, sixty days; $5,000, October 11, 1906, sixty days; $4,500, October 25, 1906, sixty days; $2,500, November 9, 1906, sixty days.

James R. Duffin, attorney for the plaintiff, stated yesterday that the German Insurance Bank would take no steps in criminal prosecution against Mr. Pfaffinger.

Plaintiff Also Sues Mother.

On Saturday the Louisville National Banking Company sued Mrs. Pfaffinger on notes aggregating $15,792.62. The different sums and their dates of execution are as follows: $2,000, July 16, 1906, four months; $2,000, August 2, 1906, four months; $1,000, August 23, 1906, four months; $2,000, September 20, 1906, sixty days; $4,000, October 19, 1906, ninety days; $1,000, October 29, 1906, thirty days; $3,500, November 9, 1906, sixty days. Certain sums of interest are also asked. In each instance the paper is alleged to have been signed by both the Pfaffingers. W. M. Smith represents the Louisville National Banking Company.

SCALY ERUPTIONS COVERED HIS BODY

Itched Constantly—Scratched Until Blood Flowed—Suffered 10 Years—Doctors and Medicines Were Fruitless—Tries Cuticura and Is Completely Cured

BY THREE BOXES OF CUTICURA OINTMENT

"When I was about nine years old small sores appeared on each of my lower limbs. I scratched them with a brass pin and shortly afterwards both of those limbs became so sore that I could scarcely walk. When I had been suffering for about a month the sores began to heal, but small scaly eruptions appeared where the sores had been. From that time onward I was troubled by such severe itching that, until I became accustomed to it, I would scratch the sores until the blood began to flow. This would stop the itching for a few days; but scaly places would appear again and the itching would accompany them. After I suffered about ten years I made a renewed effort to effect a cure. The eruptions by this time had appeared on every part of my body except my face and hands. The best doctor in my native county advised me to use arsenic in small doses and a salve. I then used to bathe the sores in a mixture which gave almost intolerable pain. In addition I used other remedies, such as iodine, sulphur, zinc salve, ——'s Salve, —— Ointment, and in fact I was continually giving some remedy a fair trial, never using less than one or two boxes or bottles. All this was fruitless. Finally my hair began to fall out and I was rapidly becoming bald. I used ——'s ——, but it did no good. A few months after, having used almost everything else, I thought I would try Cuticura Ointment, having previously used Cuticura Soap and being pleased with it. After using three boxes I was completely cured, and my hair was restored, after fourteen years of suffering and an expenditure of at least $50 to $60 in vainly endeavoring to find a cure. I shall be glad to write to any one who may be interested in my cure. B. Hiram Mattingly, Vermillion, S. Dak., Aug. 18, 1906."

DAMAGE SUIT FILED BY GUS W. RICHARDSON

Against Brother-in-law, A. J. Thompson—He Asks For $15,000 For Alleged Slander.

Brandenburg, Ky., July 9.—[Special.]—A suit was filed here to-day for $15,000 damages for alleged slander against A. J. Thompson, member of the Legislature from this county and candidate for renomination in the Democratic primary to be held next month. The plaintiff is Thompson's brother-in-law, Gus W. Richardson, himself a candidate for the nomination for Representative.

Richardson announced for the nomination last week. He charges in the petition that in the presence of D. R. Shacklett, Forest Stith and others, the defendant spoke falsely and maliciously of him, saying in substance: "Gus W. Richardson, while I was sick with typhoid fever, forged my name to a note to the Hardinsburg Bank for $300, and I had to pay it to keep him out of the penitentiary."

Richardson, former State Senator and at one time a candidate for the nomination for State Treasurer, is well known among Democrats all over the State. He married a sister of Thompson. Both of them live at Guston.

There are two other candidates for the nomination for Representative, Frank Withers, of Muldraugh, and Clarence Gray, of Sirocco. The primary is to be held August 17.

PYTHIANS BUSY WITH THEIR PICNIC.

In every way possible Clay Lodge, Knights of Pythias, is boosting its picnic for the Home of the Innocents at Fontaine Ferry Park on July 20. A large fund is already in the treasury and it is hoped that by the time the gates close that night there will be fully $3,000 for the homeless waifs. The Pythians feel that they could not have engaged in a more worthy charity outside of their own ranks than the one they have selected. It appeals to every one, they say, and scarcely anyone refuses when approached to donate something.

Rural Mail Carriers Wanted.

For the purpose of securing eligibles for the position of rural mail carriers, an examination will be conducted at the Customhouse on August 3. This examination was to have been held on July 6, but no one presented himself to take it. Any person in Jefferson county is eligible to fill a vacancy on any of the twenty-four rural routes in the county, provided he passes the examination. It will not be a hard one, it is said. The maximum salary attached to the position is $900 a year. On August 1 a new rural route, running out of Station G, Parkland, southwest, will be established.

Married In Jeffersonville.

Allen Hollis and Miss Mildred A. McCord, of Louisville, were married in Jeffersonville late Monday night by Magistrate James S. Keigwin. The groom is employed in a distillery, and is a native of Jefferson county. The bride is a daughter of Charles McCord, a Louisville carpenter, and was born in Chester county.
